Decisive Defeat for Roosevelt Seen.

Tests of Popularity

Popularity of President Roosevelt as a presidential candidate will be tested in nine states this week, in three of which there are primary elections. Six others will have Democratic conventions. Strength of Republican presidential aspirants will be tested in three primaries and three conventions. Details on page 9.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 10.—[Special.]—A feeling of confidence that President Roosevelt, despite the vast power and enormous public funds at his command, can be decisively defeated next November is visibly welling up and pervading the ranks of the Republicans.

As the case against the New Deal becomes more clearly defined an eagerness for the battle has laid strong hold on party leaders. Even more tangible encouragement has accrued from indications of the votes in sight to retrieve the party fortunes from the disasters of 1932 and 1934.

The Democratic primary in Maryland disclosed that in such conservative constituencies as many as 16 per cent of the Democrats are opposed to the continuation of Mr. Roosevelt in the presidency.

Wet Republicans Return.

Local elections in the eastern half of the country have indicated that a large percentage of the wet Republicans who supported Mr. Roosevelt in 1932 because of his stand for prohibition repeal are now voting Republican again.

The revolt of the conservative Democrats against the New Deal and the return of the wet Republicans to the fold are two factors that alone will spell the defeat of Mr. Roosevelt, according to the calculations of the Republican high command.

Party morale was further enhanced by the inspiration emanating from the radio interview given last week by Gov. Alf Landon of Kansas, leading candidate for the Republican nomination for President. His utterance made a palpably favorable impression. It outlined a clear cut line of attack upon the New Deal and it tended to dispel the more important grounds of Democratic attack upon him, if Landon becomes the Republican nominee.

Landon's Attack Applauded.

Gov. Landon scored numerous hits on the New Deal that Republican leaders applauded as sound doctrin. He said that government should serve the people "without wasting their substances or endangering their future." He said the Republican party "distinguished between progress and mere change." He deplored the betrayal of our high national ideals by "wasteful, slipshod, incompetent, happy-go-lucky administration." He thought "progressive government deserves something better than casual experiments." The Roosevelt administration, he added, "has made the worst record ever made in the history of the United States in bringing this country out of a depression."

The governor laid the ghost of his prohibition record, which the Democratic press agents are stressing, by declaring that he accepts the national verdict for repeal. The charge that he is the candidate of the oil barons he met by showing that all his life as an independent oil operator he has fought the oil barons.

Yields Nothing to Borah.

He yielded no whit to Senator Borah in challenging monopoly, asserting that "we have got to attack the evils of monopoly frankly and esolutely and require the government to keep a fair competitive system in force at all times."

Referring to the manner in which the Roosevelt administration, according to some of the New Dealers themselves, have intimidated persons on relief to vote the Democratic ticket Gov. Landon proclaimed himself "dedicated to the proposition that henceforth no American citizen shall ever again be put in the position where he must sell his vote for bread."

While Democratic National Chairman James A. Farley was predicting the reëlection of President Roosevelt

FIND BIG FIRMS WOULD ESCAPE UNDER NEW TAX

Senator Byrd Cites Bill's Injustices.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 10.—[Special.]—Senator Harry F. Byrd [Dem., Va.] advised Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau Jr., in a letter today, that 11 of the largest corporations in the United States would pay no taxes and 29 others would pay much less than they now pay if President Roosevelt's corporate tax reform bill were enacted into law.

It has been the contention of the nine Democratic senators on the finance committee who are opposed to the principle of the Roosevelt-Tugwell undistributed earnings tax that it would crush small, new, and debt burdened corporations while entrenching monopolies. They have cited the inconsistency of this philosophy and the New Deal's claim of looking out for the little fellow, but Senator Byrd was the first to show statistically what the effects of the revolutionary tax bill would be.

Gives Figures for 1934.

Senator Byrd, using figures for 1934, the latest at his disposal, listed the following corporations which now pay a 15 per cent tax and which would pay no tax if the existing corporation tax laws were repealed and they distributed their earnings as they did in that year:

Amer. T. & T....	$121,748,729	$107,960,475
Amer. Tob. Co...	24,084,280	26,590,859
Amer. Sm. & R..	7,583,202	7,875,000
Gen. Elec. Co....	19,726,044	19,881,453
Goodyear T. & R.	4,287,694	4,508,007
International Har.	3,946,637	8,264,040
National Bis. Co..	11,577,578	19,939,342
Natl. Dairy Prod.	6,551,930	8,197,573
Ohio Oil Co......	5,411,924	6,294,728
R. J. Reynolds T.	21,536,894	30,000,000
Texas Co.........	5,545,205	9,348,820

These huge corporations would pay no tax because the pending bill repeals existing corporation taxes and provides for a levy on undistributed earnings, graduated according to the amount distributed and reaching a maximum of 42½ per cent of the total net income. If all earnings were distributed, or more so, as in the case of the aforementioned companies, no taxes would be paid.

Senator Byrd asked Secretary Morgenthau to confirm or deny the accuracy of the figures he submitted and also to give him the figures for 1935, which he said were not available to him. Also he asked that the secretary produce the names of all corporations which, at the latest year for which statistics are available, had a net income, before federal taxes, of more than $1,000,000, and, based upon the actual distributions for the year, would receive a tax reduction of 50 per cent or more under the pending bill.

Purpose Set Forth.

"You will appreciate that the fundamental purpose of my inquiry involves not only competitive advantages to the strong corporations, but

A Lost Purse Is Center of Beach Drama

George Carlson, 7005 Ridge avenue, a real estate man, and his wife were walking along the beach at Thorndale avenue yesterday afternoon when they saw a woman's purse lying on the sand. There seemed to be no one in the immediate vicinity to whom the purse might belong.

The Carlsons decided not to act impetuously and risk the possible embarrassment of having to face the owner with the purse in their hands, so they watched it. Soon another couple came along, took a look at the Carlsons and the purse, grasped the situation and sat down to join in the watchful waiting.

A Motionless Gold Rush.

A half dozen bathers came out of the lake and completed the circle around the purse. Other strollers, including several small boys, entered into the spirit of the thing. After a quarter of an hour the group had swelled to about thirty people.

They all sat there, nobody making a move. Finally one of the boys stepped forward as if to pick up the purse. Carlson glared at him and the youth retreated. Not a word was said during all this waiting until Carlson announced he was going to get a policeman.

The Law Is Dragged In.

Leaving his wife to protect his equity, Carlson went to the Summerdale police station and explained the situation to Desk Sergeant Frank Tlamsa, who sent Sergt. August Ptack back to the beach with Carlson.

The purse still reposed in the center of the waiting crowd. Some one had mentioned dividing its contents on a share alike basis, but Mrs. Carlson opposed the plan.

Sergt. Ptack didn't hesitate. He stalked through the murmuring group, picked up the purse, and queried in a loud voice:

"Who owns this?"

There was no answer. He cupped his hands to his mouth for a megaphonic effect and yelled his question again.

A New Development.

About twenty yards down the beach Mrs. Louise Bowden, 5959 Kenmore avenue, and her son Richard, 6 years old, were playing with a beach ball. Mrs. Bowden heard the call and she walked up to Sergt. Ptack.

"What are you doing with my purse?" she asked.

The waiting group stared at her sheepishly.

Mrs. Bowden proved herself the owner by listing the contents of the purse, a small camera and three dollars in change, which the sergeant verified.

Mrs. Bowden took her purse and the crowd departed.

SHIFTING POPULATION REDUCES CENSUS OF 10 STATES IN 5 YEARS

Washington, D. C., May 10.—(AP)—Population shifts that left ten states with fewer residents in 1935 than in 1930, despite a gain of nearly 5,000,000 for the nation as a whole, were reported today by the census bureau.

The total population for the United States in 1935 was estimated at 127,521,000 several months ago. Today's figures broke the total down for the 48 states and the District of Columbia.

The ten states which registered actual decreases were: Michigan, Wisconsin, South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Mississippi, Montana, New Mexico, Arizona, and California.

New York is still the most populous state, with 12,889,000, while Pennsylvania continues to rank second, with 10,066,000.

With her two small brothers looking on, Neona Hickey, 5 years old, rode her tricycle yesterday into the path of a North Shore train at a point 100 yards south of the Gage street station in Winnetka. She was struck by the first car and fatally injured.

The child was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew J. Hickey Jr., 921 Private road, Winnetka. Mr. Hickey is a partner in the investment brokerage firm of Hickey, Doyle & Co., 39 South La Salle street.

With her brothers, Matthew III., 9 years old, and Thomas, 7 years old, Neoma had been playing on a footpath on the west side of the tracks, which are at street level. She was riding in a southeasterly direction toward the tracks when the south bound train left the Gage street stop. Shrubbery between the tracks and the lawn through which the path passes obscured the vision of the motorman, Frank Gibson, and the little girl pedaled onto the tracks just before the train arrived.

A passing motorist took Neona to the Evanston hospital, where four physicians strove in vain to save her life. Her parents were departing for home after a visit in New York when notified of the tragedy.

Fatally Hurt by Train When He Falls on "L" Tracks

Dominic Giomette, 53 years old, 9556 South Chicago avenue, fell from the Schiller street elevated platform in front of a southbound train early this morning. Although the front trucks of the first car passed over him, it appeared at first he was only slightly injured. However, at Augustana hospital he died a few hours later from internal injuries.

Save Nickels; You May Need 'Em in a Pinch

John T. Patterson, 16 years old, 427 North Ridgeland avenue, Oak Park, was arrested in Melrose Park last night for driving an automobile with 1935 license plates. With John was a friend, Robert Stern, 16 years old, 431 North Elmwood avenue, Oak Park.

When the police informed John that he would have to furnish $10 cash bond or remain locked up for the night he remarked that he'd rather stay in than disturb his father and brave family discipline. And so saying, he looked appealingly at Robert.

Chum Rushes to Rescue.

"You," said the prisoner, "could save me. You and your nickels."

Puts Up 200 Nickels.

Returning to the Melrose Park station he counted out 200 of the coins and ransomed his friend from the law. Police Magistrate Louis Senese Jr. promised to return the nickels, many of which have a collectors' value above their intrinsic worth, to Robert today provided that John appears for trial.

SCADDING, MINE CAVE-IN VICTIM, TO LOSE HIS TOES

HALIFAX, Nova Scotia, May 11.—(AP)—Charles Alfred Scadding, mine timekeeper entombed for ten days in the Moose River gold mine, learned today he probably would lose all his toes.

Scadding, suffering from trench feet as a result of his long exposure in the damp underground cavern, considered himself lucky, however, "to be alive."

For days after the rescue there had been fears that his feet would have to be amputated, but Dr. H. K. MacDonald, his constant attendant, has succeeded in restoring circulation to a point where that danger is passed.

The toes have turned black, however, and doctors said there is no hope of saving them.

Round Up 50 in Y. W. C. A. Murder Hunt

Fifty men, casuals loitering in Grant Park, were rounded up yesterday by the police in their painstaking investigation of the murder of Mrs. Lillian Guild, 50 years old, manager of two gift shops in the Stevens hotel.

The body of Mrs. Guild, who had apparently been raped before she was beaten to death, was discovered in her room at the Y. W. C. A. hotel, 830 South Michigan avenue, at 10 a. m. Saturday.

The roundup was made on orders of Capt. John Prendergast, chief of the uniformed police.

Lays Crime to Moron.

"In my opinion," said Capt. Prendergast, "the killer went to Mrs. Guild's room with the intention of attacking any woman he might find there. It is logical to believe that the man we are seeking knew that only women patronized the hotel. Probably he was a moron, familiar with the outside of the building."

Early yesterday the police picked up Ray Furr, 22 years old, of the Y. M. C. A. hotel, 826 South Wabash avenue. In his room were found a bloodstained shirt and a bloodstained handkerchief.

Furr explained, and his story was corroborated by Maxwell Hess, 23 years old, a music student who also resides in the hotel, that he had injured his hand by striking it against a building.

Although the police admitted there was no convincing evidence against Furr, who is a linotype operator, they had held him and Hess for further quizzing.

Search in Thorough Manner.

Lieut. Otto Erlanson, chief of the homicide bureau, said that the investigation was proceeding systematically and he was not committed to any theory. He and his men were engaged yesterday in taking written statements from every resident and employé of the Y. W. C. A. hotel in the hope that some clew to the identity of the slayer might be found.

Chief of Detectives John L. Sullivan, who also was active in the investigation, said he was inclined to believe that the slayer was a burglar who had climbed into the window of Mrs. Guild's room from a fire escape, and that he struck the woman with a brick bat to prevent her screams arousing others in the hotel.

In part his theory was based on a report of Dr. Jerry J. Kearns, coroner's physician, who stated there was insufficient evidence to establish legally that Mrs. Guild had been raped. Her skull had been fractured, her teeth knocked out, and the chest wall caved in. It was inferred that the killer was frightened to frenzy.

Guess at Time of Intrusion.

Dr. Kearns surmised, from the condition of the body, that the killing took place at about 1 a. m. Saturday. Mrs. Guild entered the hotel at about 12:30 a. m. A kimono on the body when it was found was taken to indicate that the intruder entered the room before Mrs. Guild retired.

Aside from the questioning of the hotel residents and the casuals in custody, the investigators placed most of their hope in the examination of the physical evidence at the scene of the crime. In the left hand of Mrs. Guild were clutched a few hairs of a brownish hue streaked with gray. On an electric iron in the room were finger prints, while on the bed was a lamp cord twenty feet long.

The hair may be that of the victim; so far this point has not been cleared up. The finger prints on the iron, it was said, are not those of Mrs. Guild, or those of Nicholaus Franzen, 49 years old, employé of the hotel.

Slight Suspicion About Employé.

Franzen, who has maintained his innocence, was still in custody last night, though the investigators did not consider him a likely suspect.

The inquest into the death of Mrs. Guild, a widow, who was formerly a resident of Attleboro, Mass., will be started today if her relatives arrive from that city. A sister, Mrs. Blanche Bloom, is interested in the gift shop enterprises, and a son, Sherman Guild, is an intern in the state hospital in Taunton, Mass.

[Copyright: 1936: By the New York Times.]

ROME, May 10.—A broken bone in one of her toes has prevented Queen Elena from participating in the celebrations attending the Italian annexation of Ethiopia, by which she becomes an empress, it was learned today. The queen is in bed with her right foot in a plaster cast as a result of a slight accident suffered a few days ago. She fell off a ladder in her library as she was reaching for a book.

GENEVA, May 10.—(AP)—A belief that sanctions would be continued despite Italy's annexation of Ethiopia was general tonight on the eve of a crucial session of the league of nations council.

Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and his British colleagues remained coldly noncommittal. There seemed to be no crusading spirit manifested, in contrast to last fall when the "war of aggression" began.

Smaller States Alarmed.

Smaller states of Europe, however, were plainly alarmed over the possible repercussions of Premier Mussolini's seizure of a league state. They expressed loyalty to the league but are waiting for France and Britain to take the leadership in the present crisis and to save the league, to which they cling because they themselves have no mighty fleets or armies.

A move took form among some smaller powers to have a resolution adopted by the council declaring there will be no recognition of territories acquired by force. Sweden was reported so indignant over Italy's defiance of the league that it favored expelling Italy from membership.

An impression prevailed, however, that neither the Italo-Ethiopian nor the Locarno problems would have a detailed examination at this session of the council. It was expected to adjorn Wednesday or Thursday to meet again in the latter part of June.

"Neutral" Powers Meet.

Representatives of seven "neutral" powers agreed at a conference that efforts of the league to safeguard peace must continue at all costs, regardless of the outcome of the Italo-Ethiopian struggle.

They avoided specific discussion of Mussolini's annexation of Ethiopia. They did, however, earnestly examine flaws in the league's peace machinery and discussed the necessity of revising it so as to make it workable under present world conditions.

Represented at the meeting were Norway, Sweden, Denmark, the Netherlands, Finland, Spain, and Switzerland. These nations were neutral in the world war.

Study Sanctions Clause.

Article XVI., the punitive article of the league covenant which obligates all members to join in sanctions against any nation resorting to a war of aggression, was given particular scrutiny.

Some of the neutral statesmen felt that article XVI. is proving more effective at dragging neutrals into conflict than at rescuing the victim of aggression—a tendency likely to prove extremely dangerous for neutrals in a European conflict.

Article XIX., which provides for revision of treaties, also was discussed. A strengthening of this article, it was felt, might make the league more effective in forestalling future conflicts.

Await Big Powers' Stand.

No definite program on league reform was agreed on, however, the neutrals preferring to wait and ascertain the views of the big powers.

Geneva was stirred by a report denied by the Italian spokesman—that Italy would seek a way out by giving Ethiopia a status similar to that of India and that Ethiopia would continue her league membership, under the protection of the king of Italy.

A feature of this report was that Italy would put forward a substitute

Ethiopian delegate to Geneva, handpicked by Rome.

[Copyright: 1936: By the New York Times.]

GENEVA, May 10.—Premier Benito Mussolini's annexation of Ethiopia as the foundation for the empire of Italy and the decree giving King Victor Emmanuel of Italy the title of emperor of Ethiopia has raised here a new angle in the nonrecognition problem.

Diplomats are accredited by the chief of a state to the chief of a state. Those of Italy hitherto have been accredited by the king and those sent to Rome have been accredited to the king of Italy.

Since the now king claims to be emperor of Ethiopia the question is asked: "Can other countries receive his ambassadors, or can they accredit theirs to him as emperor of Ethiopia without thereby recognizing the Italian conquest of Ethiopia. Does Premier Mussolini seek thus to trick others into committing themselves as recognizing the Italian conquest of Ethiopia? If a policy of nonrecognition is adopted may it not lead at this time, therefore, to severance of diplomatic relations with Italy?

Opinions Are Divided.

There is as yet no competent legal opinion on these points and the opinions of the few who have thought of them is divided. Some point out that in the past monarchs often have claimed titles that others did not recognize without affecting diplomatic relations. The king of England long claimed the title of king of France. Others say, however, that this is all ancient history and that there is no real precedent for the present recognition problem.

They find it applies especially, if anywhere, to the United States and Latin American countries, since these are bound by an agreement that does not recognize conquest and, therefore, their continuance of diplomatic relations with an Italian as sovereign of Ethiopia might violate this treaty.

Recall Poland's Partition.

The exceptional character of the situation is accentuated by the fact that, so far as can be recalled, there is no case of a state generally recognized as a sovereign state being completely wiped out by annexation since the final partition of Poland. Morocco is a protectorate, and Algiers, which France annexed, was part of the Turkish empire.

Col. Josef Beck, Polish foreign minister, is supposed to be lukewarm on sanctions, but it is believed here he must hesitate to recognize any Italian right as a precedent against which Polish patriotism has protested for 200 years.

TELLS OF THRILLS IN ADDIS ABABA DURING RIOTING

DJIBOUTI, French Somaliland, May 10.—(AP)—The thrilling experiences of John Dored, Paramount News-Associated Press photographer who stuck to his job in Addis Ababa while the city was looted and burned, were related today when he and his wife arrived here.

"I sent my wife to the British legation when the looting began," Dored said. "Then I hired twelve former bodyguards of the emperor as a crew for my light truck.

"We drove about the city photographing the looting and shooting, repulsing numerous attacks and returning the attackers' fire. Toward evening the town became so mad all at once that we had to dash outside the city, taking pictures all night of the capital in flames.

"The next day we fought the attackers again and had to use machine guns and rifles, losing four men in that engagement. We photographed the arrival of the Italian soldiers and also Armenians and Greeks, who came up out of holes in the ground, throwing their hats into the air, as the troops marched in."

RETURN FUGITIVE HUSBAND.

Fritz Foite, 42 years old, a farmer of Marseilles, La Salle county, arrested here Saturday with his daughter, Beverly, 5 years old, for deserting his wife, Emma, and her four children by a previous marriage, was returned to Marseilles yesterday by police.

RAIN AND POISON GAS BROKE OUR MORALE: HAILE

Exiled King Tells Why He Fled His Empire.

BY ALEX SMALL.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

JERUSALEM, May 10.—"Rain and poison gas broke our morale." This is former Emperor Haile Selassie's version of the rout of the Ethiopian army by the Italians in the closing days of the war. He gave the explanation in a written statement issued at a tea party for newspaper men today. He also admitted that tracts dropped from Italian airplanes over Addis Ababa with the threat to annihilate the capital hastened his decision to flee the African empire.

"Our presence in Addis Ababa or any other place in Ethiopian territory," Haile Selassie's statement said, "constituted a real menace, not only to ourselves or our population but also to the numerous foreigners in Addis Ababa, which the bombing of the open town of Harrar already proved.

"We should have stayed in Ethiopia if that could have served the interests of our people, but neither our death nor our imprisonment would have attained that end. Upon consulting our nobles, it was agreed that we could best serve the interests of our people by going abroad so that we might freely pursue our efforts to safeguard the independence of Ethiopia."

Presents Tragic Figure.

The former emperor received fourteen correspondents in the King David hotel. They passed through a line of guards into a reception room. Haile Selassie sat behind a little table. He presented a tragic figure.

He was dressed in white trousers and shoes, with a white satin chamma draped over his chest. His lips opened occasionally in an involuntary grimace of suffering. His features were drawn with pain.

The former "king of kings" rose at 4 o'clock this morning as was his habit in Ethiopia and attended church with his family. Then he walked about the gardens of the hotel accompanied by a police inspector.

Later he was visited by the personal physician of Sir Arthur Grenfell Wauchope, British high commissioner for Palestine, who became alarmed over Haile Selassie's haggard appearance. It was reported the physician found the exiled monarch suffering from shock and nervous fatigue as a result of going practically without sleep for the last two months.

Negus Orders 20 Neckties.

In the afternoon the royal party began the process of getting Europeanized. Modistes brought a stock of hats for the women. Both Haile Selassie and the Empress Menen bought underwear. The ex-negus ordered twenty neckties, an article of apparel strange to him. Jewelry and gold experts also visited the hotel to appraise the royal gems.

"The emperor is broke, to use plain American language," Everett A. Colson, Haile Selassie's American financial adviser, said in an interview. He flatly contradicted a statement made yesterday by the former emperor's foreign minister that Selassie has about $15,000,000 deposited in European banks.

Used Up Credit Resources.

Colson said the royal refugee's last credit resources were used up in the war.

"I do not believe there is much real money in those 117 boxes now stored in Jerusalem," he continued. "I have an idea they contain the crown, some jewels, and vestments. At best the emperor will be able to live modestly because his jewels are not many and in my opinion are not of great value."

LEADERS OF GREEK WORKERS TRYING TO STAGE GENERAL STRIKE

ATHENS, May 10.—(AP)—Workers' leaders were reported tonight to be trying to stage a general strike tomorrow throughout Greece in protest against the killing of twenty-two tobacco strikers by troops at Saloniki yesterday. The government has forbidden public meetings.

Saloniki was quiet, but there was no traffic in army patrolled streets. Victims of the disorders were buried this morning. Thousands followed the funeral processions carrying black banners and flowers.

Railroad workers went back to their jobs after a twenty-four hour strike in sympathy with the tobacco workers. Four destroyers were ordered to Saloniki to assist soldiers in maintaining order.

ESCAPES CRASH; HURT IN FALL.

G. M. Bilbrey escaped unhurt when his car became unmanageable and crashed into an Oklahoma bridge, but he was seriously injured when he stepped from the car in the darkness and fell to the river bed below.

CROWD OF 3,000 CONVERGES ON PICKETED PLANT

Akron, O., May 10.—(AP)—A crowd of union members and sympathizers estimated by police at 3,000 to 4,000 suddenly converged late today on the Black & Decker Electric company plant at Kent, a suburb, where a strike is in progress.

Police Chief St. Clair West of Kent said about 500 automobiles bearing Akron rubber workers arrived without warning and rushed to the plant, making threats to "drag out" 14 non-strikers who have remained at work.

The 100 men and women pickets, who have been stationed at entrances of the plant for a week, dissuaded the sympathizers, police said.

William Crayfish, president of local No. 1203, International Association of Machinists, said the strikers would vote Monday on a company proposal for settlement. The plant employs about 400.

A strike was called by the union last Sunday night when demands for a 10 per cent wage increase were not granted.

ITALY SALUTES NEW EMPIRE AS CANNONS ROAR

ROME, May 10.—(AP)—A 101 gun salute roared in every garrison and city in Italy today, booming in a new empire.

As the window shaking salvos echoed literally millions of Italians gathered in their public squares to continue last night's demonstration and cheer a revival of the empire of the Cæsars.

The Rome crowd cheered before the royal Quirinal palace, but Emperor Victor Emmanuel did not appear. Morning newspapers carried headlines, in some instances eight inches tall, reporting the proclamation by Premier Mussolini last night annexing Ethiopia and conferring upon the king the title of emperor of Ethiopia.

Sober Thought Behind Cheers.

Behind the effervescent demonstrations, however, there was sober thought. "What will England and France do about it?" asked many of the demonstrators.

Unofficial news that France has made the fullest reservations to Italy's annexation of Ethiopia created a certain impresson, but well informed circles said Italy's attitude at tomorrow's meeting of the league of nations council at Geneva would be a frigid one.

An empire has been created and its emperor named, they said, and these are accomplished facts which admit no change. The league has no jurisdiction any longer and must keep "hands off," Fascists argued.

Not Swerved by Sanctions.

They assert that a continuance of sanctions will not change Italy's attitude, but will simply increase her irritation and postpone the time when she can resume collaboration in solving Europe's problems.

Continuance of sanctions after the accomplished fact of establishing an empire would be regarded by Italy as an attempt to take revenge on her because of her successes.

Dispatches from Ethiopia said a dramatic event had taken place—a junction of Italy's northern and southern armies for the first time since the war began a little more than seven months ago.

The event climaxed a drive of nearly 1,000 miles through tortuous mountain and desert terrain.

Meet at Diredawa.

The two armies came together at Diredawa when a battalion of the "foreign legion" of the southern army marched into the final objective simultaneously with a column of infantry of the army of Marshal Pietro Badoglio. Badoglio yesterday was named viceroy of Ethiopia.

A Stefani [Italian] News agency dispatch said:

"Yesterday the 46th battalion of infantry arrived at Diredawa from Addis Ababa and was received with military honors by a battalion of Marshal Rodolfo Graziani's foreign legion. In this way the troops of the northern and southern fronts met."

Informed observers here pointed out that the occupation of Diredawa, Harrar, and Addis Ababa gave the Italians firm control of the railroad from Addis Ababa to the border of French Somaliland and possession of the three first cities of Ethiopia.

Restore Order in Harrar.

Stefani said Italian troops had brought order to Harrar and were busy returning the city to its normal life. The town had experienced rioting similar to that in Addis Ababa.

Other dispatches from Addis Ababa said four bus lines had been installed there and that the first train with provisions was due today. Italians intend to install their littorine [gasoline motored, streamlined railroad coaches] on the Djibouti-Addis Ababa line, cutting the time of travel in half.

Set Riot Dead at 800.

ADDIS ABABA, May 10.—(AP)—As the search in the ruins of this devastated city widened today unofficial estimates placed the death toll in the rioting and looting which followed Emperor Haile Selassie's flight at more than 800.

A great derth of carpenters in the Italian army prevented a start on rebuilding the city.

The exodus of Fascists from the conquered land already had started. Both of Premier Mussolini's sons, Bruno and Vittorio, and Count Galeazzo Ciano, Il Duce's son-in-law, were preparing to leave by plane for Massau, Eritrea, from where they will take a boat to Rome.

Both Vittorio, 19, and Bruno, 17, were awarded medals for their achievements as officers in the air force. Count Ciano also was given a silver medal for work as commander of the "Desperate" squadron of flyers.

Anxious to Return Home.

Many officers are making attempts to assure their early return to Italy, now that the fighting is apparently over.

The departure of diplomats is expected soon, as representatives of foreign governments have been informed they no longer have official positions, inasmuch as Italy claims Ethiopia no longer exists as a separate state. Members of the Swedish legation were preparing to leave this week.

France Frowns at Annexation.

PARIS, May 10.—(AP)—The foreign office issued a semi-official statement today announcing French "reserves" regarding Italy's annexation of Ethiopia.

"Reports last night from Rome announced that the Italian government annexed Ethiopia," the statement said. "The French government warned the Italian government in good time that it makes all reserves regarding that procedure."

Italians Pay Tribute to Garibaldi

Wreath at Statue

Nearly 5,000 Chicagoans of Italian descent took part in a parade and ceremonies yesterday paying tribute to the memory of Giuseppe Garibaldi, Italian national hero, in Lincoln park. Similar ceremonies were held in Italian communities throughout the world. The parade started at North avenue and Clark street and ended at the Plaza Garibaldi in Lincoln Park. A wreath was placed at the foot of Garibaldi's statue in the plaza by Dr. Mario Carosi, Italian consul general here. The day is celebrated because on May 10, 1860, Garibaldi landed at Marsala, Sicily, marking the beginning of the unity of Italy.

ADMIRAL URGES NEW LOCKS FOR PANAMA CANAL

[Copyright: 1936: By the New York Times.]

BALBOA, Canal Zone, May 10.—The requirements of the United States navy call for increasing the capacity of the Panama canal by building a third set of locks, Admiral Joseph M. Reeves, commander of the fleet, said today on the flagship Pennsylvania.

The 40,000 officers and men of the fleet today began a week of shore leave after a twelve day sham battle beginning at San Diego, Cal.

Commenting on a proposal of President Roosevelt for a study of the canal's facilities, the admiral said larger locks were needed to handle the bigger vessels, particularly the aircraft carriers. These huge ships now have less than four feet of clearance between the lock walls, and locking them is a slow and difficult operation.

Admiral Reeves recalled the unexpected transit of the canal by the entire fleet at previous maneuvers and pointed out that such an operation could be accomplished much more swiftly and with greater safety with an additional set of locks. Referring to the next phase of the fleet's maneuvers, the details of which are secret, the commander indicated the entire fleet might cross the equator.

BREMEN, Germany, May 10.—(AP)—Five persons were sentenced to prison today for listening to a soviet broadcast of news about Germany from the Moscow radio station. They are two married couples and a friend. Each was given a term of one to two years. They were charged with "plotting treason."

MALONE DELAYS TRIP TO FACE TAX CASE UNTIL FALL

Can't Get $90,000 Out of Germany.

William H. Malone, former chairman of the Illinois state tax commission, who has been sought for two and a half years on a federal indictment charging a $59,579 income tax evasion, will not return from Germany before next October or November, according to word received here yesterday from Berlin. It was said that he may stay in that country until after the presidential election.

The former tax commissioner was in Germany at the time the indictments were returned. The offense is not extraditable.

Malone has said repeatedly in Berlin that he intends to return to face the charges as soon as he completed a settlement of a claim for $90,000 against Paul and Martin Polka, brothers, owners of a spa at Bad Kudowa, Germany.

Claim Reported Settled.

It was said yesterday that the claim has been settled by a part payment, with a mortgage for the remainder.

The claim was for a loan made to the Polkas when they operated the Pickwick motion picture theater in Park Ridge. Under the German law, however, Malone cannot take any of the money received in settlement out of the country except a small amount for traveling expenses.

It was explained that the drastic steps taken by Chancellor Hitler to protect the country's currency and gold reserves has made the former tax commissioner a well to do man in Germany but penniless in the United States.

Forbidden to Export Goods.

Under Hitler's restrictions Malone's friends say he is forbidden to buy German goods and bring them to this country for resale as a means of converting his holdings in that country into United States currency.

Malone, it was asserted, still has his apartment in Berlin, but spends most of his time at Bad Kudowa in the Silesian hills.

The former tax commissioner's friends were said to be continuing their plans to finance his defense when he returns to Chicago. Malone is understood to be confident of acquittal of the tax charge. After his difficulties with the government are disposed of here he is expected to return to Germany to live.

DROP SILENT 'P' AND 'U' AFTER 'Q'; SAVE PAPER, ITALIAN URGES

ROME, May 10.—(AP)—Such things as shearing the silent "p" off pneumonia, and making the lazy letter "q" do without an assistant have been recommended by G. Bernardi, Fascist grammarian, to force the Italian language into the national combat against sanctions.

Bernardi has asked Premier Mussolini and the Royal academy to adopt an alphabet of his own reorganization and then watch it pare imports of paper, lead, ink, and other writing and publishing accessories from 10 to 12 per cent. He would stick a figurative Black Shirt on the Italian "k," demote it from the ranks of little used letters and make it do its full day's work.

His 25 letter alphabet is:

A B C K D E F G H I J L M N O P Q R S T U V X Y Z.

"W," a useless gate crasher in the Italian language, would be consigned to the scrap heap and Fascists would continue to say "Vashington," as they invariably do, with pure conscience. No American could readily twist his tongue around some of the sounds which Bernardi would match in the above alphabet so there's no sense in trying to put them on paper in American.

Show How Corporations Might Pay No Levy.

the restraints of heavy taxes upon small and medium sized enterprises upon which we must depend so largely for reëmployment of labor, and for healthy business growth," Senator Byrd wrote.

"We must guard carefully against giving these large corporations a greater advantage and perhaps a strangle hold over their present smaller competitors. Frankly, I am concerned about the application of the proposed tax policies to those corporations which now have large surpluses and a strong cash position.

"We must make certain that legislation does not prevent the healthy growth and expansion of our smaller businesses by imposing a penalty upon them if their financial position and their business opportunities do not permit the payment in dividends of substantially all their profits. I want your assistance in appraising the situation."

Find Argument Sound.

The nine revolting Democratic member of the senate finance committee said they regarded Senator Byrd's argument and statistics as unanswerable and predicted that they would create no end of embarrassment for the administration when presented on the senate floor.

The finance committee, with only four Democratic members insisting upon the retention of the Roosevelt-Tugwell principle of taxing undistributed earnings, thereby allocating the flow of capital into and the regimentation of industry, will meet tomorrow in executive session to begin the task of rewriting the house bill.

With 14 of the 21 members on record as opposing the scheme, members predict that it will be drastically modified. It may be a different story, however, when the bill reaches the senate floor and the administration brings pressure to bear.

QUADRUPLETS HERE ON WAY TO VISIT QUINTS

Neff, former governor of Texas, and now president of Baylor university. Left to right: Leota, Mary, Mona, and Roberta. The Keys girls were en route to Callander, Ont., to visit the Dionne quintuplets there and invite them to visit the Texas Centennial exposition.

Vestibule Robber Slugs Girl, Steals $800 Rings

As Miss Blanche De Loach, 25 years old, stepped into the vestibule of her apartment building at 1607 North Kilbourne avenue, last night, a strange man held the door open for her. A moment later he struck her with his fist and overpowered her and pulled a $150 ring from her finger, first moistening it so the ring would slip off. The robber then emptied her purse, which contained $40 and another ring, valued at $650, and escaped.

Oklahoma's No. 1 Bandit Shot Down and Captured

Canadian, Tex., May 10.—(AP)—Pete Traxler, 28 years old, Oklahoma's No. 1 desperado, was captured today after being seriously wounded by a posse of Panhandle officers. Traxler is wanted for questioning in the slaying of two Oklahoma officers and in connection with a series of highway robberies.

St. Pierre Turns Down Chance for Home Rule

ST. PIERRE, Miquelon, May 10.—(AP)—St. Pierre's newly elected governing council of twelve refused tonight to choose a home rule president from their number. As a result the tiny French islands, one time rum running base, will continue to be governed by a colonial administrator.

CAPE TOWN, South Africa, May 10.—(AP)—Amy Johnson Mollison, who set a record last week for a solo flight from England to Cape Town, took off today returning to London.

480 MINNEAPOLIS FILLING STATIONS REMAIN CLOSED

Minneapolis, Minn., May 10.—(AP)—Minneapolis motorists got their gasoline when and as they wanted it today as disorders ceased in the station attendants' strike, which provoked seven arrests twelve hours earlier.

M. A. Clark, president of the Minneapolis Independent Gasoline Dealers' association, said more than 400 of the 840 stations in the city were doing business as usual.

These professed union affiliation, and strikers made no attempt to close them, Clark said.

The strikers were fighting privately owned stations, leased by operators from national and local companies. They charged corporations leased the stations as a means of circumventing minimum wage and hour agreements.

Visit to His Grandmother Denied, Boy, 9, Kills Self

Hopewell, Va., May 10.—(AP)—James Newbolts, 9 years old, shot and fatally wounded himself at his home in New Point City, a suburb, this afternoon when he was refused permission to visit his grandmother.

AMERICAN IS KIDNAPED AND RANSOMED FOR 2D TIME IN 8 YEARS

DURANGO, Mexico, May 10.—(AP)—Robert Edward Perie, 50 year old American banker, was kidnaped and ransomed this week for the second time, it was disclosed today.

Three men went to his farm near Vicente Guerrero, in the state of Durango, on Thursday, looting the house and carrying off Perie to hold him overnight until 1,500 pesos [about $416 in American money] was paid. Eight years ago Perie, who came to Mexico about 20 years ago from his native Ojai, Cal., was taken prisoner by an armed band and was held until ransomed.

Soldiers tonight were pursuing Perie's latest captors in the wild mountainous country of this region. The bandits came upon nim as he was rounding up cattle some distance from his house. They tied him up and took him into the mountains, holding him until the ransom was turned over by a mercantile firm at Vicente Guerrero.

Beat Summer's heat!

Electric ROOM COOLERS
See these self-contained air-conditioning units expressly designed for home and office

Now it's possible to cool your office, or a room in your home, without trouble, at reasonable cost. With these new, self-contained Room Coolers there is no problem of remodeling. Some are the water-cooled type which require a small extension pipe to a water connection. Others are air-cooled completely free of any water connections. Attach one of these units to a suitable electrical supply, flip the switch and enjoy the wealth of clean, cooled air that is circulated about you.

These compact, efficient air-conditioning units cool and dehumidify the air, removing the moisture that makes Summer heat so unbearable. Some filter the air, removing dust, dirt and hay fever-agitating pollen. They quietly circulate the air—replace warm, stale air with fresh, cooled air.

See these Room Coolers on display in our Air-Conditioning section in the downtown Electric Shops. There is a size and type to fit your requirements. Prices start at $395.50. Liberal terms are offered. You may make a small down payment and pay the balance monthly. Come in. See these Room Coolers that will mean so much in comfort to you. They help you beat the Summer's heat.

2 KILLED, 3 HURT WHEN AUTO AND TROLLEY COLLIDE

Car Skids Onto Tracks; Hurled Against Post.

Two persons were killed and another was injured seriously early last evening when the automobile in which they were riding collided head-on with a southbound Kedzie avenue car at 41st street.

STANLEY KARELIWICZ.

The dead are Stanley Kareliwicz, 33 years old, 7301 South Western avenue, and Miss Vera Kozewicz, 23 years old, 5736 South Artesian avenue. Julius Kozewicz, 26 years old, driver of the automobile, brother of Miss Kozewicz, was injured. He was taken to Holy Cross hospital.

Witnesses said Kozewicz was driving west and skidded on the wet pavement when he made a sharp turn north into Kedzie avenue. The force of the collision hurled his automobile against a light post. Two passengers on the surface car were injured, but not seriously. They are Mrs. Estelle Cook, 40 years old, 3557 Honore street, and Philip Leschman, 57 years old, 7602 Champlain avenue.

Woman's Car Kills Boy.

An inquest will be held today into the death of Richard Miller, 5 years old, 8357 Phillips avenue, who was fatally injured Saturday when he and another boy were struck by an automobile that got out of control of a woman who was learning to drive. Thomas Gerlich, 7 years old, 8347 Phillips avenue, the other boy, was in serious condition at the South Shore hospital.

Mrs. May Pederson, 35 years old, 8105 Muskegon avenue, was driving the car which plunged across the sidewalk into a vacant lot at 83d street and Yates avenue, striking the two boys. Mrs. Pederson was accompanied by Parke Groat, 30 years old, 7925 Exchange avenue, an automobile salesman who had taken her for a driving lesson.

Mrs. Pederson was held for the inquest. She was unable to account for the accident.

Boy Runs Into Car; Killed.

Roger Riechers, 8 years old, of Beecher, in Will county, died last night in St. James hospital, Chicago Heights, from injuries received earlier in the day when he ran into the side of an automobile near his home on Indiana street near the Dixie highway. The car was driven by Elmer Stozenback, 23 years old, a farm hand living near Beecher.

Ross Cordes, 22 years old, 3824 North Oak Park avenue, was killed yesterday when his automobile was sideswiped by a truck on state highway No. 2, nine miles south of Rockford. The truck was driven by Patrick Voelker of Waukegan. With two boy friends and three girls, Cordes was driving to Rockford. His companions were only slightly injured.

Nels J. Grundstrom, 75 years old, 6859 South Winchester avenue, died in his home of injuries incurred Jan. 10 when he was struck by an automobile at 36th place and California avenue.

Pedestrian Hit by Car Dies.

Patrick Cates, 77 years old, 2715 West 38th street, chief telegraph operator at the Glen yards of the Alton railroad, died yesterday in St. Luke's hospital of injuries suffered May 4 when he was struck by an automobile in Jackson boulevard near State street. J. Ernest Hansen Jr., 35 years old, 8244 Evans avenue, a musician, the driver, told police Cates walked into the side of his machine.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 354 persons had been killed in automobile accidents in Cook county since Jan. 1. In the same period 287 were killed and 5,510 injured in Chicago.

FALLS INTO RIVER WHILE FISHING AND IS DROWNED

While fishing for minnows with a net from the dock on the north side of the Chicago river at the Dearborn street bridge Sylvester Domehr, 45 years old, 23 West Grand avenue, fell into the water and drowned early last evening.

Joseph Litke, 23 West Grand avenue, and Harry Robin, 1616 Clybourn avenue, who were near by, succeeded in grasping Domehr's coat and holding him until coast guards arrived. A crowd of several hundred persons gathered on the bridge and watched firemen work vainly to revive the victim by artificial respiration.

DIES OF FALL ON APRIL 16.

Mrs. Anna Huber, 79 years old, 1920 West Otto street, died yesterday in the Evangelical Deaconess hospital from a hip fracture incurred in a fall in her home on April 16.

Fail to Identify Head of Man Found in Pond

Haverstraw, N. Y., May 10.—(AP)—After more than a week of investigation, state police and District Attorney George V. Dorsey of Rockland county said tonight they were "without a clew" to the identity of a man whose head was found floating in a nearby pool on May 2.

PUT IDLE MEN TO WORK, SOCIALIST PLAN FOR FRANCE

Leader Blum Pooh-Poohs Currency Fears.

BY EDMOND TAYLOR.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, May 10.—The Socialist government which will come into power June 1 will not give France a revolution but a New Deal within the framework of the present capitalistic system, Leon Blum, Socialist leader, declared today, before the National Council of the Socialist party.

The future premier's speech, which the whole country was awaiting as an indication of the policy the new government will follow, placed principal emphasis on the problem of unemployment.

"There are hundreds of thousands out of work," Blum said. "There are thousands working for starvation wages. We want to reopen the sources of wealth. We want to return prosperity. All this is possible within the framework of the present social régime, and it is within this framework that we are going to act. We want to restore the country's confidence in the efficacy of work and in that power of renewal with which France's history is filled."

From this it was assumed Blum has in mind for France something like the defunct American NRA and not the radical attack on the sources of wealth which communists propose.

Softens Currency Fears.

As might be expected, Blum indicated clearly that the economic New Deal planned by the Socialists would be accompanied by a thorough house cleaning in the upper reaches of the civil service, notably among the prefects or provincial governors. This announcement, foreshadowing a number of fat jobs for party comrades, was acclaimed enthusiastically by the council. Likewise, in the New Deal tradition a vast program of public works will be launched by the government, Blum said.

The financial crisis, which some fear may force the Socialists to take power before the chamber meets, was dismissed by Blum with the following words:

"I do not want to consider in too dramatic a light the financial and monetary crisis. These phenomena, however grave, are less grave than war, misery, and unemployment. Any government whatsoever would encounter the same difficulties."

The casualness of these words would seem to confirm the theory that the Socialists are not displeased at the idea that the franc may be forced off gold before they assume power.

Dicker With Reds.

The Socialists still are making efforts to obtain communist participation in the new government—an idea brought out in pratically every speech at the Socialist council. In response the Reds have proposed instead that the Socialists enter negotiations for a fusion of the two parties and help to set up "Popular Front committees" all over France which would be in effect local soviets.

One thing is clear, the Socialists are ready to form a government by themselves if they cannot get participation from their allies, the communists and Radical Socialists, and they are ready to take power any moment.

The council unanimously approved Blum's position, giving him virtually a free hand in running the country.

AUSTRIANS HOOT CHANCELLOR AS HE HEADS PARADE

Private Armies' Quarrels Grow Sharper.

VIENNA, May 10.—(AP)—Chancellor Kurt Schuschnigg marched for a mile through thronged Vienna streets today in a parade of the Freiheitbund—one of Austria's private armies with a strong anti-Semitic policy.

As he marched he heard derisive catcalls from groups among the spectators, including many members of Vice Chancellor Prince Ernst Ruediger von Starhemberg's Heimwehr [home guard].

Quarrel of Armies.

The demonstration was regarded as a sign of sharpened differences between the private armies, which refused to be dissolved. The parade was called as an anti-Jewish demonstration by Freiheit leaders, but it turned out to be more a manifestation of the Heimwehr's opposition to Catholic and democratic tendencies in Austria.

So great was the friction between the 20,000 paraders and spectators that several times a great force of police had to intervene to prevent informal free-for-alls. There were several fist fights and many arrests.

Shout for Dictator.

The Freiheitbund is composed largely of Catholics and democratically inclined workers.

In an address to it Chancellor Schuschnigg hinted none need fear that he or other democratic ministers would be obliged to resign under Fascist pressure.

From persons who approved came shouts of "Down with the Heimwehr and its Jewish financiers!"

Heimwehr partisans were equally vocal, shouting, "Down with democrats. We want Dictator Starhemberg!"

BOARD TO ACCEPT BIDS ON SCHOOL CONSTRUCTION

Bids will be received by the board of education tomorrow for construction of additions to the May school at 512 South La Vergne avenue and the Ryerson school at 646 North Lawndale avenue. The new wings, to cost a total of about $250,000, are the last projects under the board's $2,000,000 building program allotment granted by PWA last November. Work on seven new elementary buildings and six other additions is now in progress.

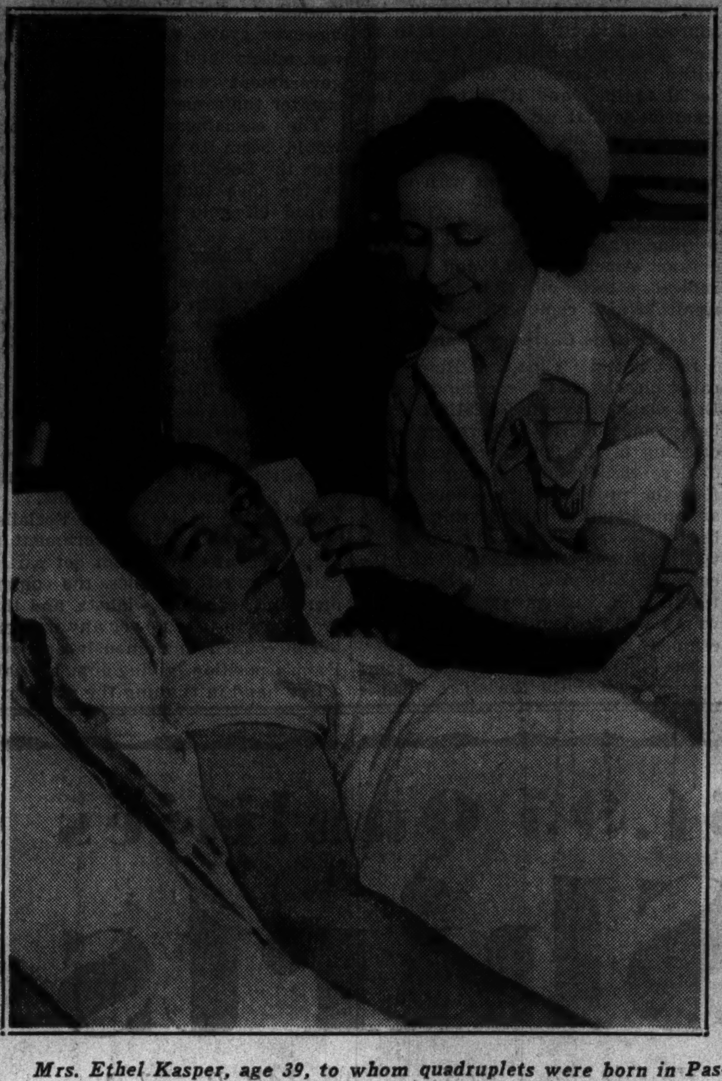
The original program called for only the thirteen projects now under way, but by economizing the board was able to include the May and Ryerson additions, said President James B. McCahey of the school board.

All of the jobs are to be completed by September, according to plans. The program will eliminate eighty-seven portables which house 3,900 pupils. "It will also restore a full day school session to those children now attending only a half day due to congestion and overcrowding," Mr. McCahey said.

Admiral Downes Is Back at Post After Flu Case

Rear Admiral John Downes, commandant of the Great Lakes naval training station, returned to his post yesterday after an absence of more than three weeks in the east. On April 22 the admiral saw his daughter, Miss Carlyle Downes, christen the new destroyer Downes at Norfolk. The vessel is named for the admiral's father, who was a naval officer. Following the ceremony Admiral Downes became ill of influenza and was under treatment at the Naval hospital, Washington, until a few days ago.

MOTHER OF QUADS FEELING FINE



Mrs. Ethel Kasper, age 39, to whom quadruplets were born in Passaic, N. J., Saturday, was "in splendid condition" at the hospital there yesterday, according to her nurse.

Babies Thrive

Passaic, N. J., May 10.—(AP)—The Kasper quadruplets, a girl and three boys, began their second day of life today "in splendid condition" at St. Mary's hospital, although one of them, a boy, was described as "not so strong" as the others.

Their mother, Mrs. Emil Kasper of Little Ferry, 36 year old wife of a 47 years old $20 a week railroad roundhouse worker, is "getting along fine," Dr. Frank F. Jani, the physician who delivered the babies late yesterday, said.

Born five weeks prematurely, the infants, weighing a total of little more than 13 pounds, are in separate incubators in a private room converted into a nursery.

The boy who is not so strong has been placed in a new type of incubator which provides, the hospital said, a better regulated flow of oxygen.

A day and night nurse are in constant attendance and only Sister Frances, obstetrical supervisor at the hospital, is permitted inside the nursery.

The girl, first born, weighed 3½ pounds on arrival. The others weighed 3 pounds 4 ounces, 2 pounds 13½ ounces, and 3 pounds 9 ounces.

RETURNS

FIRST SAILING FOR ENGLAND AND FRANCE, MAY 12

LAST JUNE, America welcomed the NORMANDIE, World's Largest and Fastest Ship. . . . On her maiden voyage westward, she broke the record. . . . On her maiden voyage eastward, she again broke the record . . . and since that time has held undisputed possession of the Blue Ribbon of the Atlantic. She is the only ship ever to have crossed the Atlantic in less than four days!

Thousands of people have admired the splendor of her decoration . . . her dining salon, her grand salon, her theater. . . . And thousands actually have traveled on the NORMANDIE and experienced the thrilling speed of this greatest moving unit ever constructed by human hands.

During this past winter certain changes have been made in the NORMANDIE. We found, for instance, that her great speed made it necessary to screen her after-deck. Tourist Class has been rearranged and made more beautiful and comfortable even than before. Regulation of the propulsion machinery and other technical adjustments (similar to those made on your car after it has run its first thousand miles) have eliminated the normal vibration observed on the early voyages. These are small things, but perfection is made up of trifles.

Now she returns . . . more spacious, more luxurious than ever! Come and see her when she is in port. Better still, decide now to make a trip to Europe this summer aboard this marvel of the seas. Passengers for England disembark at Southampton—only two hours from London. Le Havre is only two and a half hours from Paris. And the NORMANDIE's reserve power insures your arrival exactly on time—in any weather (except dense fog at harbor mouth). Your Travel Agent will gladly give you his expert advice, without charge.

SPAIN TO INSTALL AZANA AS SECOND PRESIDENT TODAY

Pledges to Guard Forms of Republic.

MADRID, May 10.—(AP)—Premier Manuel Azana became president of the world's youngest republic by an overwhelming majority from 874 electors gathered in a perfunctory session today in the Crystal palace.

Azana succeeds Niceto Alcala Zamora, who was removed from the presidency on a charge of malfeasance by parliament April 7, following a Leftist victory in the February elections. Zamora had served since the republic was set up in April, 1931.

The electoral convention was a mere formality. The 56 year old lawyer, orator, and playwright, regarded as Spain's ablest politician, was the sole candidate. He was elected by a vote of 754 to 120.

Loyal to Democracy.

Augusto Barcia y Trelles, minister of state, as the oldest minister in the cabinet was named acting premier pending formation of a new government, which probably will take place after Azana's inauguration tomorrow.

Azana pledged steadfast loyalty to the principles of democracy and unfailing devotion to the welfare of the republic. A committee visited the stocky little premier bearing the official announcement of his election. He was in his modest apartment, chatting with his family and a few close friends.

"Thank you, gentlemen," said the president elect. "Spain may rest assured that I will be loyal to the principles of democracy and that the welfare of the nation will be my constant concern."

Simple Inaugural.

The only incident to enliven the convention was an exchange of blows between two Leftist members as an outgrowth of an alleged reflection upon the character of one of them. Friends separated the pair and the balloting proceeded quietly.

The convention bore all the earmarks of a picnic with delegates sweltering under the glass roof of the large building, erected in 1886 for the Philippine exposition.

The inauguration will be a relatively simple ceremony. Azana is a man of extremely austere tastes and is opposed to all forms of pageantry. The presidential palace has been prepared for its new occupant and, barring unforeseen incidents, Azana will guide Spain's destiny until 1942.

Monarchists Decline to Vote.

The premier was extremely reluctant to abandon active politics, but various parties decided he was the only candidate acceptable to them all. As president it means he must forsake active direction of the most powerful parliamentary groups. He is leader of the Left Republican party.

A group of seventy-six of the full complement of 946 of the electoral college was ineligible to vote because of failure to have credentials approved. Monarchists and some other extreme Right parties declined to vote. When the result was announced the electors burst into cheers and song. The extreme Left wing sang the Internationale and other delegates sang songs of their respective regions.

BEG YOUR PARDON

An item of May 3 stated that L. A. Olmsted, founder of the Vim Sporting Goods stores, was burned to death last month in a fire in his summer home at Minocqua, Wis. Mr. Olmsted was not injured by the flames. He died from exhaustion after fighting the blaze.

Fannie Brice Ill Again; Show Will Not Go On

New York, May 10.—(AP)—Fannie Brice is ill again—and this time the show will not go on. With her physician reporting the comedienne suffering from arthritis, producers of "Ziegfeld Follies" starring Miss Brice announced today suspension of the show "for three or four weeks." The same ailment caused Miss Brice to absent herself from the "Follies" during opening week here last winter.

NEW STREET SIGNS TO BE ASKED.

C. L. Rice, president of the Chicago Association of Commerce, said yesterday he would appeal today to Mayor Kelly to erect new street signs throughout the city. Last week the names of 125 streets were revised by the city council.

DEMOCRATS CALL TRUCE TO INDUCT SLATTERY TODAY

They'll Resume Fight at Springfield Tomorrow.

Democrats, whether they were foes or friends of Gov. Horner in the primary, will fraternize today at the installation of James M. Slattery as chairman of the Illinois commerce commission, but are expected to divide again tomorrow over election of a new state central committee chairman.

Slattery was Horner's campaign manager in Cook county and was rewarded with the commission chairmanship when Ben L. Lindheimer resigned last week. He will be inducted into office at 11 a. m. at 1 North La Salle street.

Horner Foes Among Speakers.

On the induction program for speeches are Ald. Jacob M. Arvey [24th] and Clayton F. Smith, president of the county board, both of whom stayed with the regular organization in its fight against Horner, and State's Attorney Courtney and Michael L. Igoe, United States district attorney, who were friendly to if not openly active for the governor.

In Springfield tomorrow the new state central committee is to be organized. Chicago members, who leave today, predict the reëlection of Bruce A. Campbell of Belleville as chairman, although the governor has a candidate in Harry Hershey of Taylorville.

Cook county votes will control and P. A. Nash, chairman of the Cook county central committee, has declared that he favors Campbell, who worked for the regular organization slate. It is believed that if Campbell is reëlected he will make no objection to Horner appointing some one else to run his downstate campaign for election.

Young Republicans Elect.

At a meeting of the executive committee of the Young Republicans of Illinois late Saturday night in Bloomington, Thomas J. Downs, 7718 South Shore drive, was elected president for 1936. Other officers elected, according to dispatches, are Lambert Oschenslager, Aurora, executive committee chairman; Edward Alexander, Jacksonville; C. W. Swanson, Chicago; Harold Walsh, Bloomington, and Harry S. Stark, Chicago, respectively, for first, second, third, and fourth vice presidents; Russell H. Classen, Freeburg, secretary; Lester Carson, Peoria, financial secretary, and Ralph D. Jones, Oak Park, treasurer.

The officers were elected by the executive committee although Chicago members pointed out that the Young Republicans' constitution gives this authority to the executive committee only in odd years and to a statewide convention in even numbered years.

WOMEN DEMAND 'RIGHTS' PLANK IN PARTY PLATFORM

Washington, D. C., May 10.—(AP)—A move for a "women's economic rights" plank in the Republican and Democratic platforms was launched here today by the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs.

It would seek repeal of the "married persons clause"—section 213 of the economy act—which also provides that when a married couple is working for the government one of the two shall be among the first to be dismissed when stafs are being cut, and last to be put back on the pay roll when stafs are augmented.

The business and professional women declare married women bore the brunt of dismissals under the act.

On Thursday, Mr. Hoover will address a Republican woman's organization in Philadelphia.

A. Mitchell Palmer Shows Improvement at Hospital

Washington, D. C., May 10.—(AP)—A. Mitchell Palmer, former attorney general, was said today at Emergency hospital to be "in a critical condition but appears to be improving." Palmer took a bad turn after an appendicitis operation April 29.

by a larger electoral vote than in 1932 Republican National Chairman Henry P. Fletcher prophesied the election of the Republican ticket with not fewer than 283 electoral votes, 266 being the necessary majority. This prediction he based on the results of the Democratic primary in Maryland last week which showed that one out of every six Democrats in that state is opposed to President Roosevelt.

This test was made possible by the fact that Col. Henry Breckinridge, a conservative Democrat who was assistant secretary of war in the Wilson administration, entered the Democratic primaries in Maryland and several other states as a nominal opponent of Mr. Roosevelt for the Democratic nomination for President. The vote for Breckinridge would be purely a protest vote against the President and would afford a counting of noses of Democratic insurgents against the New Deal.

The Democratic organization put forth a supreme effort in Maryland to get out an enormous vote for Mr. Roosevelt compared with which the protest vote would pale into insignificance. The President himself made a speech in Baltimore which was widely heralded as the formal opening of his canvass for reëlection. Despite all these efforts 16 per cent of the Democrats who went to the polls voted against Mr. Roosevelt.

Point to Pennsylvania.

The Democrats sought to dismiss this showing as of no moment and wholly sporadic, pointing to the previous result in Pennsylvania in which the President beat Col. Breckinridge 19 to 1. The Republicans, on the other hand, were tremendously encouraged and proceeded to calculate what would be the election result nationally if 16 per cent of the Democrats in other states were to refuse to vote for the reëlection of Mr. Roosevelt.

These calculations indicated that what with conservative Democrats bolting Roosevelt and with conservative Republicans who voted for Roosevelt in 1932 returning to the fold this year, the Republicans might reasonably hope to elect their candidate.

Mr. Fletcher calculated that as a result of these changes the President would lose 15 states he carried four years ago. With these 15 states alone and the 6 Mr. Hoover carried in 1932 the Republicans would have a minimum this time of 283 electoral votes, or 17 more than a majority. Mr. Fletcher opined the total would be very much greater but for the moment he confined himself to a calculation based on the defection of conservative Democrats from the Roosevelt ticket.

Maryland Becomes Doubtful.

Certainly Maryland, in the light of the primary returns, becomes a doubtful state and if Maryland goes Republican without the country going Republican a politically barometric record of 44 years will be smashed. Mr. Roosevelt carried Maryland four years ago with a vote of 314,000 to Mr. Hoover's 184,000. Of course, the percentage of the Democratic insurgency against Mr. Roosevelt in the election may not be so great as the 16 per cent recorded in the primary. It may not exceed 10 per cent.

GLENN FRANK TO SPEAK.

Dr. Glenn Frank, president of the University of Wisconsin, will address the National Machine Tool Builders' association this evening at the Edgewater Beach hotel on "Business and the Abundant Life."

WIRE SEIZURES PROTESTS FILED IN U. S. SENATE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 10.—[Special.]—The American Liberty league tonight announced that it has turned over to the senate petitions signed by 55,000 citizens protesting against the methods of the senate lobby investigating committee and the federal communications commission, with respect to the seizure of private telegrams.

The petitions forwarded had been sent to the league for transmission to the senate. Other petitions have gone direct to members of the senate. The league said other petitions are being received daily at headquarters and will be sent to the senate from time to time.

The petitions contain signatures from citizens in every state in the union. Illinois has 7,300 signers to date. Among others, New York had 13,500 signers, 6,100 are from Pennsylvania, 3,800 from California, and 3,800 from New Jersey.

The petitions were sent to Vice President Garner, together with a letter from Jouett Shouse, president of the league.

For Digestion's sake— ...smoke CAMELS

CAMEL
TURKISH & DOMESTIC BLEND CIGARETTES

Busy Americans Find Smoking Camels a Pleasant Aid That Helps Digestion to Proceed Smoothly—Increases Alkalinity!

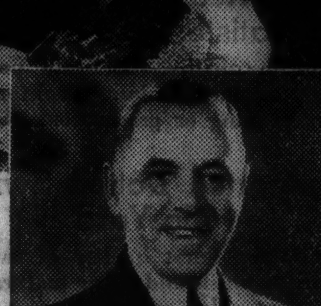
Many annoyances of our daily lives—rush, worry, mental strain—slow down the flow of the digestive fluids so necessary to good digestion.

Science and common experience agree that smoking a Camel is a pleasant way to stimulate good digestion. For Camels increase the flow of digestive fluids—alkaline digestive fluids—necessary for the enjoyment of food and for good digestion. Smoke as many as you like . . . they never get on your nerves.

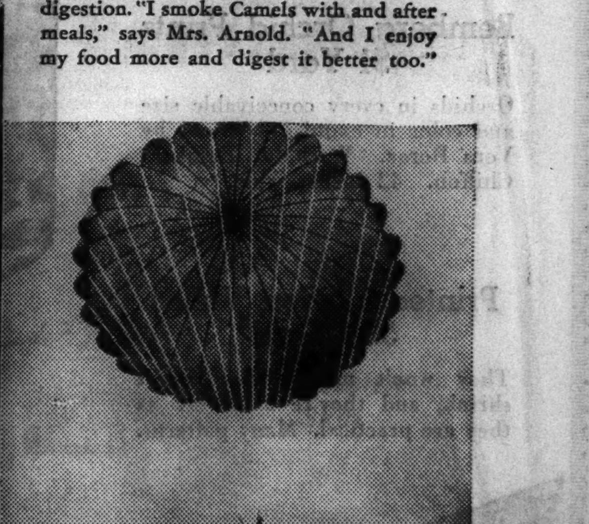
From Camel's costlier tobaccos you get unequaled mildness. Smoke Camels for a comforting lift—for well-being—and for digestion's sake! Camels set you right!

O. D. GLADWELL describes operating a pneumatic drill. "This battering ram is tough on the digestion," he says. "I just smoke Camels, and Camels set me right."

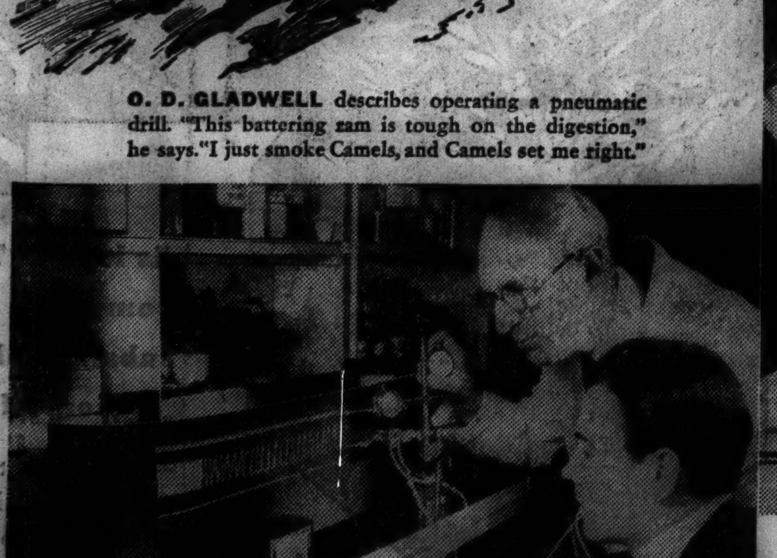
LIGHTNING SPEED of petite Mrs. Ethel Arnold (above) depends greatly on digestion. "I smoke Camels with and after meals," says Mrs. Arnold. "And I enjoy my food more and digest it better too."



AT THE MAYFAIR ROOM of the Book-Cadillac Hotel in Detroit, the fine tobaccos of Camels, their delightful flavor and lift, are a natural complement to perfect dining. Paul Fischer (right) has observed that Camels are the favorite and are steadily increasing in popularity. "A glance around our tables," he says, "proves that those who appreciate quality have made Camels their first choice."



664 PARACHUTE JUMPS—record of Joe Crane (above), who has tumbled through 350 miles of empty air. "Camels set me right!" he says. "It's natural for me to turn to Camels for digestion's sake."



METHOD AND PROCEDURE USED. Evidence obtained by scientists under controlled laboratory conditions definitely establishes the fact that smoking a Camel increases the rate of flow of the digestive fluids. The importance of this in facilitating the process of digestion is a matter of common knowledge.

Costlier Tobaccos!

• Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS . . . Turkish and Domestic . . . than any other popular brand.

NINE STATES TO TEST STRENGTH OF ROOSEVELT

Primaries, Conventions to Fill Week.

Washington, D. C., May 10.—(AP)—Political interest tonight centered on primaries and party conventions to be held in ten states this week, with major attention focused on Ohio where Senator William E. Borah of Idaho contests with Robert A. Taft, a "favorite son" who has the backing of the state party machine for the Republican presidential nomination.

With only four weeks remaining before the Republican party's 1,001 delegates gather in Cleveland to name their candidate, leaders of the various camps looked to each new convention or primary for indications of the strength of their candidates.

The Democratic high command went ahead gathering suggestions for the party platform, giving scant hope to any one except President Roosevelt to be nominated at Philadelphia. Democrats will pick 178 delegates this week in 10 states. As the week started, they still had to select 544 of 1,100.

Ohio Votes Tuesday.

The primary and convention schedule:

Thursday—Vermont, Democratic convention.

Friday—Oregon primary, Democratic convention.

Saturday—Indiana Democratic convention, Nevada Republican convention.

Borah campaigned in Ohio all last week. He wound up last night in Cleveland with a radio speech in which he said a part of the Republican leadership was fostering a monopolistic system which brings "a scanty, meager living for the vast majority and almost incalculable wealth for a few."

Over Million Registered.

Charleston, W. Va., May 10.—(AP)—The largest registration in West Virginia's history—estimated at well over a million—heard the windup tonight of bitter fights in the Democratic and Republican primary campaigns.

A split between the two Democratic United States senators, M. M. Neely, seeking renomination, and Rush D. Holt, held the attention of the Democrats, while the Republicans had a stiff factional fight for state leadership.

Many Issues in Ohio.

Columbus, O., May 10.—(AP)—A wide array of national and state issues, topped by the Republican intra-party fight for control of the state's national convention delegation, faced Ohio's 1,360,000 voters tonight as election officials prepared for a new record in primary balloting Tuesday.

President Roosevelt's slate of Democratic convention delegate candidates was without opposition, but he faced a presidential preference test against Col. Henry Breckinridge of New York.

Senator William E. Borah's backers qualified for the ballots a slate of seven at-large and 28 district delegate candidates. Robert A. Taft, "favorite son" choice of the regular organization, put into the field a full ticket of eight at-large and 44 district candidates.

Vote as They Please.

Ohio law requires convention delegate candidates to declare themselves for first and second choices for the presidential nomination. Those elected are not bound, however, to support either of their choices in the convention and are free to vote as they desire, under both law and custom.

The contest for gubernatorial nomination between Gov. Martin L. Davey and two opponents, Congressman-at-large Stephen M. Young and Charles H. Hubbell, both of Cleveland, headed the Democratic state ticket. On the Republican ballot Attorney General John W. Bricker is unopposed for the Republican gubernatorial nomination.

Both parties will nominate a complete slate of candidates for state, congressional, legislative, and county offices.

A LANDON CHOSEN

Song Writer "Stays Out Late at Night"; Divorced

Los Angeles, Cal., May 10.—(AP)—Testimony that Louis Pollack, song writer, "wanted to stay out late every night attending parties," won Mrs. Helen Pollack a divorce. "It was too much for me," said his wife of 13 years. The court approved a property settlement giving her $400 a month.

The fifth consecutive day of summer temperatures and sunny skies yesterday drew tens of thousands of Chicagoans to beaches, parks, and the forest preserves. Along in the afternoon, however, a series of rain squalls lashed various sections of the city, sending the holiday throngs scurrying for shelter.

In less than an hour nearly half an inch of rain fell, dropping the temperature sharply from the high of 83 degrees. In the evening the wind shifted to the lake and the mercury fell below 60. More thundershowers, variable winds, and mild temperatures are predicted for today.

During the rain squall the wind blew a large tree down on the bungalow of Edward F. Skelnik, 4913 Northwest highway, damaging the roof. None of the family who were inside was injured.

7 COWS SET FREE AS RESTLESS BULL UPSETS A TRUCK

Jersey City, N. J., May 10.—[Special.]—A restless bull that charged seven cows in a truck in which they were being brought from Sussex to the Jersey City stockyards, caused the truck to turn over tonight in Hudson boulevard.

The eight animals were hurled into the street, and the sight of a herd of cattle staggering around the highway brought hundreds of Sunday motorists to a honking, apprehensive standstill for more than a quarter of an hour while Alfred Gould of Ledgewood, N. J., driver of the truck, corraled his charges with the aid of the police.

Investigate Poisoned Food Theory in Death of Father

Edward Lembecke, 52 years old, 8548 Ferris avenue, Morton Grove, died at his home yesterday supposedly of food poisoning. His wife told the Morton Grove police that Lembecke complained of becoming ill soon after he had eaten fish in a restaurant Saturday night. An investigation of the death will be continued today. Lembecke was the father of four children.

TAX SOURCE SALARIES 4 BILLION ANNUALLY; 3 MILLION ON ROLLS

New York, May 10.—[Special.]—More than 4 billion dollars a year is expended for the salaries of federal, local, and state employés, it is estimated in a study made public today by the National Civil Service Reform league. This represents approximately 38 per cent of the taxes collected, it declared, adding that nearly one-tenth of all those gainfully employed in the United States are employed at the expense of the taxpayer.

"The more than 3,000,000 employés of our federal, state, and local governments are directly on the pay roll of every man, woman, and child in America, whether or not he or she owns property or pays income tax, or pays or does not pay direct taxes at all," a statement read.

"It is thus to the enlightened self-interest of all that America establish a system under which the vast armies of public employés shall be selected on a basis of training and capacity to perform the vital national functions they are called upon to fulfill.

HUEY LONG LAWS FACE REPEAL BY STATE ASSEMBLY

Baton Rouge, La., May 10.—(AP)—For the first time in eight years a Louisiana legislature will meet tomorrow without the dominating presence of Huey P. Long.

It will convene at noon in an atmosphere of political peace, looking to Gov. Elect Richard Webster Leche, who will be inaugurated Tuesday, for the law writing recommendations the late Senator Long used to supply in the form of orders that brooked no disobedience.

In this same attitude of peace the legislators were expected to erase from the statute books some of the more punitive measures Long had enacted as weapons in his warfare against the national administration of President Roosevelt and sundry state political opponents.

Leche and the state administration, now at peace with the White House, have the federal patronage in Louisiana denied to Long. So the erasure of the statutes written to place a state government curb on federal fund expenditures in the state may be expected.

Koepke to Enter Plea Today in Embezzlement

Charles S. Koepke, 29 years old, loop real estate broker, who has confessed spending nearly $50,000 turned over to him by clients for investment, will be arraigned before Chief Justice D. J. Normoyle of the Criminal court today to enter his plea to an embezzlement indictment. Koepke at the last arraignment asked for a continuance to decide whether he will plead guilty or not guilty. He was arrested April 6 in the apartment of Miss Patricia Starr, 2926 Pine Grove avenue, a cabaret dancer.

DISCOVER CAUSE OF SENSITIVITY TO COLD WATER

Condition Proves Menace to Many Swimmers.

Kansas City, Mo., May 10.—(AP)—The Mayo Foundation has discovered the cause of hypersensitivity to cold, a condition which is a grave menace to many swimmers and the heretofore unrecognized cause of collapse and occasional drownings.

Charts of the newly found human chemical mechanism which every one possesses and which, when exaggerated, accounts for extreme sensitivity to cold—also a simple remedy for the trouble—were shown today at the scientific exhibition of the American Medical association, which opens its eighty-seventh annual session here tomorrow.

The cold discovery is one of 150 exhibits of the new things in American medicine to be shown during the five day meeting. Seven thousand physicians are expected to attend.

Three Tell of Treatment.

The hypersensitivity treatment is shown by B. T. Horton, M. D.; G. E. Brown, M. D., and Grace Roth, B. S., of the Mayo Foundation for Medical Education and Research, Rochester, Minn.

They found not only the changes in the skin, previously known in cold sensitivity, but also that blood pressure of the "cold sensitive" persons dropped abruptly and pulse rates rose alarmingly.

These startling effects appeared in 21 persons merely as the result of dipping one hand and lower forearm in water of about 50 Fahrenheit. A typical case was a right hand immersion of five minutes. Within four minutes after the hand was taken from the water, systolic blood pressure dropped from 140 to 110, diastolic blood pressure from 80 to 60, and pulse rose from 70 to 115.

Skin Temperature Rises.

In one case temperature of the skin of the face rose seven and one-half degrees Fahrenheit. There also were serious changes in body fluids.

The chemical mechanism in the body responsible was found to be histamine. Histamine is one of the amino acids essential to life. When too much of it is released by the tissues of the body a condition of shock appears.

The remedy for cold was immersing an extremity in 50 degree water for five minutes daily for six consecutive days. Sometimes this little "hardening" trick resulted in complete disappearance of bad effects from cold.

Youth and age and both sexes are equally subject to this extreme sensitivity to cold. The Mayo cases ranged from 15 to 57 years of age with ten females and eleven males.

Howard Hughes Will Try for Record Flight Today

TRIBUNE TOWER AIR COOLING SYSTEM TO BE STARTED TODAY

Summer temperatures will be halted at the door of Tribune Tower beginning today when the building's air cooling system will be turned on for the first time this year. Tenants and employés will enjoy an average temperature of approximately 75 degrees until fall, no matter to what heights the mercury rises on the outside.

THE TRIBUNE's air cooling and conditioning plant, which was installed in 1934 at a cost of a half million dollars, is the largest of its kind in the world. It has a cooling capacity of 624 tons a day, which means that its effect is the same as if 624 tons of ice were melted daily in the building.

"The conditioning system regulates the humidity and cleans the air—so far as is practicable—of dust, noxious gases, and bacteria," Holmes Onderdonk, manager of Tribune Tower, explained.

"Air on Chicago street levels frequently contains more than 50,000 particles of dust to the cubic foot. After it is washed by water sprays in THE TRIBUNE's conditioning system it contains less than 5,000 particles to the cubic foot."

Forgery Charge Is Faced After Wedding Day Arrest

New York, May 10.—[Special.]—Harry S. Haines, 35, who was arrested Saturday when preparing for his wedding in the afternoon, was held in $7,500 bail in Felony court today on suspicion of forgery. The complaint signed by R. N. Rose, vice president of the Excess Insurance Company of America, charges Haines altered books of the company causing a loss of more than $100,000 while he was assistant secretary and treasurer in 1934 and 1935.

106 Boys to Each 100 Girls Is Birth Rate in California

Los Angeles, Cal., May 10.—[Special.]—California's busy stork shows a preference for boys, according to state health department figures. There is a ratio of 106 boys for every 100 girls born, the health department chief reported. The birth rate for 1935 was 12.8 per 1,000 of population, as compared with 12.7 in 1934. Thirty-five of the fifty-eight counties recorded increased births.

Drowns as His Mother Watches from on Shore

Within sight of his mother on shore, Joseph McMullen, 33 years old, 541 South Broadway, Aurora, drowned yesterday in Lake Renwick, 9 miles northwest of Aurora. A boat from which he was fishing capsized. He started to swim to shore pushing the boat ahead of him when he was apparently seized with cramps and sank.

42,000 ACRES OF TREES PLANTED IN SHELTER BELT

Washington, D. C., May 10.—(AP)—With the 1936 planting season drawing to a close, Chief Forester F. A. Silcox said today that 42,000 acres of the midwestern shelter belt should be growing new trees by June 1.

The shelter belt, a broad zone to contain strips of trees through six states, from Canada to Mexico, will comprise 1,725,000 acres of trees when completed.

The bulk of the planting is done in the spring, Silcox said, beginning in late January in the southern part of the belt, and lasting until June 1 in the Dakotas. The belt stretches across Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Nebraska, South Dakota and North Dakota.

Additional funds for the project will be necessary before the work can be carried on after this fiscal year, Silcox said. Work relief funds now are being used, and an appropriation of $1,000,000 for the work next year is provided in a senate amendment to the agricultural bill, now pending.

The house rejected the $1,000,000 appropriation for the shelter belt, but the amount was reinstated by the senate.

CHICAGO PAYS VARIED TRIBUTE TO ITS MOTHERS

Mother's day was observed widely in Chicago yesterday as churches and clubs gave programs of formal tribute and mothers were honor guests at family celebrations. The Garfield, Lincoln, and Washington park conservatories which had special floral exhibits for the day reported that many elderly women were accompanied by their sons and daughters through the exhibitions.

Mothers of children born in the Lying-In hospital were guests at an open house held through the afternoon in the hospital. The Chicago Historical society featured the "gallery of figurines" including those of many distinguished mothers of Chicago history.

Mrs. Mary Adelman, 107 years old, was entertained at a Mother's day dinner given in her honor by the Chicago Restaurant association at the Palmer house. Members of the Old Town Boys' club, 1300 Newberry avenue, presented artificial flowers made by themselves to their mothers. Mothers of members were guests at a program in the Elks club, 57 West Monroe street, yesterday afternoon.

CHICAGOLAND INDUSTRY BREAKS NEW GROUND

In these 6,000 square miles of fast developing Chicagoland, business and industry are finding new space in which to grow and prosper

★ When people are on the move, business follows. Where people choose to make their homes, there also does business flourish. In the wide-spread territory surrounding Chicago forward-looking business men have seen the promise of a great commercial future. They have discovered that here, in this great natural homeland, they may establish their businesses and still maintain their identity in the great Chicago market. They have learned that they are no farther removed from supplies, nor any farther away from the central point of distribution. They have gained much, sacrificed nothing. For the thousands of people who have established their permanent homes in these thriving communities have brought with them all the convenience of the city. Gas and electricity for light and power was made available to them. And now they share its innumerable advantages with business and industry.

In these 6,000 square miles you are certain to find the ideal location for your business. Careful investors, investment trusts, and estates recognize its great possibilities. For now they are acquiring many promising commercial properties. Building sites in small communities or large. Sites on highway, railroads, or water with an abundant supply of native labor and low taxes. And there is room for expansion. Here premium rents and costly restrictions do not place obstacles in the path of growing industry. For manufacture there is a wealth of low cost, ground floor space. Plenty of light and air. There are store sites, office building space to meet the most exacting requirements. All these advantages . . . without the sacrifice of convenience or economy.

Chicagoland industry is breaking new ground . . . and looking forward to greater prosperity in the vast territory served with electricity and gas by the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois. If you are interested in this opportunity we shall be glad to offer you practical suggestions based on actual experience. For information, telephone or write . . .

GROUP HITS MASS OUTPUT METHODS OF HIGH SCHOOLS

Educators Find Individual Treatment Desirable.

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

Noted educators in session yesterday at the Stevens hotel agreed that mass production, though a boon to American industry, is the bane of the country's high schools. The educators, members of the educational policy commission recently organized by the National Educational association, will conclude their five day conference today.

Dean J. B. Edmonson, of the University of Michigan, spokesman for the commission, said last night that the group regarded as dangerous to American democratic ideals the widespread school methods which are based on the erroneous assumption that students should be cast in the same mold.

Several Leaders Consulted.

The commission yesterday called heads of several national educational committees into consultation on the subject of the dangers from too much standardization in education. To illustrate the ideas of the commission Dean Edmonson referred to two types of automobile manufacture.

"The most expensive automobiles," he said "are made 'on the bench,' each receiving the attention of expert craftsmen. Lower priced cars, under mass production methods, are produced 'on the line,' with each part perfectly standardized for assembly by ordinary workmen. Unconsciously American high schools tend to imitate the latter method, with needs of special groups and individuals largely neglected.

Need Provision for the Slow.

"There is good reason for believing that one cause of dissatisfaction with programs of studies in high schools lies in the fact that these programs have not been created for, nor adjusted to, the lower levels of intelligence. In recent years vast numbers of pupils of low abilities and low skills have been swept into our high schools."

The commission seems in agreement, said Dean Edmonson, that we should develop plans for studying the strength and weakness in the preparation of pupils and for providing individualized instruction to deepen the special interests of individual pupils, whether of low or high intelligence.

CENSUS GAIN AND LOSS BY STATES

Washington, D. C., May 10.—(AP)—Ten states, including Wisconsin and Michigan, lost population in the last five years, estimates of the federal bureau of census revealed today. Total population of the nation was estimated at 127,521,000, an increase of five millions. Illinois continues to rank third among the states in population.

ASK FOR $40,000,000 1934 REALTY TAX JUDGMENT TODAY

Assistant State's Attorney Hayden N. Bell will appear before Judge Jarecki in the County court today and ask judgment for about $40,000,000 of unpaid 1934 taxes on approximately 800,000 parcels of taxable real estate in Cook county.

According to usual procedure, Judge Jarecki will allow five days for the filing of objections by the defendant real estate owners. On Saturday he will enter orders of tax sales of the properties in which judgments are entered. The sales will begin next Monday.

Included in the properties on which judgment will be sought are thousands of small holdings on which the owners have paid 85 per cent of the tax bills and withheld the remaining 15 per cent as a protest on the ground that some of the taxes are based on illegal and excessive levies and rates. The Chicago Real Estate board has indicated it will file a blanket objection covering all these properties.

CAMPBELL KEPT IN IRONS WHILE QUIZ CONTINUES

St. Paul, Minn., May 10.—(AP)—Harry Campbell, limping Barker-Karpis gangster accused of participation in the kidnaping of Edward G. Bremer for $200,000 ransom, passed his 85th hour in leg irons and manacles today as federal bureau of investigation officers continued to question him.

Federal agents, working in relays under the supervision of Clinton W. Stein, interrogated Campbell concerning persons who aided him and his chieftain, Alvin Karpis, while they were sought for nearly three years for two major kidnapings.

Karpis, transferred to the Ramsey county jail after six days of grilling in federal bureau of investigation offices, is under indictment for both the Edward G. Bremer and William Hamm kidnapings, while Campbell is accused of being a participant in the Bremer abduction.

"Campbell has told us nothing; we're still interrogating him," one agent said. Campbell was brought here from Toledo by airplane Thursday.

3 County Highway Police Lieutenants Change Posts

In a shakeup among district commanders, Chief Lester Laird of the county highway police yesterday transferred the lieutenants in charge of the three divisions. It was reported that Chief Laird made the changes because one of the lieutenants incurred the displeasure of citizens in his district. Lieut. George La Grue was transferred from Morton Grove to Willow Springs, replacing Lieut. Fred Mulhausen, who was assigned to Homewood. The latter relieves Lieut. Henry Andell, who takes the Morton Grove command.

RE-GROW HAIR

● ● ● Science has found that the hair-growing structure (papilla) remains alive and ready to respond to proper stimulative treatment even long after hair has disappeared from the scalp.

Thomas has perfected a method of stimulating this dormant hair-growing structure to normal activity. First, Thomas treatment removes the causes of inactivity (usually one or more of 14 local scalp disorders) and then skillfully supplies the necessary stimulation and thus makes it possible for the hair to gain sufficient strength to push through the follicle and become visible again on the scalp.

Come in person to the nearest Thomas office TODAY and learn more about this precise, reliable method of growing hair, stopping hair-fall, and ending dandruff. No charge will be made for consultation or scalp examination. You will not be accepted for treatment unless your case comes within the scope of Thomas methods.

WHO KEEPS THEM OUT OF WORK?

In his message to congress on March 18 of this year Mr. Roosevelt said that industry must find jobs for the unemployed. He repeated the thought in his more recent speech at Baltimore. He assumes—or pretends—that almost all the people who are out of work are men and women whom industry has fired. He concludes that the government is justified in demanding that industry rehire the unemployed and thus undo the evil it has wrought.

Obviously the conclusion is no better than the premise from which it is derived. The New York Sun declined to accept the premise in the absence of proof. The editors have dug into the government's own official reports to see what they disclose about the sources of unemployment. The findings are being reported from day to day in a series of editorials entitled "Who Keeps Them Out of Work, Industry or Roosevelt?"

Here are the facts, for example, from the state of Texas:

In 1929 this state had 134,498 wage earners in manufacturing industries. In April of this year it had 169,941 workers on WPA relief. Therefore, there were, in 1936, 35,000 more persons on federal relief in Texas than were employed in manufacturing industry at the peak of prosperity. Is industry expected to solve the unemployment problem by employing, in addition to those now at work, 35,000 more men than it ever employed?

Obviously the unemployed are not all or mostly all men and women whom industry has displaced. Where, then, did they come from? Here, again, the Sun offers suggestive figures. Texas received $132,776,927 in AAA benefits in 1934 and 1935. This money was used as a bribe to landowners to reduce their production of cotton and wheat. They planted fewer acres and because they did so they employed fewer farm hands, fewer tenants and share-croppers.

By tens of thousands these men and their families were forced on relief. They are unemployed because Mr. Roosevelt planned it that way. He took their jobs from them.

"It is estimated," the Sun reiterates daily, "that as many as 2,000,000 farm workers are on relief." The figure, of course, applies not to Texas alone, but to the whole country. But so far as Texas is concerned, "last year, 27 per cent of Texas' farm population worked off the farms for a total of 12,797,850 days. This means 42,700 Texas farm workers each worked a full year, either in competition with workers in industry, trade, etc., or on relief work.

Here is another illustration presented by the Sun in a comparison between an industrial state, New Hampshire, on the one hand, and three agricultural states, Nebraska, Oklahoma, and North Dakota, on the other.

In 1929 there were 68,511 wage earners in manufacturing industry in New Hampshire. Today there are 13,536 on work relief in the state. In the three agricultural states there were 63,931 wage earners in manufacturing industry in 1929 and today these three states have 165,070 on work relief. They had about the same number of industrial workers in 1929, but today they have about twelve times as much unemployment. How much of that unemployment was planned that way is suggested by the fact that New Hampshire received only $63,027 in AAA benefits, but the three agricultural states received more than 152 million dollars for destroying employment on the farms.

"Who keeps them out of work, industry or Roosevelt?" the Sun reiterates. The answer is obvious.

THE MORIBUNDANT LIFE.

When Mr. Hoover was President the depression touched bottom in almost every country, this one included. There was much suffering. Mr. Hoover was accused of possessing a hard heart and an unimaginative mind. He didn't do enough, it was said, because he couldn't think of startling things to do. Men said they were being treated like dogs.

And so it was that Mr. Hoover departed and the more abundant life began. Millions of pigs and cattle were slaughtered and tens of thousands of the carcasses were left to rot. Corn was plowed under. Farmers were paid bounties to grow less wheat. The price of bread and meat went up faster than wages, and this was held to be a great national boon.

Some citizens reserved doubts, but these citizens were not in the dog food business. Every dog has his day, and that of the men in the dog food industry had dawned. The master minds which had planned the price of butcher's meat so thoroughly that the poor could not afford to buy it had forgotten to plan away the appetites of the poor. That oversight, according to the recent revelations made by Senator Dickinson, was corrected in some part when the poor discovered the nutritive value of dog food.

It appears that if you don't know what you're eating it isn't so bad. The tastier brands are blends of horse, a noble animal which in many European countries is regarded as good eating for the poor. Some dog food is made of tankage, which is not so nice, but when thoroughly cooked and mixed with cereals will do no harm.

Men said they were being treated like dogs when Mr. Hoover was in the White House, but they were speaking figuratively. It remained for Mr. Roosevelt to make the phrase literally true. He and Brother Wallace planned it that way.

STOP ILLEGAL TAX LEVIES.

The Committee on Public Expenditures, through its director, John O. Rees, has directed attention again to the illegal tax levies which are the greatest present menace to the financial stability of local governments and suggests a method of curing the evil.

These illegal levies, the committee finds, amounted to between 5 and 6 per cent of the total tax bills in the 1930 and 1931 levies. It is probable that they form an even larger proportion of levies for later years, particularly those for 1935 and 1936, which have not yet gone into collection. As the committee's report points out, "the courts construe strictly the power of local governments to levy taxes, and some of the local governments repeatedly disregard the court decisions or attempt to avoid them by various subterfuges."

Owners of large properties, whose savings justify the expense, retain counsel to resist these illegal levies. Owners of small properties have not in the past usually found the saving on their bills worth the expense of protest. They have paid.

Tax spending officials have come to rely on this. They have continued to make illegal levies in the hope that they would collect a substantial portion of them from taxpayers who found it too expensive to protest. This policy has now been proved shortsighted as well as unjust, for smaller taxpayers are joining the resistance to the illegal taxes.

The result has been a jam in the court and a jam in the county treasurer's office, where clerks in recent years have been required to make literally millions of corrections of tax records because of court decisions holding illegal certain portions of tax rates.

The remedy suggested for this condition is the review of the tax rates of the five major local governments—city, schools, county, parks, and sanitary district—before the tax bills are made out. The rates of these governments, some thirty-five in number, could be reviewed in two or three weeks. Review before billing would save later changes in hundreds of thousands of individual records.

Rates of the 400-odd minor tax districts in the county could wait for review until after the bills fall due, as at present. Correction of an illegal rate for one of these districts, involving the change of a few thousand tax bills at most, does not involve that volume of work which disrupts the collecting office.

Any call for a new special session of the legislature should include provision for legislation for prior review of tax rates of the major Chicago governments. The change would benefit all taxpayers in the county, individually by protecting them against illegal rates and collectively by forestalling a collapse of local government through disruption of the tax collecting machinery.

AMERICA IN THE MOVIES.

George Shaffer, THE TRIBUNE's reporter in Hollywood, observes that the current trend in movie production is back to the western. Paramount, Universal, Metro, Twentieth Century-Fox and United Artists are busy with Buffalo Bill, Wild Bill Hickok and Calamity Jane; also with Andrew Jackson, Benedict Arnold, exploits of George Washington, the Last of the Mohicans, etc. In spite of the spread in time and territory all are frontier themes. The west began in the east.

George Washington started his career with a mission into the wilderness of northwestern Pennsylvania and might have ended it in the wilderness where Braddock met defeat. A large part of the revolution was fought in the wilderness. That part of Arnold's life which was of heroic patriotism included the ever amazing invasion of Canada by way of the Kennebec and the Chaudiere in the December snow. Where there was wilderness there is American history.

For a while American producers found their material in English history. Their preoccupation with these pages of British achievement and exploit ought to have pleased the English more than it did or seemed to. Possibly the simpler folk were gratified, but many of the superior people took the position that no Yankee movie man need tell them how good they were. On the screen they looked pretty good in the best tradition of Kipling and the Henty stories. They should have liked the glorification of the quarter deck and the thin red line far flung from the pleasant and protected English countryside.

Now it seems to be our turn, and a good time it is to have the turn. These pictures from which the producers for a time thought the public interest had dropped contain the story of the United States. It is dashing, daring and romantic. The screen has been improved since the days when the producers formerly were interested in the American historical scene. Not only technically but in intelligence and artistry the industry is equipped to do great work in dramatic stories of the making of America.

TRIUMPH OF THE MUSTACHE ARTIST.

[St. Louis Post-Dispatch.]

The mustache artist is an elusive genius who cannot pass a billboard without pausing to pencil elaborate facial decorations on the countenances there portrayed. Stray magazines and even library books occasionally disclose his endeavors, when sweeping handlebars or neat Van Dykes or patriarchal beavers appear on features previously unadorned. These artists usually are small boys or prankish adults, inspired only by art for art's sake and a wayward sense of humor.

An exception to the rule is Sherif O. A. Larson of De Kalb county, Illinois. He has proved himself a mustache artist with a purpose. Looking over the faces in a detective story magazine, he saw one, described as that of a murderer who had escaped from prison, that reminded him of a farmer in the community. The farmer had a mustache, the picture had none. So the sherif turned to the art of mustache adding, and, after a few strokes of the pencil, the resemblance was complete. A news item says the farmer has confessed that he is the escaped convict. So a neglected and often abused art wins vindication.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

ADD "How the World Changes." In the golden olden days before the prohibition plague a man used to go into a saloon or liquor retailer's and say, "I want a bottle of nice, mellow Bourbon, ten or fifteen years old," or "I want a half dozen bottles of Scotch, Glasgow, good color and strong malted taste." Then he would hold the bottle up to the light and if the saloon sold that brand at the bar he would carefully sample it after rolling it around in the glass, watching the bubbles and sipping it very critically. Now a man goes into a place where they sell it and says, "What Bourbon or rye or Scotch have you got here that opens easiest?" "Well," says the publican, "here's a Scotch that opens just by taking the tinfoil off the top and then unscrewing the cork." "Too much trouble," says the customer. "What other kind you got?" "Here's one," says the publican, "that has this lead seal dangling from the top. Pull up on the seal and then turn the cork, that's all." "Fine," says the customer; "I'll take a half dozen bottles of that kind." Yes, indeed, the world changes. And this thing has started me wondering how many corkscrew makers have committed suicide since the demand for whisky bottles that open easy began.

PRESCIENCE.

I know what citadel is soon to fall;
I know the golden siege which is to come
In that recurrent warfare waged in all
Its splendor every twelvemonth. No loud drum
Will sound the first assault; one day the sun
With tactile beams will tug at roots, the sky
Turn gentian—and the war will have begun
In which my beleaguered heart finds no ally.

Rainbow legions will advance and sweep
Down on the isolate fortress that will strive
To hold the foemen from its walls, to keep
Its towers intact. But April will contrive
To force the gate; her cohorts will rush in,
Spreading bright havoc in the heart they win.

ADELAIDE LOVE.

WHAT CAN THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS do now? It owns an elaborate lot of palaces at Geneva; possibly they could be turned over to the Swiss at a fair price for a tourists' hotel. Or they might be used as a henhouse; they'd make a fine henhouse, and eggs and young frying chickens always find a good market. The league buildings used as a henhouse would be of much greater use in the world than the league itself ever was. Or the buildings would make a fine fish hatchery. People who didn't pay the slightest attention to the commands from the league would sit up with great delight to receive some nice fresh trout or bass from the league fish hatchery. The personnel of the League of Nations itself could be put to work running the chicken ranch or conducting the fish hatchery. Or they could run the tourist hotel. And in any of these activities they would find a great deal more pleasure than in acting for the League of Nations, for they would have the joy of knowing they were doing something that got results.

CREATION.

God made men:
Vicious and greedy,
With the heart of a wolf
And the eyes of a mole;
Out of the dull clay
Ruthlessly fashioned,
Then satirically, tenderly,
Added a soul.

JESSIE HOLT.

THE GHOST OF SHERLOCK HOLMES sat on top of a bus yesterday and said to his companion: "You see that man, apparently in terrible torment, wriggling and twisting, on the seat in the front of the bus?" "Yes, indeed," said Dr. Watson, who was, of course, the companion. "He is probably the new Public Enemy No. 1 and is looking for G-men. Or else he has just murdered his wife. Or perhaps he ate of that kind of welsh rabbit that should have been hung up on the walls of a museum, for those things are practically indestructible." "All wrong, my dear Watson," said Mr. Holmes; "the poor wretch has not yet taken off his winter underwear." "But how in the world do you know that?" gasped Dr. Watson. "Merely elementary, my dear fellow," replied the great detective. "I noticed as he passed us he wore rubbers, carried an umbrella and a raincoat, and had a string on his finger to remind him to bring home two pounds of prunes and a small steak. His wife rules him, and when a wife rules she always makes her husband wear his winter flannels until the middle of July."

I DEDICATE A NOTEBOOK.

No one will ever see,
  Read and judge this book;
No one laugh at me,
  And the pains I took—
Matching words, call them beads,
  For a shining string—
Hard to find when each needs
  Certain coloring.

Stubborn words, slow to get
  In a balanced line—
Small devils, that upset
  Poetry's design.
Once I sought for a lyre,
  Tuned to the sublime;
Now I wish I could acquire
  Gift of twinkling rhyme.

USES OF X-RAY.

MANY of us think of the powerful force which we know as X-rays as of value only in disclosing fractured bones, or aiding in the examination of some part of the digestive tube. Others attribute to Roentgen's discovery miraculous properties and believe that through its use disease of the most trifling character can be seen in any organ or structure of the body.

Unfortunately, these rays do not constitute an all-seeing eye and it is only by special methods that stones in the bladder or even the kidney can be visualized. A tumor in the stomach is securely hidden except as it may have changed the outline of the wall of that organ so that it will cast a recognizable shadow. In other words, the diagnostic service of this agent deals with shadows, which can be recorded because the rays will affect photographic plates.

In addition to its value in determining the presence of disease, X-ray can benefit many types of inflammation. Its effects are so potent, however, that only the most cautious administration should be undertaken. With overdosage in inexperienced hands burns may occur, the skin be destroyed, and unsightly scars result. But with modern equipment and greater skill born of study and experience, these unfortunate accidents are today rare.

Ample evidence is at hand to demonstrate the destructive action of X-rays upon cancer cells. In an early breast tumor radiating the mass before operation has been found to increase greatly the percentage of cures. Success has followed the treatment of cancer of the thyroid and occasionally deposits in the lungs have receded or disappeared entirely. In cancer of the larynx excellent results have followed the use of the Coutard method in France, England, and the United States.

Among the inflammatory states that have been treated with benefit are boils, carbuncles, and skin infections due to pus producing organisms. Treatment has more effect in the early stages, inasmuch as it is painless, relatively inexpensive, and does not interfere with the activities of the patient. Discomfort is often relieved within a few hours and the necessity of many days of hot, wet dressings is avoided. If pus has actually gathered, radiation is less useful, although it will sometimes ease pain and cut short the duration of the illness.

One of the most annoying of the many skin diseases is acne, and while application of the X-ray is not always successful, its employment has brought about improvement in many cases and complete cure in some. The doses are very small and usually not more than three to six treatments [given at weekly intervals] are required.

Many forms of acute external inflammation yield to a single or fractional dose of these rays. By this is meant an amount so small that it is less than one-half that which the skin will bear without showing the slightest reddening. Experiments have demonstrated that improvement in acute conditions, such as erysipelas, is more certain if the initial dose is mild. Furthermore, if the lesion is subjected to radiation early, the infection may be retarded or stopped entirely.

The average treatment equipment produces between 200,000 and 300,000 volts. All of this force may not be used in a single case. In addition, time is an important factor; exposure in some disease conditions is but a minute or two.

With the advent of 1,000,000 volt machines it was hoped that the answer to the cancer problem had been supplied. Clinical observation, however, points to smaller doses, perhaps more frequently repeated, as affording the best results. X-rays and radium still remain, when skilfully administered, our chief reliance in the treatment of malignant growths that are beyond reach of the surgeon's knife.

SYMPTOMS OF CANCER.

M. G. writes: 1. What are the symptoms of cancer of the stomach and the kidneys?

2. Can cancer be cured by X-ray treatments?

3. Does great loss of weight follow cancer?

REPLY.

1. There are no early symptoms characteristic of gastric cancer, and later ones vary according to the location of the growth. Among them may be lack of appetite, especially for meat, thirst, dyspepsia, symptoms of fullness and discomfort after meals, pain, vomiting, the presence of tumor, bleeding, malnutrition, anemia, and fever. The cardinal symptoms and signs of malignant disease of the kidney are hematuria [blood in the urine], pain, and palpable enlargment of the kidneys. Any one may appear without the other. Hematuria is most common as an early symptom.

2. X-ray aids in some cases, but operation offers the best hope.

3. Loss of weight usually accompanies any form of cancer.

CONSULT A SURGEON.

MRS. C. H. writes: Last Christmas I was shot through the right lung. I was in a hospital nine days, after which I stayed in bed at home for six weeks. After I was up about three weeks I became ill and had an awful feeling in my chest. There is pain whenever I move and even when I am lying down I can hardly breathe. How long will it take for the lung to heal? I have no funds and cannot see a doctor.

REPLY.

A gunshot wound should be cared for by a competent surgeon. If you cannot afford to visit a private physician, go to the outpatient department of one of your local hospitals.

Your pain is probably due to adhesions. An X-ray plate will aid in disclosing the exact state of affairs.

BUZZING IN EARS.

MRS. F. writes: For about two years I have had a buzzing in the ears. I believe that taking too much quinine caused this condition. What can I do?

REPLY.

Ear noises may be due to faulty circulation of the blood, or the cause may lie in the ear itself [external, middle, or internal], or in the hearing center of the brain. Vertigo is generally associated with local ear conditions.

If too much quinine is responsible symptoms should disappear within a few weeks after stopping the drug. Otosclerosis—excess bone deposits within the ear—is sometimes a factor. Unfortunately, this cannot be cured. Depleting the system of water has been recommended as a remedy. This may be accomplished by your physician with a type of management which he will know about.

From Across the Sea

BY DONALD DAY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

VILNA, Poland.—The Vilna district, jokingly called Polish Siberia by Warsaw politicians, is one of the most sparsely inhabited sections of Poland. Its sandy soil produces potatoes and a small grain crop. There are many large lakes but the transport of fish has not been organized. Large forests contain much wealth in timber. They cannot be economically exploited because the unofficial state of war between Poland and Lithuania over this territory prevents timber from being floated down the Nemunas to Tilsit and Memel.

The inhabitants are a mixture of Poles, Lithuanians, White Russians and Jews. The hard soil and the severe climate have combined to produce sturdy, solid, tenacious people. Marshal Josef Pilsudski, whose mother was a Lithuanian, was born on a farm near Vilna. Zyndram Koscialkowski, present premier of Poland, talks Lithuanian as fluently as Polish and his Jewish wife is from a Bialystok family.

Col. Alexander Prystor, former premier under Pilsudski, now president of the senate, and his wife, Janina Prystor, parliament deputy and author of the bill which sought to ban kosher meat slaughtering methods, also come from Vilna. Since 1926, when Pilsudski grabbed the power in Warsaw, Poland has been largely governed by statesmen hailing from Vilna.

During his nine years as dictator Pilsudski made it a point to visit Vilna several times each year. Generally he went there to seclude himself from his friends. In his modest farm house he would spend hours playing solitaire. Mme. Pilsudski would serve him glass after glass of scalding hot tea sweetened with a spoonful of black currant or strawberry jam.

Vilna's intimate connection with the marshal gave her an authority in Polish affairs which only today, a year after the marshal's death, is being challenged by Poznan, Cracow and Warsaw. But the plots against the marshal's government have thus far been unsuccessful. So long as Foreign Minister Josef Beck remains secure in office the line of policy inaugurated by Pilsudski will continue to rule Poland.

Beck's foreign policy, which has aroused the antagonism of France and Russia, angry because Poland deals with the Nazis, has the warm support of the Vilna press. In his newspaper Slowo, Stanislaw Mackiewicz has attacked the Franco-soviet policy which has its supporters in Poland.

"A number of French publicists, especially those bought by Russia, the Jews of the entire world, and some of the older Polish journalists profess not to believe Hitler's declaration that Germany wants peace. Sensational articles alleging Hitler aims to reconquer Alsace-Lorraine, perhaps also Picardy and Champagne, to take London away from England, to convert Belgium into a German province, have been appearing almost daily in the French, Jewish and Polish press. In our opinion this question is not actual.

"The chief underlying cause of the world war was colonial rivalry, not any German ambition to conquer Europe. I believe Hitler is sincere in stating he is not leading Germany toward war, but toward peace. Undoubtedly Hitler is dreaming of national expansion, but why should he have designs on either Belgium or Poland, both of whom are overpopulated? If he wishes Germany to expand why should he not have in mind other territories which could be obtained only through first achieving a lasting peace with France and England?

"Hitler is campaigning for European peace, not world peace. Hitler needs European peace as an instrument of his national policy. The only government which has real reason to fear Hitler's European peace is bolshevik Russia. Perhaps the leaders of the idea of world revolution in the Moscow Kremlin view Hitler and Germany with an excess of fear, but it is undeniable that Moscow has organized all her internationalists against nationalist Germany.

"Today it is in Europe's best interests to grant Germany equal status and not to attempt to make Germany Europe's prisoner. The internationalists are calling for war, their policies are united and are leading Europe toward war. There has been war and there will be war. One thing is clear; a new war would be suicide for our continent. If we must choose between Hitler's peace and the peace of the internationals, by all means let us choose the European peace proffered by nationalist Germany rather than the world peace offer advanced by internationalist Russia."

SEPARATE MAINTENANCE.

Chicago, May 2.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—I secured a divorce from my wife on May 24, 1935, with the agreement that I was to pay her monthly alimony for the following five years. We have no children. Under the new alimony ruling [1] is it possible to discontinue this payment after two years from date of divorce? [2] That is, two years from the time this new law went into effect? [3] Will I have to continue the agreement for the full five year period? A. S. H.

1, 2 and 3. Yes. Newspaper accounts have given the impression that the two years' separate maintenance specified in the new statute is all that the wife can collect. In fact, the statute merely provides that after thus collecting "no person . . . shall be entitled to further separate maintenance or temporary alimony." The implication is clear that she can subsequently collect permanent alimony by making proper proof in divorce proceedings.

Under the old law some wives, while entitled to divorce, would prefer to ask merely for separate maintenance, thus preventing their husbands from remarrying. Many judges felt that this was contrary to public policy and refused to continue the separate maintenance indefinitly. The new act in substance enacts this judge-made rule and says to the wife, "If you wish to continue to collect you must resort to permanent alimony and relieve your husband from his other obligations to you."

THE MARINES LANDED.

Chicago, May 7.—On May 6 you published a letter in which I inquired the proper name of Father Butler's church. I was amazed at the response I received: 109 telephone calls, 76 letters and two personal calls, all giving the name of the Immaculate Conception church, 1415 North Park avenue.

I wish to extend my sincere thanks to THE TRIBUNE and to the many people who so cheerfully volunteered this information. EDW. WALSH.

HOW ABOUT "WRISTBAND?"

Chicago, May 6.—In THE SUNDAY TRIBUNE May 3 there appeared "Can you read this with only twenty errors?" giving several paragraphs to be read. Personally I think the test was extraordinarily simple and an eighth grade pupil should be able to read all with proper pronunciation. I am a grandmother of 59 years of age and yet I mispronounced but two of the words, viz.: "hymeneal" and "orthoepy." As the latter does not appear in the dictionary I am not certain about it. However, as the score of 20 or under mispronounced was considered good, I think such a score would be vile. Give us something that is really hard. No, I'm not a teacher nor in business; just a home body.

ALICE E. WALKER.

TRACTION REORGANIZATION.

Chicago, May 9.—Our present transportation committee, unlike its predecessors, is not holding any hearings on the proposed ordinance. The only one held was a good will hearing just before the last election. Yet the mayor and council would like the people to believe that they are sincere in their efforts to give Chicago a modern transportation system. Is the present administration going to refuse the people a voice in the matter?

We are not forgetting the mayor's dictatorial act of junking the 1930 ordinance without a vote of the people. The mayor and council had better not take away anything that was given to us by that 1930 ordinance. E. BJORKLUND.

DECLINE AND FALL.

Iowa City, Ia., May 7.—"Capt. Eden Youngest British Cabinet Member," "British Prestige Sunk"—so read the headlines, and not by pure coincidence, either. Over two thousand years ago the Roman poet Naevius represented one of his characters as asking, "Qui vestram rem publicam tantam amisistis tam cito?" and receiving as his answer, "Proveniebant oratores novi, stulti adulescentuli."

The "qui," is an archaic form, meaning "how." SPINIFER.

NO. IT WAS THE M. P.'S

Niles Center, Ill., May 5.—What has become of all the marines? I thought they were used in such places as Addis Ababa. I thought they were the fighters; or aren't they? Sounds odd to read of a navy man being there with a gun. What the government should do is to place about a squad of doughboys wherever protection is needed. Give 'em a gun, any kind of an old gun; give 'em something to shoot, and watch 'em. Wa-Ho! DOUGHBOY.

THE CONVERSION OF MR. GREEN.

Chicago, May 8.—In Tuesday's TRIBUNE is an Associated Press dispatch from Washington reciting that William Green advocates Mr. Roosevelt's reelection.

Mr. Green occupies a high position. He represents officially union labor and champions its ideas. It is my understanding that labor wants a job, a decent living wage, under healthy conditions, with time for recreation and with proper insurance against unemployment.

Under date of March 1, 1936, the Associated Press carried a story which appeared on page six, column five of THE TRIBUNE for Monday, March 2, and which said in part:

> The American Federation of Labor today estimated the number of unemployed in January at 12,626,000 after the greatest increase from December to January in five years.
> The lost ground to such an extent at this time is nothing short of tragic, the federation said in reporting that 1,229,000 persons who had jobs in December lost them in January.
> Unemployment always rises in January, but last year the increase was only 699,000. The last time there had been an increase approaching that of this year was in January, 1931, when 1,328,000 were added to the unemployed.

What has happened to Mr. Green since March 1, 1936? Why does he now indorse an administration which has put 11,000,000 on the federal pay roll and still tolerates the greatest unemployment of all time? Mr. Green has some explaining to do. Either he was wrong in March or he is wrong now. N. J.

THE LANDON INTERVIEW.

Downers Grove, Ill., May 8.—The strongest paragraph in Gov. Landon's speech of May 7 is the one in which he said, "Equal rights for all . . . is the only way we can prevent the rise of class feeling—always contrary to the American spirit—and which I am sorry to see is being fostered in high places. . . . Anybody who tries to divide our people against themselves is no friend of America."

This is well worth the emphasis of reprinting. And how about sending a copy to Rabble-rousing Franklin?

BILL MAYOR.

ANOTHER NOISE.

Chicago, April 30.—The worst summer nuisance is the ice cream howlers. Why not stop it at the start of the season? Until 10:30 at night and even later these howlers are in our so-called good neighborhoods. If we want ice cream, we all know where to get it. Auto horns, radio, ice cream venders—no wonder we are getting to be a nation of nervous wrecks! H. E. K.

RETURNS.

Chicago, May 8.—W. T. M. says, "Some one said that the British generally manage to lose every battle but the last one. I'd suggest that you wait until the returns are in."

Does W. T. M. mean that we should wait until the British fleet returns home from the Mediterranean? A. V. P.

HOUSE EXPECTED TO VOTE RELIEF FUNDS THIS WEEK

IERC Will Get 4½ Million for Next 2 Months.

BY STANLEY ARMSTRONG.

The Illinois Emergency Relief commission will be granted $4,500,000 from the state general revenue fund this week if 102 votes are present in the Illinois house of representatives in Springfield to pass the Ward bill appropriating that sum to state relief needs.

The measure has passed the senate and is on third reading—the passage stage—in the house, which meets tomorrow night. Gov. Horner has announced he favors the appropriation, and Cook county Democrats appear willing to approve the amount although earlier they had asked for $6,000,000 in accordance with the IERC's estimate of needs. Favorable action is expected.

2½ Million for May.

Of the appropriation $2,500,000 is to be spent for relief needs in May and $2,000,000 in June. Beginning July 1, under a new law, the city of Chicago and the townships throughout the state are to administer relief. Their funds, unless other actions are taken, will consist of the proportionate shares of the $2,000,000 taken monthly for relief from the state sales tax and whatever revenue they derive from the imposition of an annual relief tax of 30 cents on each $100 of property valuations.

There had been some talk of recessing the relief session after passage of the appropriation to see how the Chicago-township relief levy plan, sponsored by the Illinois Agricultural association, would work out. However, legislative leaders say now that there are several pending bills and others that may be introduced that would hold off a recess.

Senator Harold G. Ward [Dem., Chicago], who introduced the appropriation bill, has another measure to increase the diversion from the sales tax to relief from the present one cent to one and one-half cents. This would bring sales tax relief revenue up to $3,000,000 monthly.

The governor has on third reading in the house his program to supplant the Chicago-township plan with one making the counties the units for relief administration and financing. His program would create a relief authority in each county with authority to issue bonds and levy 50 cents on each $100 of valuation for relief.

County Setup Studied.

The Chicago city council has indicated its desire to have the Cook county bureau of public welfare administer relief for it, rather than establish a separate city bureau, if the Chicago-township plan goes into effect on July 1 as scheduled. Supervisors in the 30 Cook county townships outside the city limits are to be asked today if they, too, would prefer to have the county bureau handle relief for them, the city and the townships, of course, to pay the expenses and raise the money.

DeWitt Billman, secretary of the legislative reference bureau, is preparing for the governor amendments to the old age assistance and the blind and dependent children pension laws. These may be thrown into the second special session, which is concerned solely with relief, or be made a part of the call for a fourth special session in which permanent election registration will be the major subject. The call for the fourth special session is expected to be issued Wednesday.

The old age assistance amendments are proposed to satisfy the federal social security board in Washington so Illinois can get federal "matching" dollars for the indigent aged.

TODAY AT THE LUNCHEON FASHION SHOW in the Walnut Grill—showing new midseason and Summer clothes emphasizing "The Woman's Point of View." Show from 12:30 to 2 p. m.

French designers have always insisted that real distinction is not necessarily for the young. They know that the woman of maturer years wears her clothes with an assurance and poise that have a charm all their own. Consequently many of the most delightful fashions of any season are for women. We bring you proof on this page of typical fashions assembled from our collections for women. Fashions that answer to the description of "soignee and charming." Fashions that make it smart for a woman to look and act her age.

FOUNDATIONS

We don't believe in pouring figures into moulds. For figures are as individual as faces. That's why we carry one of the largest stocks of foundation garments to be found anywhere. We detest recommending garments over the counter because our long experience has taught us what the right garment can do for a figure. Our collection includes everything from the newest Cadoles to stepin girdles as low as $5. And an expert fitting goes with either.

WHY

if thinning hair can be stopped

Are Rich Men Bald?

Why Are Young Men Bald?

Answer—They confuse the failures of bottled tonic with modern scalp treatment, which is given after a diagnosis and given with every scientific modern aid to hair growth.

We make a complete diagnosis and explanation of your individual case without expense to you.

Wellington's knowledge of hair and scalp disorders—gained from seven years study and research—is at your service.

His research has been followed by personally giving and supervising treatment of thousands of cases. It insures to you the personal contact and supervision of the founder of the Wellington Institute, and thereby the maximum of skill and efficiency. Wellington will explain and submit scientific proof concerning many things you should know about your hair, including the effect of

Sunshine
Ultra Violet Rays
Scalp Massage
Cutting Hair Short
Tonics
Hat Wearing
Dandruff
Hair Dressings
Heredity
Waving
Abnormal Hair Fall
The Use of Water

Wellington Scalp Treatments save and thicken your hair by restoring dormant and falling hair roots to their fullest hair growing power. They do away with DANDRUFF, ITCHING, DRYNESS, or OVER OILINESS

You will like the "atmosphere" of this Institute. Provable facts are put before you. You are not urged to take or continue treatment. It must sell itself. No advance payment is solicited. After examination if you wish you may have

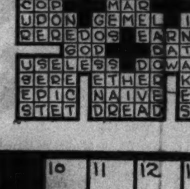
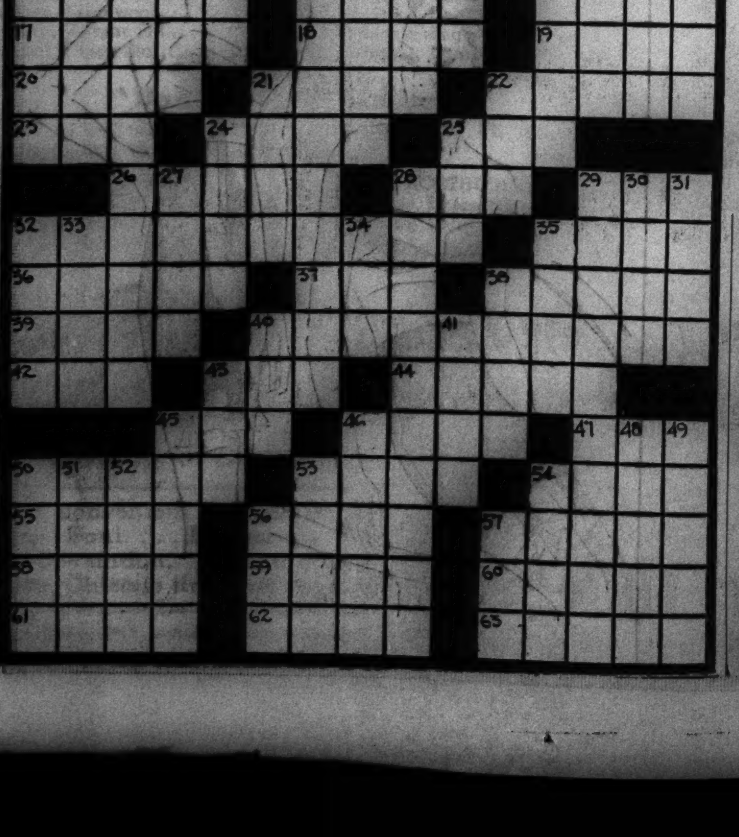
SATURDAY'S PUZZLE SOLVED





NATIONAL PARLEY OF RED CROSS TO OPEN HERE TODAY

Grayson Describes First Aid Highway Service.

BY KAY HALL.

The American Red Cross convention which opens this morning at the Stevens hotel was characterized yesterday by Admiral Cary T. Grayson, national chairman, as one of the most significant in the 55 years' history of the national organization.

"Increasing trafic fatalities—more than 36,000 killed and 105,000 maimed last year—have become a national emergency of year round disaster proportions," Admiral Grayson said. The convention is the first to be held since the Red Cross highway first aid service was launched six months ago.

1,000 Stations Operating.

Admiral Grayson said 3,000 first aid stations with trained volunteer workers have been designated in 30 states and that 1,000 of these highway stations already are functioning. "Eventually there will be 15,000 stations with first aid workers ready to give aid in those precious moments, especially in fractures, between the time of the injury and admission to a hospital," he said.

Just returned from a tour of states affected by the recent floods and storms, Admiral Grayson said families are being reëstablished in their homes by the Red Cross at a rapid pace with a maximum of three months from the time of the disasters for complete rehabilitation.

He cited 300 cases of broken backs among southern storm victims as an indication of the suffering in the wake of such catastrophes.

Foreign Aid for Victims.

Canada and Salvador were among the first foreign Red Cross groups to send financial aid to the United States disasters this year, said Ernest J. Swift, vice chairman in charge of insular and foreign operations of the Red Cross. From Hankow, China, came $2,500 in contribution also, Mr. Swift said in illustration of "the wave of sympathy pulsing through Red Cross groups throughout the world."

Robert E. Bondy, director of national disaster relief who will speak at tonight's session, said here yesterday that the flood and storm relief fund response this spring "has given a clear demonstration of public confidence in the Red Cross and the ability of such an agency to get private contributions without calling upon the government."

American citizens gave $7,500,000 and the disasters, ranging through 20 states, represented the longest peacetime battlefront ever faced by the national group, Mr. Bondy said.

2,000 Delegates to Attend.

Speakers at this morning's session, which will be attended by more than 2,000 national delegates, will be Admiral Grayson, Mayor Kelly, James B. Forgan Jr., chairman of the Chicago chapter, and Ralph Christian, Birmingham, Ala., schoolboy representing the Junior Red Cross. Mrs. Elsbeth H. Vaughan, a nurse of St. Louis, will be awarded the Florence Nightingale medal for her long record of nursing service. Dr. Thomas W. Gosling, director of the Junior Red Cross, will present a junior membership flag to the state having the greatest number of junior members.

Dr. Thomas Parran Jr., surgeon general of the United States Public Health service, will speak this afternoon. Tonight's session will be headed by men who directed relief activities in the flood and storm area. James L. Fieser, vice chairman in charge of domestic relations, will be one of the speakers.

5,000 N. Y. Children March in Mother's Day Parade

New York, May 10.—[Special.]—More than 5,000 children, members of junior naval and military organizations in New York City, marched this afternoon in Prospect park to celebrate Mother's day. The parade, the second of its kind, was under the auspices of the Association of Junior Military and Naval Organizations of Greater New York, with Col. Ward H. Lasker in command.

FIND BODY OF STUDENT.

Kalamazoo, Mich., May 10.—[Special.]—The body of O. Frederick Swanson Jr., formerly of Kalamazoo, whose father formerly was associated with the Shakespeare company here, was found yesterday in a bay off Brooklyn, N. Y., near the present family home. He was a junior at Columbus university and had been missing since January.

LEADER OF WAFD PARTY IN EGYPT FORMS CABINET

CAIRO, Egypt, May 10.—(AP)—Nahas Pasha, leader of the Wafd [Nationalist] party, formed a new government today in which he holds the posts of premier and minister of the interior.

The cabinet of Premier Ali Pasha Maher resigned yesterday following the appointment of a regency to serve until the new king, 16 year old Farouk, becomes 18.

"Sure . . . come on in!"

RIGHT now, doors all over America are being opened—opened so that peace of mind and security may enter.

For millions of Americans have discovered what a grand thing life insurance is, and how it can make their dreams and hopes for the future come true.

And they have discovered something else, too.

They have found that their life insurance representative is more than a salesman—that he is a man with a friendly, sympathetic understanding of their personal problems, their money worries, their responsibilities.

They have come to know that, if he sometimes seems enthusiastic, his enthusiasm is justified—for he has seen the quiet miracle of life insurance at work. He has seen it providing for wives and children who have been left alone. For others, he has seen it transforming worry and discouragement into comfort and security. He has seen it making a man's dreams come true when every other way has failed.

Within the next few days this man will call on you. Welcome him with a smile and say, "Sure—come on in!"

He will give you a booklet, "Seven Wise Men." Read it carefully. Then, let him tell you how you, too—on your present income—can start a plan that means security for your family if you die, and security for your wife and yourself, if you live.

THE SOONER YOU PLAN YOUR FUTURE . . . THE BETTER YOUR FUTURE WILL BE

BE WISE

100,000 INSPECT HINDENBURG AT JERSEY AIRPORT

Giant German Air Chief Takes Off Tonight.

Lakehurst, N. J., May 10.—[Special.]—Upward of 100,000 sightseers thronged the grounds of the naval air station here for a view of the Hindenburg while the task of refueling and reservicing the visiting giant German sky chief for her homeward flight entered its final stages today.

Fifteen persons jostled in the huge crowd were given first aid treatment. Others were bruised. Six women fainted in the crush and one was trampled upon. One man was slightly hurt when he was knocked from the running board of his car. None of the injuries was reported as serious.

Many from Distant Points.

Hundreds of the visitors came from distant points of the country, some of them by airplane, many others by train. Excursion trains poured crowds into the airport throughout the day and the network of highways leading in every direction were choked with trafic. It was the biggest day the station has enjoyed since the visit of the German Graf Zeppelin back in the pre-depression days of October, 1928.

An official delegation from Washington, headed by R. Walton Moore, assistant secretary of state, and Admiral William R. Standley, acting secretary of the navy, arrived shortly after noon bearing the official greetings of President Roosevelt to Dr. Hugo Eckener, Capt. Ernest Lehmann and the other officers and men of the crew.

Praise from Roosevelt.

Mr. Moore told the gray haired commodore of the Zeppelin fleet in an informal little ceremony just outside the hangar that the President had "instructed me to welcome you to this country and to congratulate you on the successful completion of your venture," a greeting which Dr. Eckener received with the briefly expressed thanks of himself and his associates and aids.

The government officials arrived by plane. In the party besides Mr. Moore and Admiral Standley were Rear Admiral Ernest J. King, chief of the navy bureau of aeronautics; Frederic A. Delano, uncle of the President and an aviation enthusiast; Richard Southgate, the state department's chief of protocol, and Eugene Vidal, director of the bureau of aeronautics of the department of commerce, and Alfred W. Johnson, member of the general board of the navy.

Admiral Inspects Airship.

Admiral Standley told newspaper interviewers that he had come to Lakehurst merely "to see what Dr. Eckener brought over and what the Hindenburg is like."

The admiral refused to express an opinion on the "suitability of the ship for military purposes."

"As you know the policy of the government [toward lighter than air warcraft] is still in abeyance," he explained. "So I'd rather not express an opinion on that."

After his inspection of the giant craft, Admiral Standley said that he was "very much interested in the facilities for passengers."

Hydrogen Piped Into Ship.

Meanwhile a reservicing crew piped 1,100,000 feet of hydrogen into the big ship's lifting tanks and put the last of a consignment of 8,666 gallons of fuel oil aboard to furnish power for her four mighty engines. Another 300,000 cubic feet of hydrogen was to be pumped into the tanks after the last of the sightseeing crowds had left tonight to compensate for that lost on the journey from Friedrichshafen to New York and in the "valving" during the grounding operations. Also it was said another 7,000 gallons of fuel oil would be taken aboard late Monday afternoon.

ZEPPELIN PASSENGER TO TRY FIRST AIR LINE FLIGHT AROUND GLOBE

Lakehurst, N. J., May 10.—[Special.]—Dr. Bolivar Lang Falconer, retired senior United States civil service examiner, will start the first leg of an around the world commercial air lines flight when he leaves here tomorrow on the Hindenburg. If the trip is completed he will have been the first person to have accomplished it.

Dr. Falconer, who is 65 years old and a resident of Marlin, Tex., will fly from Frankfort, where the Hindenburg is due May 14, to Amsterdam, Holland. There he will take a Royal Dutch air liner to Panang, Malay straits, arriving May 21. On May 24 he will board an Imperial Airways plane for Hongkong, and from there charter a private plane for Macao, an island off the Chinese coast.

Dr. Eckener announced that he planned to take off on the homeward flight at 10 o'clock tomorrow night instead of midnight, as originally announced.

Air Liner Returns Soon.

The Hindenburg is to return here on another trip in the very near future, it was reiterated. The gray bearded German expert revealed last night that nine other trips between Germany and Lakehurst had been planned for the dirigible this summer, one factor of the arrangement being an effort to restore the confidence of Americans in lighter than air craft for the purpose of obtaining financial backing for a regular trans-Atlantic transport service.

Airline officials said the ship would carry a full passenger list of 51 on the return trip. Twenty of those who had made the westward crossing will be on board when the Hindenburg heads into the skies for Friedrichshafen tomorrow night.

Police Guard at Dinner.

Tonight 27 police officers guarded against possible anti-Nazi demonstrations at the Waldorf-Astoria hotel where Dr. Eckener and officers and crew of the Hindenburg were fêted.

Dr. Hans Luther, German ambassador, in a speech prepared for the dinner, lauded the Hindenburg's achievement "for the sake of the work for world peace which the German people and their leader, Adolf Hitler, are passionately striving for." He described the airship's voyage as "welding a new bond between the United States and Germany."

Among the Chicagoans who have booked passage for the return flight are:

Johnston A. Bowman, James H. Thorp, Walter Putterbauch, Dr. Harry W. Hoe, Dr. William M. Scholl, Emil Locher, Col. Charles E. Bartley.

BOY AT A PICNIC GULPS LOLLYPOP, STICK AND ALL

New York, May 10.—[Special.]—George Ochulman, 9 year old adopted son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Gimpelson of Jamaica, swallowed a lollypop, stick and all, in a moment of excitement today at a picnic in Douglaston.

More frightened than hurt, George described his plight as best he could to his foster parents. They called an ambulance and sent him to Queens General hospital.

After an examination George was taken home and told to report to the hospital again today for further examination. A physician said that the youngster appeared to be in no danger.

Col. C. E. Bartley Departs for Trip on Hindenburg

Col. Charles E. Bartley, 5045 Drexel boulevard, president of the Anglo-American Copper Mining company and chairman of the board of the R. A. Bartley company, wholesale grocers, set out yesterday for the Lakehurst naval air station, where he will embark today on the Hindenburg for the return flight to Germany. Col. Bartley crossed on the Graf Zeppelin from Akron, O., three and a half years ago. Last March he made a nine day flight to South America.

FALL FATAL TO AGED MAN.

Michael Kozar, 71 years old, 1356 North Hoyne avenue, died in the County hospital last night from injuries he received early yesterday when he stumbled and fell down a flight of stairs in the rooming house where he lived.

RADIO'S EXCITING THRILLS OF PAST ARE RECALLED

Sea and Air Offer Many Great Broadcasts.

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

Interesting as those broadcasts from the Zeppelin Hindenburg were, radio has brought many another and often a bigger thrill. The past two years have been particularly filled with exciting broadcasts from land, sea, and air. The microphone has brought the voices of Byrd and his men from Little America, or Dr. William Beebe speaking from his bathysphere 3,000 feet below the ocean's surface, of stratosphere explorers more than 70,000 feet up in the air.

Not long ago NBC hung some microphones over Vesuvius' crater and put on a broadcast. Something happened and most of the equipment was lost. Twenty-four hours later the volcano was in full eruption.

Lately the Moose River gold mine disaster had countless listeners sticking to their radios most of the night—for several nights. The Chicago stockyards fire broadcasts in 1934 were particularly exciting in and about Chicago.

Probably the most colorful historical event ever described on the air during the early days of radio—the great suspender snapping Derby between Clarence Darrow and William Jennings Bryan, the Dayton, Tenn., monkey trial which Quin Ryan relayed exclusively for W-G-N followers. There is still a light touch to radio's special events—witness the annual frog derbies. And the soap box scooter derby in which Graham McNamee was a casualty last summer.

Several years back there still were a few celebrities who had not been heard on the air. Thus, the first time the pope, King George, Mussolini and Charlie Chaplin went on the air they created considerable of a stir. Now the major holdouts are Stalin and Shirley Temple.

A broadcast that showed up particularly graphically the miracle of radio was that in which an editor seated at his desk in London interviewed the stratosphere balloonists 14 miles above South Dakota and the members of the crew of the China Clipper which had just lifted from Alameda, Cal.

The all-night broadcast of the Democratic convention in 1932, with Senator Thomas Walsh gaveling merrily away until midmorning, was a radio headlight. The Democrats got off the air just in time for Clara, Lu 'n' Em to take their daily turn at the microphone.

The Byrd broadcasts over CBS from Antarctica represented probably the most exciting series of sponsored programs. The Magic Carpet, however, a few years earlier which sometimes rolled down to Buenos Aires, London, Berlin, or Tokio had a lot of folks cheering. Phillips Lord put on a regularly scheduled broadcast that he will never forget when his vessel, the schooner "Seth Parker" was foundering in the South Pacific.

KILLS HIMSELF AMONG FOREST LIFE HE LOVED

Expressing in a farewell note to his wife his regret at suicide on Mother's day, Sidney Jacobs, 43 years old, 4814 North Linder avenue, shot and killed himself yesterday as he sat underneath a tree in the forest preserve at Miltimore and Central avenues.

Lying on his chest were two notes. One read: "How do you do, Mr. Coroner. Please make this case as short as possible and spare the feelings of my wife and children." The second was addressed to his wife, Henrietta. She and two sons survive him. It read in part: "I called you several times on the telephone, just to hear your voice again. Since I have loved nature all my life, it is appropriate that I end my life among the flowers, the trees, and the birds."

His wife and children learned of Jacobs' death when they returned from a walk in another part of the wood. Mrs. Jacobs said her husband had been in poor health. He was employed by a tailor as a clothing trimmer.

INVENTOR OF HIGH EXPLOSIVE ARMY USES DIES AT 75

New York, May 10.—(AP)—Col. Beverly Wyly Dunn, U. S. A., retired, who invented the high explosive known as "dunnite" and one of the time fuses used by the American army, died today at his home here. He was 75. A native of Clinton parish, La., Col. Dunn served in the ordnance branch of the army from the time of his graduation from West Point in 1883 until his retirement in 1913. In 1908 he was selected to organize the bureau of explosives of the American Railway association. After leaving the army he served this bureau until ill health forced his retirement in 1934.

Day By Day Story of the Experimental Farms

By Frank Ridgway

Ready to Plant Corn

May 10, 1936.

CORN planting is on the work schedule for this week at the Tribune Experimental farm near Plano and Yorkville. Yesterday the check wires were stretched across the field and two planters were greased and adjusted ready to be started tomorrow morning if the weather is favorable.

Last night the plowmen had finished breaking approximately 235 acres of ground for corn and much of it already has been worked into a fine seed bed ready for the planters.

Until the middle of last week the far mmanager said the ground was too cold for corn and for that reason he has delayed starting the planters until this week. If the planters can be started within the next few days this spring's schedule will be under way a week ahead of last year.

Krug and Smith's White.

Krug, a yellow grain variety, and Smith's white, also a grain variety, will be planted first. Smith's white will be planted on a 45 acre field of sod ground broken this spring. At the same time another planter will be started in a 40 acre field where Krug corn will be planted.

Plowmen are finding the ground quite dry. This condition puts an extra load on the tractors because it is necessary to plow corn stalk fields and oat stubble ground to a depth of at least six inches to get down to moist yellow dirt for the corn to sprout in. It may be advisable for farmers to plant their corn fairly deep this year to get below the dry dirt at the surface and to insure germination.

In an effort to get the corn in the ground as early as possible the Yorkville farmers will keep two planters going as rapidly as the land can be prepared. One four-row planter attached to a tractor and a two-row horse drawn planter will be used.

Job to Keep Fences Legal.

Fence builders on the Tribune farms have temporarily turned away from the job while all forces are put to work to get the corn planted. Much time is spent on the farms in keeping up all fences. Building and maintaining fences is a regular job on most farms where the fences, particularly division fences between farms, are built and maintained according to the state law.

In Illinois the state law provides for township and county organizations to look after fences. A legal fence in this state is four and a half feet high, and in good repair, consisting of rails, timber boards, stone, hedges, barb wire, woven wire or whatever official fence viewers consider the equivalent of such fences. The fence must be suitable and sufficient to prevent cattle, horses, sheep, hogs and other stock from getting on the adjoining land.

Law Allots Work.

On the question of a division fence between two farms, for example, the Illinois law says that when two or more persons shall have land adjoining, each of them shall make and maintain a just proportion of the division fence between them. The law requires that hedge fences be kept trimmed—a new hedge is to be trimmed when it is seven years old and then trimmed every two years after that, cut back or trimmed to a height of five feet. Each farmer is required to keep his live stock on his own land.

If a farmer neglects or refuses to make or repair his proportion of a division fence, his neighbor, after sixty days' notice, in writing, that a fence should be erected, or ten days' notice, in writing, that the repair on a fence is necessary, may make or repair the fence at the other farmer's expense. This expense may be collected through a civil suit brought before a justice of the peace or any other court of competent jurisdiction.

Mayor McNair a Detective; Helps Trap Hit-Run Driver

Pittsburgh, Pa., May 10.—[Special.]—Pittsburgh's fiddle playing mayor, William N. McNair, tonight chalked for himself success in a new rôle—that of detective. After eight year old Irvine Zwick had been killed by a hit and run automobile in a tenement district, McNair led police and detectives on a tour of the city's "bad lands" in search for clews to the driver. His efforts brought results when police arrested Edward Johnson, 20 years old, colored, on information obtained by the mayor.

Woman Bites His Finger; Dies of Blood Poisoning

Oscar Robinson, 60 years old, 1707 North Park avenue, a salesman, died in the County hospital last night of blood poisoning. He entered the hospital on Feb. 20 suffering from a laceration on the fourth finger of his right hand, which had become infected. Physicians found it necessary to amputate his arm at the shoulder. According to records at the hospital, Robinson was bitten on his finger by an unidentified woman on Feb. 13 during a drinking party.

Dorothy Bard Is Engaged to Joshua Derry

BY JUDITH CASS.

IT is rather difficult to plan a surprise party for two friends and at the same party surprise every one with the announcement of one's own engagement, but these complex plans were carried out successfully yesterday at a tea given by Miss Dorothy Bard for Miss Dania and Miss Mary Mavor, who are sailing for Europe next week. All of the young people who gathered in the Francis Norwood Bards' hospitable home in Egandale road, Highland Park, at the tea and cocktail hour heard with pleasure that Mr. and Mrs. Bard were announcing the engagement of Miss Dorothy to Joshua D. Derry, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Roberts Derry of Augusta, Ga.

Miss Bard's engagement to the young southerner does not come as a great surprise to their closest friends, for he has been a constant suitor almost ever since he became engaged in business in Chicago and moved here to become a resident of Winnetka, sharing bachelor quarters with three other young men, Garritt Van Schaick, William Payne, and Martin Kerwin.

Bride-to-Be a Debutante of the 1932 Season.

Miss Bard was educated at Roycemore school and at Connecticut college. She was presented to society at a tea in the fall of 1932, and during the last winter she and her mother took a cruise around South America from which they returned a few weeks ago. Miss Bard's younger sister, Marian, returned from her studies at Sarah Lawrence college to attend the engagement party yesterday.

Mr. Derry, who is a nephew of the John H. Harmons and the Hubert Harmons, attended Richmond academy in Augusta. The wedding will take place next fall.

The Misses Mavor will be traveling with Mrs. Harry Combs of Evanston, who is an old friend of their mother, Mrs. Morton R. Mavor of Highland Park. They will sail on the Volendam, May 21, to spend three months in France, Switzerland, Austria, Germany, and Italy.

Large Parties to Open Summer at Two Clubs.

Two large parties planned for the Saturday nights of this week and next will initiate the gay summer season at two popular north shore clubs. The Ronald P. Boardmans have issued invitations to a dinner party to be given on Saturday night for her brother, Theodore W. Robinson Jr., and his bride of several months, at the opening dance of the Onwentsia. On the following Saturday, the 23d, Mr. and Mrs. John Paul Welling will entertain at a large dinner-dance at the Shoreacres club for a bride-to-be, Miss Harriet Haynes of Bronxville, N. Y., who will be married next fall to Cyrus H. Adams III.

Mr. and Mrs. Boardman have invited their guests to come to their Lake Forest home for cocktails before adjourning to the club to dine and dance. The Wellings' party for Miss Haynes will be only one of several during her visit to her fiancé's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus H. Adams, in Lake Shore drive. Miss Haynes will arrive shortly before the 23d and will be here for a fortnight or so. Mr. and Mrs. Adams are planning to entertain for their son and Miss Haynes, probably at a tea.

Eleanor Cheney Chooses Attendants for Wedding.

Six school friends will attend Miss Eleanor Cheney on May 23 when she becomes the bride of Robert Baxter Graves in a simple ceremony at Christ church, Winnetka. They are Miss Frances Bell, Miss Sally Clover, and Miss Lucy Trumbull, all of Winnetka, who attended the North Shore Country Day school with the bride, and Miss Virginia Cooke of Washington, D. C.; Miss Margaret Tobin of Trenton, N. J., and Miss Helen Whitney of Garden City, Long Island, N. Y., all of whom were at Bryn Mawr with Miss Cheney. Miss Jane Cheney will

A MEMBER of the R. O. T. C. staf of the city schools, Maj. Wade C. Gatchell, likes to tell a story of a cadet who was one of his students when he was instructor in one of the schools. In preparation for a federal inspection he had told the students that if they did not know the answer to a question asked by the visiting inspector they should say "I don't remember," and never "I don't know."

Cadet—
Playwright—

Letter.

"That at least indicates that you have been instructed as to the subject concerned," he pointed out. The day of the inspection arrived, and the visiting officer, coming to a lad standing nervously at attention, varied his formula slightly. Instead of asking one of the technical questions the cadet expected, he said, "What's your name?"

"I don't remember," answered the boy, gulping nervously.

THE customary conception of a playwright is of a man working midnight, smoking innumerable cigarets, and drinking quantities of black coffee. Clifford Odets, author of "Awake and Sing," which the Group Theater is presenting at the Selwyn, wrote his play in the dressing room between acts. He was an actor at the time, understudying Luther Adler in "Success Story." Odets, sitting patiently in the dressing room night after night, waiting for a chance to go on that never came, finally got mad and swore he would write a play with a leading part in it for himself. He worked eight months, and the result was "Awake and Sing."

THERE seems to be a feeling abroad that a columnist knows everybody. One letter writer inquires the identity of the distinguished looking, elderly gentleman who comes into the Chicago and North Western station lunchroom frequently, carrying three boxes of popcorn under his arm, orders two bowls of milk, empties the contents of two boxes of popcorn into his milk, and eats it with obvious relish.

Another writes to ask the identity of the man who, every day for three years, rain or snow, has stood in the street, just off the sidewalk at the northwest corner of Lake and Wells, at about 8:30 o'clock, mumbling to himself.

A third asks who is, and suggests a medal for, the young woman who promenades the lake front every day of the year, even in subzero weather, wearing riding boots, brown topcoat, and cap.

We have never seen any of these people ourself, but feel that if the young lady who promenades the lake front wore her brown wool coat and cap and boots during the recent warm days she deserves a medal for endurance.

THE following letter was written to a woman WPA head in a midwestern town:

"Dere Miss Robins, I am writing you to get a pair of pants off of you. I wrote to Miss Smith who had your job before you to try and get a pair of pants off of her, and I wrote to the lady who had the job before her to try to get a pair of pants off of her. Now I am trying to get a pair of pants off of you."

St. Felicitas Mothers.

Dr. Emil Schlageter of the Chicago health department will speak on inoculation of school children before the St. Felicitas Mothers' club at St. Felicitas school, 83d place and Blackstone avenue, at 1:30 o'clock tomorrow. Miss Eleanor Schmitt of the Catholic Youth organization will speak on the Girl Scout movement.

Pianist Devotes Entire Program to Moderns.

BY EDWARD BARRY.

Cara Verson, playing an all modern program in the Studebaker theater yesterday afternoon, gave a piano sonata by Castelnuova-Tedesco its first American performance. This contemporary Italian composer has ventured to include two "blues" movements in his freely constructed work.

The blues make no great attempt to salvage the vivid melodic progressions characteristic of the American product, and confine themselves for the most part to piquant rhythms and misty tone colorings. Castelnuova-Tedesco has a flair for stimulating, slightly out of focus harmonies too, but this observation applies to the sonata as a whole and not to the blues movements especially.

Miss Verson shows real courage in presenting a program made up exclusively of the works of contemporary composers. There is no denying the fact that such rigid limitations on the time range of a recital reduce its general interest. An all 18th century program would have the same drawback, for the conclusion is inescapable that each generation of composers used and overused a few devices, often excellent in themselves, that were novel at the time and since have pased into history.

The 20th century is overusing rhythmic caprice, deliberately off center harmonies, self-conscious melodies that are embarrassed if they find themselves fitting into a frankly lyric line more than four bars in length.

Miss Verson has a nice sense of poetry. Her tonal effects are kept within the bounds of good piano playing by an ever careful ear. Those are unusual and original types of finger and pedal technique that she has worked out for her own particular répertoire.

There was brilliant duo-piano work at Kimball hall yesterday, when the Wanieck club's annual musical presented a recital by Vera Gillette and Vincent Micari. Vitality of the first order was kept in check by a well disciplined artistic sense. Both of the young musicians possess a facile and reliable technique and a splendid sense of rhythm.

Because Chopin happened to write two études in the key of G flat major some clever person happened to wonder why the two of them could not be played simultaneously. His wonderings led him to make an arrangement by which they can. Gillette and Micari played it yesterday, with verve and finish. The "black key" etude is very hard, especially when you can never relax your tempos because of the sturdy, inevitable beat of the misnamed "butterfly" from the other piano.

The American Concert orchestra, a unit of the Works Progress administration music project, played its first public concert in the Great Northern theater yesterday afternoon, with Wesley LaViolette, Chicago composer and teacher, as guest conductor. This orchestra of about thirty-five men and women included in its program two compositions of Dr. LaViolette himself, as well as a miscellany of other things.

New Sharkskin Suits Stylish for Days Ahead

BY RHEA SEEGER.

Suits take the town for spring and summer. Any self-respecting wardrobe has at least three summer suits, and these are of the tailored types, with neat fitted jackets, pockets, man tailored details and sleeves that are slim and comfortably cut to insure action. Skirts have plain, inset, or inverted, so that when you are standing still you are slim as a pencil, but when you hurry around the town you have the required knee action minus any hobble effect.

Summer sharkskin suits, the whitest whites you can find, are simply cut, but the swankiest affairs you can wear. This stunning dull white texture is incredibly smooth, noncrushable, and launders well.

It's no wonder these sharkskins are the white hope for a successful summer. They are the best looking duets in town. They can be worn with just an ascot tucked in the throatline as a two piece affair, or you can get into contrast with sheer crisp dotted Swiss blouses and use the color of the dot as they key color for hat, gloves, and bag.

All kinds of trick back sections are featured—yoke, inverted plaits down the center half, a belt [a belt just showing in the back], biswing backs. And there are as many collar and front closing varieties, including a double button loop to keep them closed at the waistline, the double breasted jacket, the longish tuxedo collar—anything you want you can get.

Also there are short sleeved jacket suits, which unquestionably are the most practical as the short sleeved jacket can be used with cotton dresses, linen skirts, printed piqué skirts, and black or navy blue linen skirts to make still another "white and" street or summer daytime outfit. Nothing tops a taffeta silk skirt like the cool white contrast of a short sleeved sharkskin jacket.

Fashion photograph. . . . The ideal summer street outfit of two tailored pieces, a short sleeved jacket with laced collar and pocket edges of scarlet braid. The skirt has front and back inverted plaits for action. The color is natural linen color, the material rough crash. It is available in a Chicago store featuring such smart clothes with modest price tags.

ENGAGEMENTS

The engagement of Miss Lois Montgomery, daughter of Mrs. Harry G. Guthmann of Evanston and of Charles Pearson Montgomery of Upper Montclair, N. J., to John Francis Penner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Penner of Milwaukee, Wis., is being announced today. Mr. Penner attended the University of Wisconsin, and Miss Montgomery will be graduated from the university in June. No date for the wedding has been set.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Baarsch of Evanston announce the engagement of their daughter, Gretchen, to Dr. Ernest George McEwen, son of Dr. Mary Gilruth McEwen of Evanston.

Count First Ballots Today in Election of Methodist Bishops

Columbus, O., May 10.—(AP)—The first vote of the Methodist Episcopal general conference for the election of four new bishops was sealed and in the hands of conference officers tonight.

Church leaders asserted that it would prove, when counted tomorrow, no more than a nominating ballot. Church spokesmen saw little likelihood that the first votes would give any "candidate" the two-thirds vote necessary for election.

Conference delegations rallied votes for their favorites, with the large Ohio delegation promising support to Dr. I. E. Miller, district superintendent.

A pair of Methodist college presidents, Dr. Daniel Marsh of Boston university and Dr. G. Bromley Oxnam of DePauw university at Greencastle, Ind., were among those frequently mentioned for election to the board of bishops.

Liberals were supporting Dr. Lewis Oliver Hartman, editor of Zion's Herald in Boston and a former north Indiana lay leader. Dr. Joseph M. M. Gray, chancellor of the American university in Washington, D. C., and former Detroit minister, was another likely candidate.

Others were President Harry W. McPherson of Illinois Wesleyan college at Bloomington, Ill., who is supported by the entire Illinois delegation; Dr. Harry E. Woolever, Washington editor for the Methodist publications and a member of the commission that drafted the Methodist unification plan, and Dr. John Magee, Seattle, Wash., minister.

'Voice of Bugle Ann' Is Aces for Dog Lover

Lionel Barrymore Has Lead in Missouri Story.

My Mae Tinée.

Good Morning!

The "best seller" by MacKinlay Kantor has been accorded respectful and intelligent treatment by the movie makers, and if you are interested in houn' dawgs and the Missouri backwoods folk who love and breed them, why "The Voice of Bugle Ann" should prove ace entertainment for you.

The scenes of the story are laid in the backwoods of Missouri, where the favorite outdoor sport is a queer sort of fox hunting. The natives lovingly raise hounds and painstakingly train them to chase foxes all by themselves. The dogs' masters build a nice, cheery fire and, on dampish, sticky nights gather 'round it while their "pooches" chase the same fox to its hole, where it hides to run again another night. Apparently neither the dogs nor the fox ever learn. The pups are summoned home by bugles.

Bugle Ann is a hound with a "voice that's music." She is the treasured possession of Old Man Davis—splendidly portrayed by Lionel Barrymore—who commits murder and is sentenced to the penitentiary on her account. Her disappearance proves not to have been the work of the murderee and there's quite a bit of mystery connected with it.

The "love interest" is a romance between the son of Davis and the daughter of the man he kills.

Perhaps the most dramatic sequence is that where, on the witness stand, Old Man Davis tells why he would kill a man on account of a dog. Mr. Barrymore is completely believable as the slow moving, low speaking Missouri hound lover.

Maureen O'Sullivan and Eric Linden play the young lovers effectively. Charley Grapewin as Davis' loyal friend is real. Other rôles are pleasingly interpreted.

Her Husband's Past

By Elizabeth York Miller

SYNOPSIS.

Nell Martin elopes to London with Eric Cameron, an older divorced man, who had been visiting in her home town, Wellsport, ignoring her parents' pleas to marry Dick Holmes, her childhood sweetheart. On their honeymoon Nell learns Eric has two children, Meg, 17, and Robin, 15; that she must make her home with them and with Mrs. Beaumont, the mother of Hilda, his first wife. Hilda has married and lives in South America. Her children have been told she is dead. Granny tortures Nell with constant reminders of Hilda. Nell returns to Wellsport with her ready-made family, where Eric has an engineering job. Nell is home alone one afternoon when a solicitor's clerk calls, with news that Hilda's husband had died, leaving her destitute. Nell arranges to send her a weekly sum secretly. The man leaves gloves behind which granny finds and insinuates Dick Holmes had been calling on Nell.

INSTALMENT XIX.

A HAPPY EVENT CLOUDED.

Nell looked at the heap of dishes in the sink and for a wild moment was of the same mind about them as granny and Meg. Would it matter so much if she left them for once?

She passed a weary hand across her forehead and groaned inwardly as Eric came in wearing a look of consternation.

"I say—have you paid any bills or anything today?" he asked anxiously.

"Why—no. I haven't been out of the house, except in the garden. What makes you ask?"

"Then perhaps you've put the housekeeping money somewhere else. I wanted to borrow ten shillings from you until Saturday, and there's only two shillings in silver in the drawer. This morning you told me you had about £3 left which would more than carry you on to the end of the week."

Nell leaned heavily against the sink.

She moistened her lips. "Isn't it there?" she asked, feebly fending for time.

"No—I've just told you it isn't."

"Then I can't imagine . . ." Her voice trailed off. The room seemed to be going black and she raised her hands to clutch the edge of the sink. If she let herself faint—and it would be very easy—would Eric forget about that missing money?

"That man you said was trying to sell you something—did you leave him alone in the room?"

"I . . . why, yes I did. I smelt my cake burning and ran into the kitchen to take it out of the oven."

"No wonder he didn't come back for his gloves. What did he look like?"

"I'm not sure."

"Was he a small shrimpy-looking man wearing a bowler hat too big for him and carrying a dispatch case?"

This neat description of Mr. Morris Shyner threw her into a panic.

"How did you know? Did he speak to you, Eric? I mean—where did you see him?"

"He was coming towards the station when we got off the bus. Someone hailed me and he turned and stared as though something about me interested him. I took him for a stranger in the neighborhood."

"It might have been the same man," Nell admitted. "But I hardly think that he—"

"What did you let him into the house for?"

"I wasn't going to, but—but you know how persistent these people are."

"Really, darling, I would have credited you with better sense. What was he selling?"

"He was . . . just taking orders for electrical things."

"Perhaps you ordered something from him and don't like to tell me. It's all right if you did, sweetheart, but if you didn't, I'm going to give his description to the police. He must have gone to other houses in Wellsport. Did he mention his firm—give you a card, or anything?"

At the mention of the word "card," Nell started. She had left Mr. Shyner's in the drawer where the money was kept, but by some blessed miracle of chance Eric apparently had not noticed it.

Dumbly she shook her head.

Then she felt her hands slacken their hold on the sink ledge and the next thing she knew she was lying on the divan in the drawing-room with a strong smell of ammonia making her cough and her face streaming wet with cold water.

Eric was bending over her.

"Lie still, my precious. I—I didn't realize . . . you see, you fainted." His voice was shaking and he sank to his knees beside her putting his arms around her.

She half struggled up trying to remember what it was all about, but just for a moment she could only remember one thing which had been on her mind for nearly a fortnight now. She had meant to suggest that this coming Sunday afternoon she and Eric would go out to the farm when she could have a little private talk with her mother about it.

There didn't seem to be much doubt, now. She had never really fainted in her life before, but lately there were several times when it had seemed to come over her very queerly.

"Darling, I think I'd better ring up the doctor," Eric said anxiously. "His name is Bowder, isn't it?"

She caught hold of his arm.

"It isn't necessary, Eric. We country folk don't call in the doctor for every little thing."

"But, my precious, I've got to know what's the matter with you. I'm worried stiff."

"I can tell you just as well as Dr. Bowder can what's the matter with me. It isn't anything very dreadful. Only that I'm going to have a baby."

"Why didn't you tell me before?" he asked in a whisper.

"Because I wasn't quite sure, myself. Are you . . . glad?"

"I am if you are, my precious."

It should have been a very happy moment for both of them, but the dark thought flitted through Nell's mind that although this was to be her first baby, Eric was already a father twice over.

It clouded the sweet mystery for her.

It wasn't just Eric and she and the little new life that was coming to crown and glorify their love.

In the background there was Hilda, as well.

Nell awoke drowsily the next morning to a consciousness that Eric was not beside her.

Was it so late then? As a rule she was the first of the family to be up and about.

She reached for her watch on the bed table and discovered the time to be only 6:30.

It was her usual time for rising for there was always a lot to do before breakfast.

This morning, however, she did not want to get up at all. She felt heavy and tired. A load of oppression hung over her. That £3 a week she had promised Mr. Shyner, for instance. How on earth could she manage it with all the extra expense that would be coming along?

Cheese-paring in the house would help a little, but already she was going as carefully as possible. That increase in Eric's salary had to be guarded jealously, for he was still paying off debts that Hilda had left behind her.

The door opened cautiously and Eric's getting up so early was explained. He was in his dressing-gown and he had a tray with a pot of tea and two cups and saucers on it.

Nell raised herself on the pillow and smiled at him, her eyes a little moist.

"I don't believe there's anything I can think of I wanted more," she said gratefully.

"I must have read your mind—even though you were still asleep," he said with a cheerful grin.

He drew the curtains and let in the bright morning sun. How the estuary sparkled, and how sweet the air smelled.

Robert W. Stewart's Son Takes Bride in New York Ceremony

New York, May 10.—[Special.]—Mr. and Mrs. John Elliott Stewart left on a honeymoon trip today following their wedding in the Madison Avenue Presbyterian church here yesterday. Mrs. Stewart is the former Mary Terry, daughter of Mrs. Clinton Griffith of this city and Henderson, Ky. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. H. Howard Black, associate pastor of the church, in the presence of the immediate members of the two families.

The bride was unattended. James Wright Stewart was best man for his brother. The ceremony was followed by a wedding breakfast at the Hapsburg house. When they return from their trip, Mr. and Mrs. Stewart will make their home in this city.

The bride is descended from Col. Nathaniel Terry, member of the Virginia house of burgesses and aid to Gen. Washington at the battle of Yorktown, and from Thomas Heyward Jr. of South Carolina, signer of the Declaration of Independence. She is also related to the Royall, Eppes, and Isham families of colonial Virginia.

Mr. Stewart is a son of Col. and Mrs. Robert W. Stewart of Chicago.

Adrienne Ames Gives Jolt to Gossip Writers

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hollywood, Cal., May 10.—[Special.]—It was a big laugh to Adrienne Ames when a cluster of the gossip writers who hang around the restaurants and public stopping places in Hollywood soft footed her way yesterday and buzzed her about the identity of the handsome young man with whom she was dancing and dining. Miss Ames half smiled and introduced them to Walter McClure. But it wasn't until hours later that one of the gossip writers realized the young man is her brother; her name is Virginia McClure. . . .

Joel McCrea's standin and Dolores Del Rio's standin were buried side by side at Hollywood cemetery yesterday in services attended by and financed by McCrea and a few other friends. His standin and pal was Arnold Gray Sundberg. Miss Del Rio's standin was Josephine Ramos. The standins were man and wife. Gray died of heart disease, partly caused by the shock and melancholy when he took his wife on what he knew would be her last journey into the mountains, to a tuberculosis camp last Wednesday. Miss Ramos died shortly afterward of grief. Just before this Hollywood true love story made its pathetic ending, McCrea had bought Gray a new, medically equipped and made to order trailer in which Gray was driving Miss Ramos about the mountain roads and poppy covered foothills on their last days together.

Roscoe [Duffy] Cornell, former city editor and circulation manager for Chicago and Los Angeles newspapers, has been taking screen tests to act in a short reeler about the turning out of a daily newspaper. It's titled "Modern Miracle" and Cornell sold the script to Metro studio.

A trained gray dove, which cocked its head wisely, perched on the finger of its human friends, talked to them, and flapped its wings as if in invitation to fight, was cherished so highly by Lionel Barrymore, who had to work with the bird in "Witch of Timbuctu," that Barrymore bought it from the bird trainer for $100 and took the bird, Pete, home with him. As Barrymore acquired a houn' dog from his earlier picture, "The Voice of Bugle Ann," his household staf is hoping there will be no elephants or sea lions in his next rôle.

BY MARY MEADE.

A cook's blessing on Mrs. A. O. of La Grange, whose recipe for baked pork tenderloin patties is one of the most original and taste-happy combinations we've met in a long while.

This recipe is far too good for us to be stingy with it, so we're passing it along today, quoting Mrs. O. directly.

BAKED PORK TENDERLOIN PATTIES.

"Have your butcher flatten pieces of pork tenderloin into small patties [about a half inch thick when flattened]. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Allow two strips of bacon for each patty. Lay one strip on the other as in forming a 'plus' sign and place patty in the center. Arrange a half inch slice of Spanish onion on each piece of meat and cover the onion with a half inch slice of fresh tomato. Sprinkle with salt, bring the ends of the bacon to the top, and fasten with a woodpin.

"Heat three tablespoons of butter or bacon fat in a heavy skillet. Arrange the patties in the pan, and, when slightly browned on the bottom, cover tightly. Place in a moderate oven and bake one hour. Add half cup of water before placing in the oven if the cover of the skillet is not self-basting. One patty is sufficient per person."

If that doesn't tempt you to forget your previously planned dinner and substitute one featuring baked tenderloin patties—well, you're of stronger will than we! The tender brown pork, with its layered toppings of tomato and onion and its neat bacon-bundled appearance, is one of the most flavorsome and attractive meat dishes we've gloated over in recent weeks—and again thanks to its donor!

While we're on the subject of pork tenderloin here's still another suggestion, a simple and substantial main dish affair. Baked pork tenderloin patties in baked beans, with a crisp mixed salad and a chilled fruit dessert, make a chilly night dinner that the family will devour with approval.

To prepare the main dish have one tenderloin patty prepared for each serving, just as Mrs. O. specified in her recipe. Dredge these with flour and salt and brown on either side in a small amount of hot fat. Then open a large can of baked beans with tomato sauce [this, with six tenderloin servings, serves six generously] into a baking dish or casserole. Lay the browned meat on top of the beans, cover with a half cup of puréed tomatoes, and cover with thin slices of white onion. Cover the casserole and bake for 1½ hours in a moderate oven.

Exposition of Youth Draws 5,000 Attendance at Close

The Exposition of Youth, staged by the National Youth administration at the International Amphitheater, 43d and Halsted streets, closed last night with a musical program. More than five thousand parents and children attended the exposition during the afternoon and evening. Among the groups participating in the concerts were the Paulist choir, the Negro Community singers, and glee clubs from colleges and high schools in the Chicago area. The exposition had been in progress since last Tuesday.

Ruffles Are Dainty Trimming

WOMAN'S AND MISS' FROCK.

Any of the soft cottons is appropriate for this simple one piece summer dress that possesses a wealth of chic by virtue of its trimming. The cool neckline is accented by gathered ruffle frilling which contributes its share of femininity. The same ruffles trim the kimono sleeves and the two dainty pockets. The yoke merely rolls back to form two tiny revers.

Because it is cut in one piece, this dress is simple to make and easy to launder. There are no sleeves or plaits to complicate either sewing or ironing.

The yoke may contrast or match, depending upon the color chosen and your particular preference. The ruffles may be of the material of the frock, or may be of organdy. You may fashion the ruffles yourself, because they are exceedingly simple to make, or you may have them created professionally.

The original of this frock is fashioned of cotton with a linen weave. The shade is sand with an overplaid of brown. Brown handkerchief linen forms the effective contrast for the yoke and ruffling.

Style No. 3030 is designed for sizes 14, 16, and 18 years, and 36, 38, and 40 inches bust measurement. Size 16 requires 2⅞ yards of 35 inch material, with ⅝ yard of 35 inch contrasting.

Holly Leaves.

BY NANCY CABOT.

"Holly Leaves" is one of the younger members of the quilt world, being slightly over 75 years old. The original coverlet was made of red and green printed and plain materials, but the only reminder of the original design is the pattern. Soft pastels now are used instead of the more luminous colors. The entire quilt is composed of these combination pieced and applique blocks, and is finished with a narrow rose binding to match one of the background colors.

Henry C. Bartholomay, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, will serve as best man, and ushering will be Robert Conway, Thomas Dammann, E. Ashley Gerhard Jr., Hamlin Johnston, and Malcolm and John Odell. Mr. Graves and his bride will take a three weeks' wedding trip and will make their home on the north shore, possibly in Winnetka, where her mother, Mrs. Horace K. Tenney, has a home in Pine street. A reception will be held in the Tenney home following the church ceremony.

Red Cross Visitors to Be Welcomed at Reception.

Several of the important social events of the week are parties for the distinguished visitors here for the national convention of the American Red Cross. This is only the third time in the history of this great organization that the convention has been held outside of Washington, D. C., and the first time that it has come to Chicago. The meeting opens today in the Stevens hotel to continue through Thursday.

The delegates are to be welcomed at a reception at 4:30 this afternoon at the Chicago Historical society and at the same time the boys and girls here for the Junior Red Cross convention will be received in the north ballroom of the Stevens. In the absence from the city of Charles B. Pike, Joseph M. Cudahy, and Henry Patten will receive for the historical society and Mrs. Cudahy and Mrs. Frederic W. Upham as co-chairman of the convention committee will receive for the Red Cross.

Tomorrow noon Mrs. August Belmont of New York and Miss Clara D. Noyes of Washington will address a luncheon for nurses observing the birthday of Florence Nightingale. And tomorrow evening Miss Mabel T. Boardman of Washington, who for 35 years has given her service to the Red Cross without compensation, will preside at a dinner in the Stevens. Miss Boardman is secretary of the Red Cross.

Strawns Give Luncheon for Miss Boardman.

Yesterday Mr. and Mrs. Silas H. Strawn entertained at luncheon in their Lake Shore drive apartment for Miss Boardman. Last evening Mr. and Mrs. Cudahy had a large dinner party at the Casino for Admiral and Mrs. Cary T. Grayson of Washington, Miss Boardman, and a number of other Red Cross visitors.

Three young guests at the Cudahy party were Miss Gertrude Laughlin of Washington, daughter of Irwin Boyle Laughlin, former ambassador to Spain; Miss Olivia Stokes, daughter of the Very Rev. Anson Phelps Stokes, dean of the National Cathedral in Washington, and Miss Beatrice Phillips, whose father is Undersecretary of State William Phillips.

Mrs. Edwin W. Ryerson, who is directing press relations for the Red Cross meeting, gave a luncheon Saturday noon in the Stevens.

Garden Club to Start School of Nature Today.

For the next three days nature study will be uppermost in the minds of a number of members of the Garden Club of Illinois. A school of nature will be held under the auspices of the Garden club today, tomorrow, and Wednesday at the Morton arboretum. Donald Peattie, nature writer, will assist the five staf members of the arboretum in giving lectures and conducting field trips.

The Kenwood and North Side Centers of Infant Welfare will hold their annual joint rummage sale today, tomorrow, and Wednesday, at 227 North Michigan avenue. This is one of the most popular of the annual rummage sales, and every spring it nets a tidy sum for infant welfare. Mrs. Eugene S. Talbot Jr. and Mrs. Herbert Mayer are in charge of the sale.

The Church Club of Chicago, an organization exclusively for men, will turn over the program of its annual meeting this evening to a group of Episcopal women. Mrs. Angus Hibbard will preside, and Mrs. Robert B. Gregory, Miss Margot Atkin, Mrs. John N. Van der Vries, and Mrs. Albert Cotsworth will speak. Women of the diocese will be guests.

The Kenwood Social Service club will meet at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon at Mrs. Carl W. Defebaugh's home, 1120 East 50th street.

Cordon Club to Have Italian Program Tonight.

An "Italian Night" has been arranged for members of the Cordon club this evening. Following an Italian dinner at 6:30 o'clock, William E. Vogelback will show motion pictures in color taken by himself.

Friends of Walker Everett will make it a point to see the opening of his exhibit of Chicago water colors at the picture galleries at Marshall Field & Co. from 4 until 6 o'clock this afternoon.

A program of the works of American composers will be presented at the final meeting of the American Opera society at 3 o'clock this afternoon at the apartment of Mr. and Mrs. George Woodruff, 1500 Lake Shore drive. Lucia Diano, operatic soprano, and a protégée of Mr. and Mrs. Woodruff, with Edward Eigenshenk, organist, will present the program.

Great Lakes Girl Scout Sessions to Open Friday

The twelfth annual conference of the Great Lakes region of the Girl Scouts will be held Friday and Saturday at the Palmer house. Mrs. Herbert Hoover, national president, and Mrs. Frederick Edey, national commissioner, are expected to attend the conference.

MRS. ROBERT HARTMAN.
[TRIBUNE Studio Photo.]

Mrs. Robert Hartman is a member of the Chicago Rockford College club, which is sponsoring its second annual antiques exhibit and sale from tomorrow through Saturday at the Woman's club of Evanston. Many dealers will show their choicest glassware, furniture, china, rugs, prints, jewelry, silver, pewter, and quilts, and proceeds from the exhibit will go into a fund for the erection of a recreation and auditorium building at Rockford college. Mrs. John Compton, chairman, and Mrs. Frank Stowell, co-chairman, are in charge of arrangements. Miss Ada Sitterly is chairman of the scholarship committee of Rockford.

According to CULBERTSON

RAISING AN OPENING NO TRUMP BID.

When your partner has opened the bidding with one no trump you should raise him to game immediately when you hold two and a half honor tricks, or two honor tricks with a five card suit headed by the queen or better; or a six card suit headed by one honor trick with a half honor trick outside [one and a half honor tricks in all].

For example, if your partner opens with a bid of one no trump you should bid three no trump if you hold hands such as:

♠ K Q J ♠ 10 5 4
♥ K 9 5 2 ♥ K 6
♦ 6 5 3 2 ♦ 8 7
♣ Q 7 ♣ K Q 7 5 4 2
♠ K Q 7 4 2 ♠ 6 3
♥ Q 6 ♥ A Q 7 3 2
♦ 9 6 3 ♦ 6 4 3
♣ K 7 5 ♣ K 7 4

Ridiculous Conservatism.

The take-out double and its proper responses form one of the most important and least understood departments of bidding. Abuses by either the doubler or the responding hand are deplorably common. Today's hand is typical.

East, dealer.
Neither side vulnerable.

NORTH
♠ Q J 5
♥ A J 9
♦ Q 10 7
♣ K 4 3 2

WEST
♠ 8 6 4 2
♦ 9 5 4 3 2

EAST
♠ A K 10 9 7
♥ K 10 5 4
♦ J
♣ J 9 6

SOUTH
♥ Q 8 7 2
♦ A K 8 6
♣ A Q 7 5

The bidding:

East	South	West	North
1 Spade	Double	Pass	1 N. T.
Pass	Pass	Pass

South's take-out double was not so strong that, on a negative response from his partner, he could see any hope for game. As a matter of fact, he was afraid of a severe penalty should the contract go any higher, inasmuch as he now feared that North's hand consisted largely of spade stoppers.

With two and a half honor tricks and even distribution North made a miserable bid when he responded only one no trump to the take-out double. Since the double itself had advertised about three and a half honor tricks he could, of course, know that the North-South combined hands had a total of approximately six honor tricks which, by the Culbertson "rule of eight," left the opponents with a maximum of about two and a half. Certainly it should have required no great vision on his part to see that a game either in no trump or in South's best suit was a ten to one chance. His one no trump response could have been based on nothing more than two stoppers in the doubled suit, spades. How he could expect his partner to realize that it actually was based on a generally good hand was a mystery that only he could solve.

On a spade opening by East ten tricks were an absolute laydown and, as a matter of fact, reasonably good play would have brought home eleven. After winning the lead South could run four diamonds and four clubs, leaving only four cards in each hand. East would have to guard the heart king and would, therefore, be forced to reduce to two spades, whereupon a spade throw-in play would compel a lead away from his heart king up to declarer's tenace.

TODAY'S QUESTION.

Question: What is the correct opening bid on this hand after three passes, with both sides vulnerable? ♠ A, ♥ 8 6 4, ♦ A 10 7 5 2, ♣ K 4 3 2.

Answer: With poor support for both major suits, and unsuitable distribution for no trump, the two and a half bare honor tricks do not make this hand a good fourth hand opening bid. It should be passed.

Tomorrow's Hand

Head Posture Important in Beauty of Chin

Correct Carriage Usually All That Is Needed.

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

One of those chatterbox arguments arose recently at a feminine gathering. The topic was about which feature one of our sex worries most. The feature that got the most votes as a worry breeder was the throatline, with the extra chin feature stressed.

In the conversation which eventually fastened on chinlines one of the guests revealed how her sister had become a new woman from the shoulders up. The sister is plumpish. A romance inspired her venture in chin remodeling.

Her worry was a flabby roll under her original chin curve. Our woman trotted off to a certain salon where posture is featured and learned that her chin trouble was not due to fat or advancing years. Simply overstretched muscles that sagged out of place because of the wrong head carriage.

The head went up as it never was carried before. She was given a few chin muscle strengthening exercises which she did as one committed to a sacred duty.

But here's what was given a large measure of credit for the quick throat and neckline recovery: Every morning and every evening our friend robbed the ice box of three cubes of ice, hammered them into little pieces inside a thin, worn, old luncheon napkin, and with this cold application over a layer of a good nourishing cream she pressed, smoothed, rubbed over the sagging muscles and in no time was in shape for any neck observation test.

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

For those smart people who want to prevent loss of hair or to stay the falling strands we suggest a new scalp stimulator. We wish we could interest men, in particular, in its virtues.

This stimulator, made of bakelite, looks for all the world like a hair brush, with a handle that permits firm grasp. But instead of bristles it has row on row of firm but resilient rubber teeth, each with a rounded tip. It is not used as a brush is, with a smooth stroke, but is applied directly to the scalp with a vibratory motion. In two minutes with this you can get a stimulating scalp treatment that is invaluable.

Since the blood is the most perfect hair tonic and since this product stimulates circulation quickly and vigorously you can appreciate our enthusiasm for it.

ELEANOR NANGLE.

Message from Pope Read at Jubilee of Rev. M. O'Sullivan

Jubilee ceremonies in observance of the 50th anniversary of the ordination of the Rev. Michael O'Sullivan, pastor of St. Bridget's Catholic church, began yesterday with a solemn high mass sung by Father O'Sullivan.

During the services the Most Rev. William D. O'Brien, auxiliary bishop of Chicago, read a message of felicitation from Pope Pius XI.

In connection with the jubilee there will be a reception tomorrow evening in St. Bridget's parish house and a dinner Wednesday evening in the Hotel Sherman.

Father O'Sullivan was ordained in Waterford, Ireland, in 1886. The same year he came to Chicago.

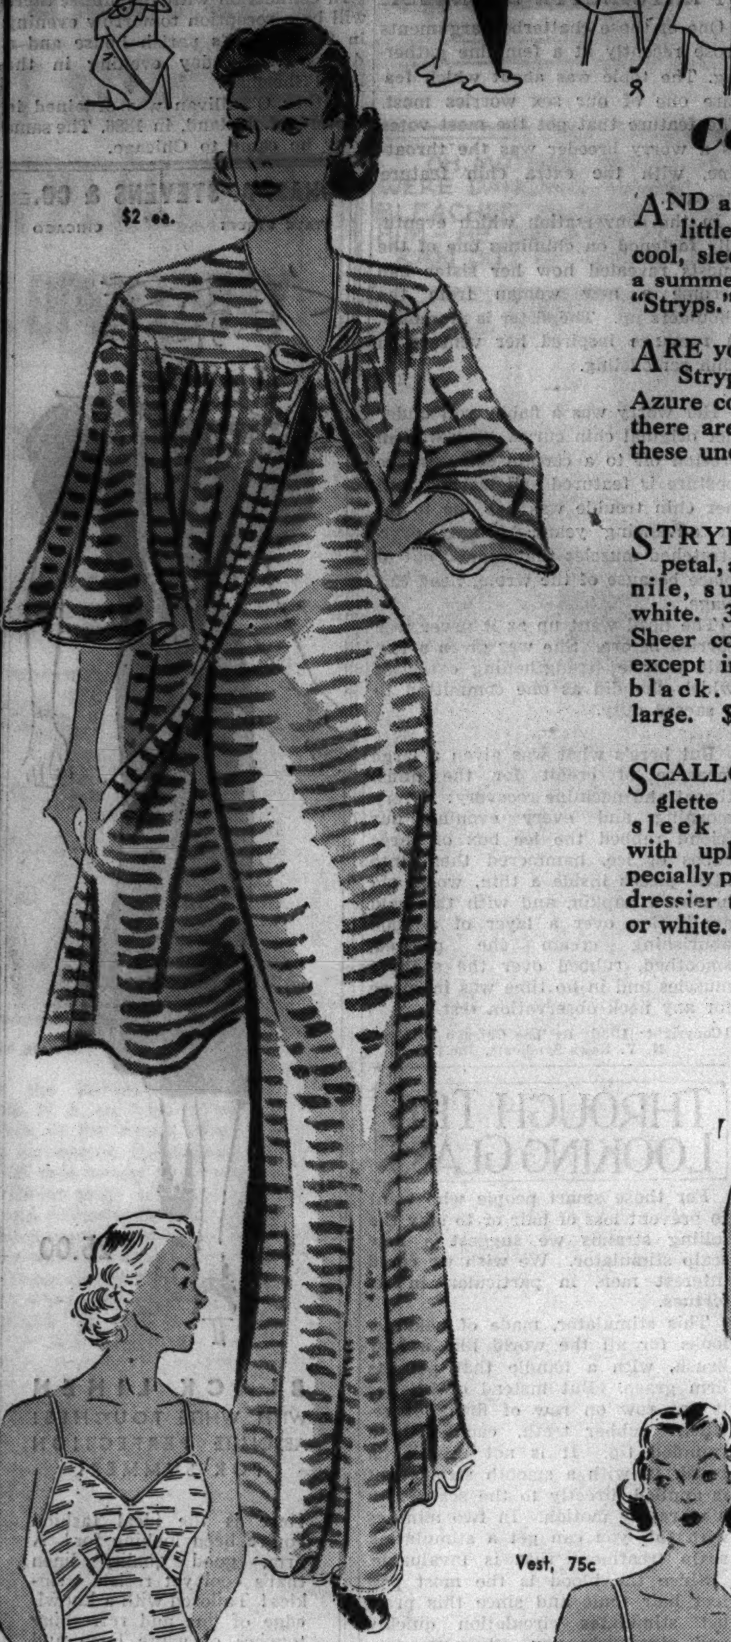
An "Undie" Wardrobe

Complete—by Van Raalte



AND a very important wardrobe this is, too—just look at those little figures above—with so much activity, they have to have cool, sleek undies. We present seven styles for every hour of a summer's day, and all in the popular satiny-striped knit called "Stryps."

ARE you color conscious—if you are, you'll recognize the new Stryps colors. Sun orange is perfect for the tanned wearer. Azure comes from summer skies, nile from the leaf colors, and there are flower colors—maize, petal and orchidee. So, choose these undies for "coolness, comfort or color."

STRYPS slip (left), the merest wisp, yet smooth fitting, panel back and front. Note the colors—navy, black, petal, white. 32 to 42. $2. Stryps Petticoat, three sizes. $1.50.

AT right, scalloped panty in petal and white. Sizes 5 to 7. $1. Sizes 8 and 9, $1.25. Vest in petal only. Sizes 34 to 42. 75c.

GOLF STARS BID FOR PLACES IN U.S. OPEN TODAY

143 Chicagoans Seek 15 Berths.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

HORTON SMITH.

The Chicago golf district's ablest tournament workmen will begin the 1936 season for keeps today, when the local qualifying rounds for the National Open championship will be held over the No. 1 and No 4 courses at Olympia Fields. A total of 143 seekers after the game's No. 1 title, divided among 94 professionals and 49 amateurs, will be battling for the 15 places allotted to Chicago in the title tournament proper, to be decided at the Baltusrol club near Springfield, N. J., on June 4, 5, and 6.

This neck of the woods being the country's stronghold for playing talent, the 36 hole medal play trial at Olympia Fields today will be a show in itself and undoubtedly will attract the largest measure of interest of the 28 centers where similar action will transpire today in the fight for places in the big show. Five Chicagoans—Horton Smith of Oak Park, Dick Metz of the Mill Road farm course, Frank Walsh of Bryn Mawr, Ky Laffoon of Northmoor, and Harry Cooper of Glen Oak—will be exempt from today's test, qualifying automatically by reason of having finished among the first 30 and ties at Oakmont last June.

Two Ex-Champions to Compete.

While this quintet is taking the day off, assured of rôles in the main company, several other troupers who failed to say their lines well enough at Oakmont will be out at Olympia in the 1936 rehersal. Among them are two former champions, Tommy Armour of Medinah, victor in 1927, and Chick Evans, Edgewater amateur, who brought Chicago its last open crown in 1916. With them will be Johnny Revolta, newly come to Evanston and the only double major champion of 1935, during which he took the National Professional and Western Open crowns.

Should Armour, Evans, and Revolta qualify, that will still leave an even dozen places, and Chicago sectional trials for any national event, be it open, amateur, or professional, have proved to be such struggles that they invariably are prolonged into the gloaming in playoff duels for the last place.

Guldahl Is Back Again.

The remainder of today's field guarantees just such a fight once more. Among those present will be Ralph Guldahl, the long Californian who blew a four foot putt on the 72d green to miss tying John Goodman for the 1933 title. Among the Chicago district pros who will be toiling in earnest throughout the day are Jock Hutchison of Glen View, Bob MacDonald of the Riverview fairways, Tony Penna of Itasca, Orville White of Olympia Fields, Jim Foulis of Ruth Lake, Jim Noonan of Burnham Woods, Ren Smith of Oak Park, Eddie Williams of River Forest, Abe Espinosa of Evergreen, Bill Schwartz of Binks Links, George Smith of Onwentsia, Harry Hampton of Beverly, Lew Waldron of Mohawk, and Al Huske and Herb Johnson of Butterfield. The amateur brigade includes Al Andereggen of Big Oaks, Harold Mathisen of Big Run, Win Day of Elmhurst, Don Armstrong of Aurora, John Lehman of Olympia Fields, Charley Smead of Medinah, Art Sweet and Fred Clayton of Oak Park.

The field will be broken into two divisions, one playing the No. 1 course in the morning and No. 4 in the afternoon, with the other reversing the procedure. First to leave the first tee on No. 1 will be Jim Faltus of Lansing and Bill Taylor of Bloomfield Hills, Mich., while Ben Riley of Mount Prospect, Johnny Bulla of Woodridge, and Gene Battastoni, unattached, will be the opening starters on No. 4. All will leave at 8:30 a. m.

1,245 PLAYERS COMPETE

New York, May 10.—(AP)—The business of eliminating golfers who think they are good enough to qualify for the National Open tournament from those who are good enough will be carried on tomorrow on 28 courses all over the country.

Exactly 1,245 players—the largest field in history—will compete for 187 places, and those who remain after tomorrow night will join the 33 exempt players in the final struggle over the Baltusrol, N. J., Golf club course June 4-5-6.

Armour, Revolta Must Qualify.

Among those who must qualify are Lawson Little, world amateur champion and now a professional; Tommy Armour, 1927 open king; Johnny Revolta, the P. G. A. champion and one of the high money winners last winter, and Willie MacFarlane, winner of the title 11 years ago.

Others who must take the test are

ARMY BOXERS.

IT was a source of gratification to The Wake that the United States Army, Hawaii division, qualified a representative for the Golden Gloves Olympic final bouts at Chicago Stadium May 20.

When seven members of the far western team went down in preliminaries and semi-finals it looked as if the 5,000 mile journey might be futile. William Townsend, however, earned the right to meet Carl Vinciquerra of Creighton university for the light heavyweight title, champion to be bearer of Uncle Sam's colors at Berlin.

Boxing is encouraged at army camps. That only one of eight invaders from Hawaii reached the finals is evidence, if any were needed, of the class of Golden Gloves contestants.

This column confesses a predilection for teams from the army and from the service schools at West Point and Annapolis. In regard to Cadets and Middies competing in intercollegiate sports, one feels no doubt of their scholarship eligibility, which The Wake maintains is the real basis of all eligibility. Academy regulations, unusually strict and not subject to alumni sentiment, take care of that.

Any recruiting? Possibly athletic ability at times dictates the nominations of congressmen for places in these schools. It would be natural to assume it did. Yet no appointment is consummated until the candidate has passed stringent scholarship tests. These Cadets and Middies are a pretty fine set of young fellows. We consider at least their share, or a little more than their share, of victories in sports events a good thing for national morale.

Homing.

I know a dear old shabby house,
Unmindfully genteel,
Where foolish pride has never tried
Shabbiness to conceal.
The rooms, serenely dignified,
Are always clean and sweet;
The threadbare patches in the rugs
Seem to soothe my weary feet.
The much used wheezy phonograph
Is standing in the parlor, too;
And I choose the "broken record"
Before any of the new.
There is a lovely garden plot.
Where vines and roses riot;
The crumbling wall and moss-grown walks
Lie beautifully quiet.
A road, weed-bordered, climbs the hill—
O that I had done with roaming!
Back to that old neglected house
My heart has gone a-homing.

Hagen and Hines Defeat Kozak and Grego, 4 and 2

Flushing, N. Y., May 10.—[Special.]—Producing a best ball score of 62, nine under par figures, Walter Hagen and Jimmy Hines, the Long Island champion, today defeated Walter Kozak and Walter Grego, 4 and 2, in an eighteen hole exhibition match at the Bayside Golf club.

PREAKNESS FANS TO LEARN ABOUT CORUNDUM TODAY

Brookmeade Colt Races at Belmont.

Baltimore, Md., May 10.—(AP)—Preakness fans will watch a mile allowance race tomorrow at Belmont Park, where Brookmeade stable's Corundum, talked of as a dark horse, is scheduled to meet four other eligibles for Saturday's classic at Pimlico.

There has not been much upon which to judge this son of Teddy and Star Emerald, but his stable is reported to be strong on him. What he does tomorrow against Belair stud's Merry Pete, Greentree stable's Brush Hood, and C. V. Whitney's Tatterdemalion probably will decide whether he will start in the mile and three-sixteenths Preakness.

Interest in the Preakness began mounting today with a definite statement from Trainer Max Hirsch that Bold Venture would ship either Wednesday or Thursday from New York.

Derby Winner Ready.

The Kentucky Derby winner from the stable of M. L. Schwartz is said to be on edge for Saturday's race. His latest workout of 48 2-5 seconds for a half mile gave further support to the probability he would go to the post a short odds favorite.

Railbirds are looking for something that can beat the son of St. Germans but, backed by his triumph at Churchill Downs, he is a standout so far. Five potential challengers had a tryout at Pimlico yesterday in a mile and a sixteenth test. After Col. E. R. Bradley's colt, Baby Talk, itself ineligible, beat them all to the wire they did not look so good. The best of the five was Walter M. Jeffords' Jean Bart, which finished second to Baby Talk by a head.

Granville Is Popular.

The three horses ranking next to Bold Venture in popular favor at the present are William Woodward's Granville, Col. E. R. Bradley's Bow and Arrow, and Greentree stable's Memory Book. Backers of the Woodward colt, a son of Gallant Fox, expect him to make up for his bad luck at Churchill Downs where he lost his rider in the Derby.

Bow and Arrow, a gelded son of Whichone, has made a lot of friends by his consistent performance in Maryland this spring. Memory Book, rated as a probable starter, is by St. Germans, Bold Venture's sire.

If the track is sloppy Bomar stable's Grand Slam and Brancastle farm's Challephen probably will oppose the Derby champion and will carry considerable backing into the race.

MEXICO OLYMPIC POLO TEAM WINS OVER U. S. ARMY

MEXICO CITY, May 10.—(AP)—Mexico's Olympic polo team outclassed the Eighth corps area team of the United States army to win the second game of their series, 4 to 1, today. The Mexicans won, 5 to 4, last Sunday.

Only Cusak's skillful interception of Capt. Gene McGinley's penalty shot and his conversion in the sixth and final chukker saved the Americans from a shutout.

The Mexicans displayed fine teamwork, following the ball closely and shooting accurately. They scored once in the second chukker, twice in the third, and once in the last. Nava scored twice and Garcia and Muller each once.

Here's a Job; Forecast Climax in U. S. Golden Glove Finals

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Among the eight national Golden Gloves championship bouts at the Chicago Stadium a week from Wednesday, when the greatest amateur battlers in the United States compete for the right to fight in the Olympic games, there will be one match which will stand out over all others. No matter how evenly the contestants are matched, or how fiercely each bout is fought, there always is one contest on every card that eclipses the rest.

Thousands of Golden Gloves fans recall the night five years ago when Don Gonzales won the Golden Gloves featherweight championship in a brilliant extra round fight with Tony Muscarello, after Tony, a Chicago boy who the next year earned a place on the Olympic team, had knocked down Gonzales in the first round.

Remember Thomas vs. Marek?

In the same ring at the Stadium two years ago it was Otis Thomas and Max Marek, when Thomas knocked down Marek in the first round and then barely escaped a knockout himself in the third round. Johnny Barbara of South Bend and Chester Rutecki of Chicago's C. Y. O. put on a smashing, slugging duel, which had the spectators standing and cheering continuously, to climax this year's Golden Gloves finals last March.

Last Friday night Frank Nelson, a bootblack from Davenport, Ia., outfought Detroit's great Milton Shivers and nearly did the same against Jimmy Clark, National A. A. U. champion, to cap a night's fighting that has had no parallel in Chicago's ring history. By that attack, which few suspected Nelson could muster in the face of Shivers' heavy hitting, the Davenport middleweight now is the No. 1 alternate on the United States Olympic team.

These bouts were the standouts in past Golden Gloves tourneys. Now which match do you think will steal the show in the national finals at the Stadium a week from Wednesday? Perhaps it can't be named in advance. The sixteen boys who will fight for United States Golden Gloves titles and the right to box in Olympic bouts in Berlin already have won championships. No tournament ever boasted as many boxers who have proved their superiority so conclusively. They have won their way through a field of eighty-six fighters who qualified from the Army, the National A. A. U., the National Collegiate A. A., and the Chicago Golden Gloves tournaments.

How About Wilson-Brown?

RAIN HOLDS OFF SOX ATTACK ON TAIL-END BROWNS

Whitehead and Mahaffey Pitch Today's Game.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

St. Louis, Mo., May 10.—The St. Louis Browns must wait at least one more day before exposing themselves to their 13th straight defeat. The White Sox simultaneously are awaiting the morrow for a try for their fourth straight victory, which will, when and if attained, lift them to a .500 ranking in the American league standings. The reason for all this nerve-wracking delay—it rained in St. Louis today.

John Whitehead of the Sox and Roy Mahaffey of the Browns will pitch the final of the series here tomorrow in the event the boys decide to battle it out without benefit of customers.

It Really Rains.

The rain today was a soaker, and it will be an easy matter to find the grass too damp in the event it is desired to forego tomorrow's clash until some time when the Browns may be more intriguing to the home folks.

The record of five victories in six games played since the Sox ended their eight game losing streak in New York a week ago yesterday has done much to hearten the lads on the eve of their return to rebuilt Comiskey park. There still is some moaning about the fact the record isn't six straight, for the one game they dropped in the span was one which they should have won with greater ease than any. That was the one in which a 5 to 2 Sox lead over the Athletics, built up on two homers by Zeke Bonura and one by Jimmy Dykes, was frittered away with all manner of inept maneuvers.

Sox Find New Life.

The Sox have been playing peppery as well as skilled baseball recently and if they keep it up should win back any fans who may have faltered during the period they were sloshing around in that losing streak.

They have been succeeding offensively despite the collapse of Dixie Walker in the No. 3 spot. The Birmingham bridegroom has made only one hit, a blooper single in Washington, since he was obtained from the Yankees, with whom he was batting at a .350 clip when he was sold to the Sox. Dixie can't go on forever being as weak at bat as he's been as a White Sox. There's nothing in his records to indicate he's subject to slumps of more than a week's duration. It is planned to keep Dixie in the lineup unless the team starts losing again. Then there will be the usual juggling of forces to seek out power.

Mr. Dykes, It Appears, Pops.

Since it was in these columns that Manager Dykes was prodded a bit for overlooking the second anniversary of his appointment, thus making thirsty members of the Sox party most unhappy, it seems only fitting to mention herein that after the postponement today Mr. Dykes popped. An hour later he was being voted the best manager in baseball and one of the physical marvels of modern athletics.

FRANCE LEADS HOLLAND, 2-1, IN DAVIS CUP MATCH

THE HAGUE, May 10.—(AP)—Jean Borotra, veteran French star, and his younger partner, Marcel Bernard, defeated Hans Timmer and H. Karsten, the Dutch doubles team, 6-1, 6-3, 6-8, 6-2, in their Davis cup match today. The victory gave France a 2 to 1 lead in the second round series, as the teams had divided the opening singles encounters yesterday.

ARGENTINA BEATS GREECE.

ATHENS, May 10.—(AP)—Argentina defeated Greece four matches to one to advance to the third round of European zone Davis cup play today. The winners took both singles matches in the concluding day's play to earn the right to play the winner between Germany and Hungary.

CHICAGO PAIR TAKES DOUBLES BOWLING LEAD

Omaha, Neb., May 10.—(AP)—Two Chicagoans took a one pin lead in the doubles event of the women's international bowling tournament today. The couple, Fritzie Trettin and Dorothy Burmeister, members of the Alberti Jewelers team, shot 1,103 to crowd E. Thomson and J. Sellers of Denver out of first place.

In the team event last night the Alberti Jewelers five lost its championship, getting a 2,501 score, good enough for fifth place.

P. DEAN YIELDS ONLY THREE HITS IN FIVE INNINGS

Rain Ends Game at Start of Sixth.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

PAUL DEAN.

The Cubs had to look at Paul Dean, younger half of the famous pitching family, for only five innings yesterday. That was more than the league champions wanted, but just enough to enable the fire eating Cardinals to officially register a 5 to 1 victory before a deluge broke up a party at which 29,508 spectators were in attendance. It is almost needless to mention that the outcome gave the St. Louis delegates a sweep of the three games series.

What Dizzy's brother did to the Cubs in the bobtailed battle was plenty, and what the Cards did to Tex Carleton, their former mate, was plenty twice over. They lathered him with four hits in the second, scoring three runs and passing up another through an oversight. They hopped him again in the third for a run, and scored another in the fifth and were squaring off to treat Clay Bryant similarly in the sixth when the umpires finally decided to surrender to the elements.

Paul Has Shaky Start.

Now for the details of the mighty offensive the champions put on against Brother Paul. Seemingly he wasn't warmed up in the first inning, and the Cubs pounded his speed for a triple, one double, and enjoyed an error in between. One run scored from this. Neither was Paul's start an indication of his real intentions. He went to work in a serious way in the second inning, and, with one out, Woody English singled to left. English didn't know at the time that he was destined to be the only Cub to get to base on Paul in the last four innings.

The rain came exactly at the instant the third Cub was retired in the fifth, thus making the decision official. Box seat customers and bleacher bugs swarmed to the shelter of the grand stand. Forty-three minutes elapsed before the rain ceased and the ground crew completed the job of removing the tarpaulin. Then the boys went back to work, but only for a few minutes. Rain suddenly descended in a big way, and the umpires gave up.

Good Hitting, but Only One Run.

The Cubs touched off some high powered fireworks in the first inning, but it meant only one run for them. After a fly ball had retired Galan, Herman tripled past third. Klein sailed a drive over the right field wall, but had to swing again because the ball went foul by inches. In his next try he grounded to Mize, but Herman scored on the out. Then Hartnett survived on a fumble by Durocher and managed to get to third on Demaree's two bagger in left. Dean escaped when Cavarretta grounded to S. Martin.

The misery encountered by Carleton in the second began with Mize's harmless looking roller to Herman. Mize beat it for a hit. Gelbert popped out, but Durocher walked. Then the fun really started. Ogrodowski slammed a low liner to right, and Klein, giving a perfect imitation of a dying swan, permitted the ball to roll past him. The official scorer termed it a triple, for which both Ogrodowski and Klein were thankful.

Ball Bounces Past Hack.

While Klein was in pursuit of the ball Mize and Durocher ran around to the plate and Ogrodowski headed for third. As he slid into the bag the ball relayed from Klein by Herman bounced in front of Hack and sailed into the Cub dugout. Ogrodowski picked himself up and strolled home with the third run. Then Dean singled and was forced by King. S. Martin doubled to right and King halted at third. He could have scored easily had he called the turn on the feeble way in which the Cubs handled the throw in. Pepper Martin fouled out to end the inning.

The Cards were after their old pal Carleton again in the third. They restricted themselves to two singles, but the limited effort was worth a run. Medwick led off with a healthy drive to left for a single. He went to second while Mize was being nipped on a high bounder for which Cavarretta had to make one of those heroic one handed leaps. Medwick stepped over to third on Gelbert's infield out and scored on Durocher's single which English knocked down in deep short. The third out was accomplished on three strikes for Ogrodowski.

Pepper Goes Into Action.

Much to the surprise of everybody the Cards didn't exert themselves in the fourth, only three of them batting, but they were on the job again in the fifth. The annoying Pepper Martin hung around the plate until

GOLF'S LEADING TEACHERS JUDGE HONOR STUDENTS

Final Exams in Tribune's School Wednesday.

Graduating exercises of the fourth annual free Tribune Golf school on Wednesday night at the Mid-City club, Grace street and Western avenue, not only will bring together the forty-four best pupils in the regular course of instruction, but with them, as their judges, the greatest collection of professional stars the Chicago district has seen outside of a tournament. Every man, woman, and child who is interested in golf, and an annual average of 250,000 players in these parts testify that more than a few are interested, are invited to attend the judging and exhibition of shots, all of which will be free.

Pupils Report Early!

Each of the forty-four pupils chosen by their instructors are requested to appear near the starter's tee at Mid-City at or before 6:30 o'clock. This is imperative, since the judges will begin naming the final winners at 7 o'clock and each student must be registered and identified by a numbered arm band before that time. Each student also is asked to bring a driver for his or her turn on the judging platform.

A complete list of the forty-four candidates for the prizes offered by THE TRIBUNE and the Olympia Fields Country club will appear in tomorrow's TRIBUNE, and will be repeated Wednesday morning. The prizes include sets of clubs and golf bags awarded by THE TRIBUNE to the winner in each of the four classes.

Here Are the Judges.

Who will judge these pupils, and then give a demonstration of golf shots of every type? Glance at the following list:

Lawson Little, San Francisco—Winner of the British and American amateur crowns the last two years, only player ever to win both two years in succession. Lawson recently turned professional to promote the game by instructive exhibitions.

Horton Smith, Oak Park—Winner of the recent Masters' tournament for the second time in three years, now in the midst of one of his best competitive seasons, and staunch apostle of group instruction.

Jimmy Thomson, California—Runner-up in the 1935 United States open championship, and accepted as the game's longest driver.

Tommy Armour, Medinah—Winner of every major title a professional can play for, and the man credited by Little with putting the finishing touches to the Californian's game which sent him on to four amateur crowns.

Tom Walsh, Westgate Valley—The prime mover in THE TRIBUNE school for four years, who will act as master of ceremonies Wednesday night.

Maccabees, Sparta Win Soccer Games

The Maccabees defeated the Norwegian Americans of the International league, 2 to 0, and Sparta Garden City beat the Viennas of the same league, 3 to 1, in Peel cup matches yesterday. Both matches were cut short by rain.

Molvie scored both of the Maccabees' goals, the first after 35 minutes of play in the first half and the second shortly after the start of the final period. Mattson of the Norwegian team missed an open goal late in the game.

Sparta ran up a 3 to 0 lead on the Viennas in the first half, playing with a strong wind at its back. Rezik scored twice and Monroe once. Trimmell booted in a goal for the Viennas in the second period while his team had the wind advantage. The Sparta total was kept down because of outstanding work by Flandler, Vienna goal tender. Fireman Wins 135 Mile Boat Race on Hudson

New York, May 10.—(AP)—Clayton Bishop, 35 year old deputy fire chief from Onset, Mass., today won the Albany to New York outboard motor boat race. Bishop, driving a class B boat, covered the 135 miles in three hours, thirty-seven minutes, and fifty-five seconds for an average speed of 37.17 miles an hour. Boats starting in the race numbered 104.

Sammy Crooks, from Rumson, N. J., placed second, in three hours, forty-eight minutes, and eighteen seconds. He also drove a class B boat, and averaged 35.479 miles an hour.

Jack Scarborough, Dartmouth sophomore, from Austin, Texas, was third. Scarborough, the first amateur to finish, was third at four hours, eight minutes, and nineteen seconds.

Kenneth Mackenzie of New Haven, Conn., second three years ago, came in fourth. He drove one of the larger boats in class F. His elapsed time, three hours, thirty-seven minutes, and three seconds, was the fastest of the first five finishers but his handicap was greater. Gene Hines, amateur, finished in three hours, forty-seven minutes, and nineteen seconds with a class C boat.

Gar Wood Jr., son of the famous speed boat driver, had victory in sight until about four miles from the finish line, when his engine broke down. Wood's father followed him along the course in an amphibian plane.

Mrs. Katherine Grippen, Saratoga Springs, the only woman entry, started twice but was forced by motor trouble to give up after covering a mile on each attempt, while her husband, George Grippen, also experienced motor trouble.

Tonight's Shows

Boxing shows will be offered in three sections of the city tonight.

A series of professional bouts, topped by an eight rounder involving Edwin Waling, Detroit featherweight, who has won twenty-two consecutive fights, and Dave Barry, Springfield, Ill., are booked at Marigold Gardens, Broadway and Grace street.

Other programs will be comprised of amateur boxers at Madison Athletic club, 4711 Madison street, and the Coulon gymnasium, 1154 East 63d street. Rolla Taylor, St. Louis welterweight prospect, will be opposed by Clarence Lane in a five round headliner at the Madison club. The feature attractions at the Coulon gym will involve Frankie Rimkus and Pete Polis at 138 pounds, and Herman Vanderplow and Virgil McGinnis at 150.

George Dungey, Bloomington, Ill., welterweight, 1933, 1934, and 1935 sectional Golden Gloves champion, will meet Ken Murray of Northwest gymnasium in a six round semi-final at the Marigold arena. Dungey is undefeated since turning professional in February.

Other matches there bring together Tommy Cross and Tony Muscarello, junior lightweights; Sammy Verse and Tony Capone, junior welterweights, and Georgie Trapp and Mickey O'Shea, welterweights, each at four rounds.

In addition to the fights a wrestling card will be offered tonight at White City, 63d street and South Park avenue. Promoter Joe Coffey has arranged encounters between Stanley Buresch and Mike Kilonis, and Johnny Silvy and Jose Manuel. Performers in supplementary bouts are Whitey Walberg and Babe Kasaboski, Lefty Pacer and Eddie Snyder, and George Mack and Dan Morrison.

An amateur fight card will be presented at Marigold Gardens Thursday. . . . Walter Roxy, former light heavyweight wrestling title claimant, signed to appear in the windup bout at Arcadia Gardens Wednesday.

What Pale, Weak Nervous, Skinny, Men Need!
It's Glands Starving for Iodine that Keep Folks Rundown and Skinny!
Wake Up Weakened Weight and Strength-Building GLANDS with NATURAL IODINE—Add Husky New Lbs. Tireless Energy.
Kelpamalt, the new natural mineral concentrate from the sea—richest source of NATURAL IODINE—gets right down and corrects the real, underlying cause of weakness, skinniness, and nervous, rundown conditions—IODINE STARVED GLANDS. When these glands don't work properly all the food in the world can't help you. It just isn't turned into flesh. The result is you stay weak and nervous, tired out and skinny.
The most important gland — the one which actually controls body weight — needs a definite ration of iodine all the time — natural assimilable iodine (not to be confused with chemical iodides which often prove toxic). Only when the system gets an adequate supply of iodine can you regulate metabolism — the body's process of converting digested foods into firm flesh, new strength and energy. Kelpamalt contains 1300 times more iodine than oysters, once considered the best source.
Try KELPAMALT for one week. Notice how much better you feel, sleep and eat—watch at least five husky new pounds appear, increased strength and energy! Freedom from nervousness. Results absolutely guaranteed or the trial is free.

RED SOX DROP FROM LEAD; LOSE TO SENATORS, 4-0

Washington Snaps Grove Five Game Streak.

Washington, D. C., May 10.—(AP)—Lefty Grove got a taste of his own medicine today as Washington knocked him off the mound, ended his five game winning streak, and shut out Boston, 4 to 0. About 25,000 saw the Red Sox pushed out of first place in the American league.

Grove, who pitched three shutouts in winning five games to lead the league's pitchers, was hit heavily from the start. The Senators pounded him for seven hits and four runs in three and one-third innings. Welch gave up one hit and Ostermueller one. Ostermueller turned in a fine performance, striking out a half dozen, but the damage already had been done. Score:

New York, May 10.—(AP)—The New York Yankees defeated the Philadelphia Athletics, 7 to 2, today before the second largest crowd of the season, 32,034, with Joe Di Maggio and Bill Dickey each hitting a homer.

Johnny Murphy, making his first start for the Yankees, failed to go the route. He yielded only four hits in the 7⅔ innings he worked, but he passed seven and had to be relieved by Pat Malone who retired the last four batters to give the Yankees the series, two games to one.

INDIANS, 9; TIGERS, 7.

Detroit, Mich., May 10.—(AP)—The Cleveland Indians scored twice in the 15th inning on a walk, a triple, and a single, to break up the longest game played here this season and won, 9 to 7, today to even the series with the champion Detroit Tigers.

The Indians' outburst spoiled a fine stretch of relief pitching by Joe Sullivan. Stepping to the mound with one out in the second after Auker had given up six hits and five runs, Sullivan thrilled a crowd of 33,000 by limiting the Indians to two runs in the next twelve innings.

He weakened in the 15th to walk Vosmik and permit Hughes to bounce a triple off the center field wall. When Pytlak singled Hughes home, Chad Kimsey went in and prevented further scoring. Score:

Giants Beat Phils, 6-2, in 12 Hit Attack

Philadelphia, Pa., May 10.—(AP)—Hal Schumacher was pounded for ten hits and two runs by the Phillies today, but his mates hammered Bowman and Tom Zachary for six runs in the first two innings to give the New York Giants a 6 to 2 victory before 12,000.

Terry, Leiber, Schumacher, and Jackson led the Giants' 12 hit assault with two each, while Johnny Moore of the Phillies had a perfect day at bat with four hits in four times at bat against Schumacher.

BEES, 5; DODGERS, 4.

Boston, Mass., May 10.—(AP)—The Boston Bees climbed from the National league cellar to sixth place today by defeating the Brooklyn Dodgers, 5 to 4, in twelve innings.

The winning run crossed the plate with one out when Wally Berger scratched a single to Stripp, went to second base on the latter's high throw to first, and scored on Tony Cuccinello's single.

The game took 3 hours and 23 minutes to play as Brooklyn paraded four pitchers to the mound and made four errors, while the Bees made five miscues. Score:

Detroit Wins Only 1 Game During Week

New York, May 10.—(AP)—The turn of fortune of the Detroit Tigers is forcibly reflected in the records of the last week's games which show that the once mighty men of Cochrane were able to notch only one victory in five contests.

The Tigers' record was poorer than that of any team except the St. Louis Browns, the dark horse team of the American circuit. The Browns lost all four of their contests.

The Tigers lost a heartbreaker today to the Cleveland Indians in 15 innings, but their collection of hits, runs, and home runs considerably brightened records that otherwise paint the Detroiters as being pretty weak with the bat. Owen got two homers and Simmons one today to raise the team's home run total for the week to four.

Yankees, Indians Best.

The Yankees and the Indians showed the best results for the week in the American League with five victories and one defeat each. The St. Louis Cards, leading the National League race, had five victories and two defeats, the Pirates four victories and two losses. The Boston Red Sox were in third place for the week in the American, having won four and lost two games.

The Cards scored only eight runs more than their opponents in winning their five out of seven games. They sent 32 runs across the plate with the aid of 60 hits, five of which were homers. The Phillies had a bad week of it, dropping four out of five games. They were charged with an even dozen errors.

Bees Break Even.

The Boston Bees, playing in only six games, half of which they won, amassed the best hit total in the National circuit. The Bees collected 65 hits for 27 runs. They were charged with 11 errors. The standings for the week, including games through Sunday and giving games won and lost, runs, hits, errors, opponents' runs, and home runs:

FRANKLIN UNION WINS, 4-3, OVER BLUE ISLAND

Franklin Union No. 4 defeated the Blue Island Athletics, 4 to 3, in a ten inning Midwest league baseball game at Blue Island yesterday.

In other Midwest games, De Cola-Maruca whipped the Zintak Clerks, 6 to 3, in a five inning game and the De Young Fuels beat the St. Cyrils, 4 to 3, in five innings. Both games were halted because of rain.

Zabala Sets Argentine Mark Winning Marathon

WITTENBERG, Germany, May 10.—(AP)—Juan Carlos Zabala, Argentina's Olympic marathon runner, won a 10,000 meter race today in 31 minutes 2.4 seconds, establishing a new record for Argentine runners. His effort to establish a world record failed by nearly a minute to equal Paavo Nurmi's mark. Bertsch of Germany was second in 32:49 and Cohn, Germany, third in 32:51.

Mills Lose Opener, 6-5, to Spencers

The Mills' rally fell short in the opening game of the semi-pro season yesterday and lost, 6 to 5, to the Spencer Coals at Mills stadium. The second game of the double header was rained out.

Both hurlers, Bill Holabird of the Mills and Pete Beam of the Coals, held the batters in check for five innings. In the sixth the Coals pounded the Mills right-hander off the mound by scoring three runs. Gordon McNaughton relieved him.

The Mills had men on second and third base when Ray Doell rolled out for the final out in the ninth inning.

WOMAN SEEKS RECORD TODAY FOR COACH RUN

New York, May 10.—(AP)—An attempt to break a 26 year old coaching record will begin tomorrow morning when Mrs. Florence Evans Dibble, Newburyport, Mass., leaves here for the Atlantic City horse show in a 2,400 pound cream and red coach.

Well known trotters in three teams of four and a cock horse to help up hills will be driven by Mrs. Dibble. The coach is The Valiant, built by the late William Tiffany in the '90s.

The record of 12 hours 18 minutes was established with the use of 64 horses by Paul Sorg, tobacco millionaire, in a 134 mile drive from here to the Atlantic City horse show in 1910. Only actual traveling time will be counted. The trip is expected to end some time Tuesday.

Mrs. Dibble will carry a message of good wishes for the horse show from Mayor F. H. La Guardia to Mayor Charles D. White of Atlantic City. La Guardia wrote, "I hope The Valiant succeeds in breaking the record for that spells progress."

Cubs Leave on Eastern Trip; Meet Giants 1st

The Cubs departed last evening for New York, where they'll arrive this afternoon preparatory to opening a three game series with their old enemies, the Giants, tomorrow. The champions will not be back home until May 26, when they will meet the Cincinnati Reds.

Clyde Shoun, the kid southpaw whose release to the Birmingham, Ala., team was held up because of the injury to Bill Lee's right foot, started in the direction of his new home last night. He can be recalled on forty-eight hours' notice. Shoun's departure brings the Cubs' roster down to the twenty-three mark.

Unless there is a marked improvement in the pitching during the next few days, Manager Grimm intends to give Clay Bryant a starting assignment. Thus far the tall fellow, who has lots of speed but none too much control, has been confined to relief work.

Three of the Cardinal regulars were absent for one reason or another. Center Fielder Terry Moore still is nursing a bruised knee; Frankie Frisch, the managing second baseman, was giving his bum leg another rest, and Catcher Virgil Davis was confined to the bench by a thumb injury.

Except for the first day, Woody English has hit safely in every game he has played since Bill Jurges was injured, hence there is no reason for concern over the length of the regular shortstop's vacation.

CARDINALS BEAT CUBS AGAIN, 5-1; RAIN STOPS GAME

awarded a pass. Medwick singled past Herman on a hit and run play and Martin didn't quit sprinting until he had reached third. Mize slapped a fly to Klein and the latter's throw to the plate didn't even come close to catching the wild Pepper, who made it 5 to 1. Carleton was able to set down the next two fellows.

Umpires Realize It's Raining.

After Bryant had walked Ogrodowski to start the sixth, the umpires called time and the 43 minute delay ensued. With the resumption of play, Dean bunted to Cavarretta, who threw to second too late to catch Ogrodowski. With the field gradually turning into miniature lakes, King also bunted, but Bryant grabbed it on the fly with his gloved hand and, although falling as he turned, he managed to get the ball to English in time to double Ogrodowski off second. S. Martin tapped to Herman, who fumbled. This happening convinced the umpires that it really was pouring, so they called off the show.

YOUNG JOCKIES GIVE VETERANS RIDING LESSON

Aurora Boys Forget Rough Stuff and Fouls.

BY FRENCH LANE.

Those infant jockies—the Chojnackis, the Ruckuses, the Hauers, the Barnetts, the Simpsons, etc.—who are doing so much of the riding at Aurora this spring, had better be careful or they'll all get top grades in deportment.

This situation is quite rare. Usually, when a lot of kid riders get together in a race which engages a large field of selling platers, enough mistakes are made and such an abundance of rough riding develops that the hair on more than one horse player turns gray during the running of a single program.

They Ride Right.

Such a state of affairs hasn't existed even once at Aurora during the first eight days of the meeting. Some of those 'teen age kids have staged stretch rides that would do credit to the best jockies in the business.

This may be due to the fact that Christopher J. Fitzgerald, steward representing the racing commission, gives the lads a bit of advice two or three times each afternoon and sandwiches in a warning or two with each friendly lecture.

Or it might also be due to the fact that these lads are an exceptionally alert lot and that they are the best prospects to gather at one track in several seasons.

Warning to Boys.

At any rate so far they've been good boys and I'm going to stick to my story until a couple of them get left at the post on odds on favorites or go to sleep near the finish and I lose a bet on a horse that should have won.

And more about rough riding.

The stewards at Pimlico where the Preakness is to be run next Saturday afternoon are not going to wait until after the race is over to call the jockies in on the carpet.

They are going to hold a star chamber session with the riders shortly before the horses go to the post and among other points they are going to make clear, is that foul riding will not be evened up by suspensions. There will be disqualifications, if justified, regardless of the importance of the race.

11 Sprinters Meet Today in Belmont Stake

New York, May 10.—(AP)—Thoroughbred racing in the metropolitan area shifts into high tomorrow when Belmont Park opens its spring meeting with the Toboggan handicap as the chief attraction.

The Toboggan, a dash of six furlongs down the Widener straightaway, will be the first of a series of rich stakes designed to bring together the sport's leading performers.

Three year olds, including Bold Venture and Brevity, which finished one, two in the Kentucky Derby, will renew their argument in the Withers mile, May 30, and the $50,000 Belmont stakes, June 6. The older horses will test their speed and stamina in the historic Suburban handicap and Metropolitan mile while the 2 year olds will battle it out in the Juvenile and National Stallion stakes.

Clang Holds World Record.

Although the Toboggan only has a $3,000 added value, it has drawn eleven great sprinters, including George D. Widener's weight carrier, Sation, and J. F. Clark Jr.'s Clang, holder of the world record of 1:09 1-5 for three-quarters of a mile.

Sation has been assigned top weight of 135 pounds, but the big 6 year old gelding won with as much as 140 in the saddle last year. He probably will be the favorite. Clang, making his eastern debut after racing sensationally in the midwest last year, gets in with 113.

Whopper to Run.

The field includes horses capable of whipping Sation or Clang, however. The overnight entries list Hal Price Headley's Whopper, making his first start following a successful winter campaign; Mrs. John Hay Whitney's Singing Wood, a consistent winner at Santa Anita and in Maryland; Marshall Field's Tintagel, winner of the Belmont Futurity over the same course last year; Identify and Postage Due from A. G. Vanderbilt's barn, Mrs. Payne Whitney's Plat Eye, Mrs. Dodge Sloane's Psychic Bid, and Clocks, and Deering Howe's Nautch.

U. S. EQUESTRIAN TEAM TO APPEAR IN EAST EXHIBIT

New York, May 10.—(AP)—The Olympic equestrian team, made up of the leading army riders of this country, will go through their paces in a pre-Olympic exhibition at the Blind Brook Turf and Polo club, June 7, it was announced today.

It will be the only metropolitan appearance of the team, which will sail for Europe June 10. Although they have exhibited in the west and midwest, the army riders never have put on a show in the east, except when Maj. Hiram Tuttle displayed his dressage horses at the national horse show last autumn. In addition to Tuttle, Maj. W. B. Bradford, Capts. C. C. Jadwin and C. W. Raguse and other members of the team have ridden in the national show.

The Olympic exhibition will give American spectators their first view of the Olympic type of course, including the high jumps and the formidable bank jump, which is popular in Europe.

WOMEN SWIM STARS IN BENEFIT MEET THURSDAY

A program of races by members of the Lake Shore Athletic club's national A. A. U. women's championship swimming team was announced yesterday by Coach Stanley Brauninger, as a special feature of the benefit water circus to be staged in the club's pool Thursday night to raise funds to finance participation in the Olympic trials.

A 200 meter breast stroke race between Crystal Diete and Dorothy Schiller, both of whom are strong contenders for a place on the Olympic team, will headline the program. Both Miss Diete and Miss Schiller broke the world's record for the 100 yard breast stroke when they finished second and third, respectively, at the national meet here last month, forcing Katherine Rawls to a new record to hold first place.

Margie Smith, University of Chicago back stroke star also will compete. The free style event will include Marlis Lapin, Muriel Berndt, Emma Schemaitis, Jackie Nicholson, and Betty Betz.

HERE'S A JOB! PICK GOLDEN GLOVES CLIMAX

Finals of U. S. Meet Are Eight Windups.

ship as the one best fight of the evening's program. Chicago fans should like this bout. They saw Jackie Wilson of Cleveland win the Golden Gloves 112 pound title last March. Wilson has won six tournaments in nine months. The last time he was defeated was in November, 1935. Brown is Chicago's Golden Gloves bantamweight champion. Both Wilson and Brown won their intercity bouts in New York.

Without question Wilson and Brown are the two best bantamweights in America. They have beaten back all opposition and the winner at the Stadium, May 20, undoubtedly will be one of Uncle Sam's favorites to capture an Olympic title.

Wilson's tremendous height advantage has been entirely too much for his flyweight opponents. Now that he has stepped up to the 118 pound class the advantage doesn't mean quite as much. William Joyce of Gary, Ind., the National A. A. U. 118 pound champion, gave Jackie a real fight in the semi-finals at the International amphitheater last week.

Don't Overlook Kara.

Brown thinks he can whip Wilson, and so does Paddy Kane, Catholic Youth Organization coach, who is a member of the Golden Gloves staf. It will not be an easy task for either and quite likely it will be one of the major battles in the finals.

In the next weight class, 126 pound division, Ted Kara, Golden Gloves champion, will meet Joey Church, the Batavia, N. Y., lad who hitch hiked to Cleveland and there won the National A. A. U. title. Kara did not compete in the Cleveland tournament, for he already had qualified for the United States Olympic tournament as Golden Gloves champion.

Kara may have an advantage. He fought an exceedingly clever bout in defeating Lou Gevinson of Washington, D. C., in the semi-finals last week. Gevinson has a terrific punch and being a southpaw he might have assumed he had an advantage, but Kara fought carefully, stayed clear of Lou's left hand, and outfought him in close to gain a unanimous decision.

There is every requirement for a bangup climax to the finals in the lightweight bout between Andy Scrivani of Chicago and Tommy Tedesco, Niagara Falls, N. Y., who holds the Niagara district championship and the Buffalo Golden Gloves title. Scrivani is 1935 Golden Gloves champion and this year, although beaten for the Golden Gloves championship, he won his intercity match in New York. Tedesco is a clever boxer, fast with either hand, and a worthy opponent for Scrivani.

Howell King of Detroit, who conquered Johnny Barbara after Barbara had beaten Leo Sweeney, Pittsburgh's National A. A. U. champion, meets Chester Rutecki of Chicago, for the welterweight championship. This is another slam bang battle that might easily steal the show.

The middleweight championship lies between Jimmy Clark, the knocker-out from Jamestown, N. Y., National A. A. U. champion by virtue of five consecutive knockouts, and Ord Fink of Syracuse university, the National Collegiate champion. Fink cannot punch like Clark, but he is faster and more clever.

Eight Bouts! Eight Climaxes.

Bill Townsend of the Hawaiian department of the United States army, and Carl Vinciquerra, Creighton university, are the contestants for the light heavyweight title. Carl is the Chicago Golden Gloves champion. Townsend is the only army man to reach the finals in the national Golden Gloves Olympic tournament. The heavyweikht finalists are Arthur Oliver, an intercity Golden Gloves champion, and Willis Johnson of Detroit, a rugged, savage fighter who already has announced he will whip Oliver just as he whipped Jim Brown of Syracuse university and Joe Kempneger of Kansas City.

Eight great bouts. Each will be three rounds of three minutes each. But the Climax? It may come anywhere along the line. Where, however, defies definite prediction.

The program will be preceded by introductory bouts starting at 8:30. Excellent seats remain at five prices, 55 cents, $1.10, $1.65, $2.20, and $3.30. Tickets may be purchased at the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street and in the lobby of the Tribune Tower. They may be ordered by mail from the Golden Gloves Tickets Manager, Tribune Tower, or by telephone. Call Superior 0100, and ask for Golden Gloves tickets.

Tickets for the national Golden Gloves championships bouts are on sale only at these places. No agency or outside dealer is authorized to sell them.

New York Woman Leads in Olympic Gymnastics Trials

Philadelphia, Pa., May 10.—(AP)—Mrs. Thera Steppich, Flushing, N. Y., all around national champion, scored 195.6 points to lead 28 contenders for the eight places on the American team in the first women's Olympic gymnastics competition in the history of the international games. Regima Sonnenleiter, Chicago, 187.1, was fifth. The eight alternates included Fannie Horschke, Chicago, 174.4, eleventh, and Geraldine Krizenecky, Chicago, 168.5, sixteenth. Other finishers included May Konecny, Chicago, 126.3.

Army Units to Battle Friday for Boxing Trophy

The first annual boxing meet between the 122d field artillery and the 131st infantry will be held Friday night at the 131st armory, 16th street and Michigan avenue. Ten bouts at all weights comprise the card, with the winning unit receiving the Sanborn-Foreman trophy. This award will go annually to the successful regiment.

STOCK PRICES GAIN A LITTLE IN DULL TRADE

Market Feels Way in Fog of Doubt.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, May 10.—Having recovered a little more than one-third of the losses it suffered on the April decline, the stock market has lapsed for the time being into a state of inactivity. Volume fell off last Friday to around 780,000 shares, the smallest turnover since July, 1935, and yesterday's turnover of 341,610 shares had to go back to June 29 for a duplicate. The week's sales total of 5,502,880 was the smallest in eleven months.

Brokerage house commentators were able to find ample precedent for the theory that the dullness would put a period to the decline which by the end of April had begun to be referred to as a major reaction. Such stalemates, it was shown, often mark the termination of a positive, vigorous price movement on the exchange either upward or downward.

Averages Show Gain.

The combined averages closed yesterday at 117.75, against their low for the decline of 112.07 recorded on April 30, and their high for the preceding 13 months' advance of 126 achieved on April 6. The index showed improvement on four of the six trading sessions of last week, but the net gain of the period amounted to only a little more than a point. The resistance to selling shown by the list after its brisk rebound late in the preceding week, however, was a source of no little encouragement to forces operating for the rise and served to put an effectual damper on boardroom predictions of a further recession of importance.

Observers are pretty well agreed at the moment that the market seems to be feeling its way in a fog of uncertainty over the effects of the oncoming presidential election and the pending program of New Deal legislation.

Business Reports Encouraging.

Business activity of market import remains about what it was the week before and in the weeks preceding. The steel industry reported a slight lowering of activity, but that had been anticipated and the present rate of output is still much above that of a year ago. Retail business continues fairly active. Railroad traffic on the latest reports, covering a week ago, rose sharply over last year and was better than in the preceding week. Some higher dividends were voted by big corporations, General Motors among them, and automobile sales showed a healthy increase. Automobile tire companies advanced their prices for the first time since well back in 1935.

British Cotton Report Tells of Aid by U. S.

BY DAVID DARRAH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, May 10.—How British empire cotton production has expanded while the United States subsidized its farmers to curtail their output is illustrated in the annual report of the British Cotton Growers' association which has just been released.

The report places 1935 production, excluding India, at 699,100 bales, as compared with 555,700 bales in the previous season, and 467,900 bales in 1929. Indian production this season is estimated at 5,679,000 bales on 25,025,000 acres under cultivation. Last year 23,830,000 under cotton cultivation in India yielded a crop of 4,807,000.

The detailed production figures contained in the report show that 1935 production increased in nearly all parts of the empire. The 1935 output of the Gold Coast and Nigeria, in west Africa, was 59,200 bales, as compared with 30,800 in 1929. East, Central and South Africa produced 342,100 bales, as compared with 251,800 in 1929; Sudan, 272,300 bales, as compared with 170,000, and Australia, 17,700 bales, against 6,000.

Outlook Is Bright.

The outlook for the cotton production in the British possessions in the West Indies is described as the brightest in many years. Surplus stocks remaining from previous years are said to have been used up.

Cotton has become a well established industry in Kenya, the report adds. Exports last season rose to 7,706 bales from 6,020 bales in 1934. Uganda, however, with a larger acreage in 1935, reported a decline of 11 per cent in the export of lint cotton as compared with 1934.

A "plant more cotton" campaign in Tanganyika brought impressive results. Production in 1935 reached 57,604 bales, as compared with 39,000 in the preceding year, and exports set a record at 55,887, as compared with 36,620.

Increase in Africa.

A slight increase in 1935 production was shown for the Union of South Africa. Output last season was 2,967, against 2,439 in 1934.

"During the greater part of the year under review," the report said, "a good deal of uncertainty existed due to the obscure position regarding cotton in the United States, and it is difficult to apprehend how this anxiety can be relieved until large stocks of cotton withheld from market are absorbed by trade interests.

"There also has been a lack of interest among traders due to many difficulties and doubts with regard to world events, and the general tendency has been to await developments."

Dairy Farmers' Income Shows $24,000,000 Gain

New York, May 10.—(AP)—Dairy farmers' cash income for the first three months this year shows an increase of $24,000,000 over the corresponding period a year ago, the Milk Industry Foundation announced tonight. The foundation reported that, as the largest single source of farm income, milk put $323,000,000 in farmers' pocketbooks during January, February, and March—a new high since 1932.

STEEL DEMAND EASES; NO SHARP DROP EXPECTED

Auto, Rail Buying Are Mainstay.

The demand for steel is declining slowly, but automobile and railroad requirements continue to lead a broad and active market and no sharp drop is expected in the near future, according to the magazine Steel, which in its current issue estimates ingot output last week at 68½ per cent of plant capacity, off 1 point.

As long as new commitments by these interests, in addition to those for agricultural, container, and household equipment manufacturers, remain near present levels there is little likelihood that the steel ingot rate will move very far below the present high level.

Little Letdown Expected.

The consensus in the industry is that a fairly high rate can be counted upon until midsummer, the journal says. Automobile manufacturers anticipate their steel purchases for June will equal the tonnage shipped to them this month.

Railroads last week made inquiries about 5,800 additional freight cars, and approximately 135,000 tons of rolled steel will be required for the 11,700 cars now active in the market. The carriers have authorized 25,000 freight cars, which are yet to be purchased, and steel makers expect that demand for car material will be heavier in the last half of this year than in the first.

Large Industrial Projects.

Large industrial construction projects promise to develop considerable demand for structural steel and pipe this summer and fall, the magazine reports. Among these are $6,000,000 in plant expansion for Continental Can company, $7,000,000 for Container Corporation of America, and $1,500,000 for Socony-Vacuum corporation. Of $42,500,000 appropriated by Standard Oil Company of Indiana for modernization this year, $3,500,000 will be spent for pipe lines. Also Shell Oil company will spend $4,000,000 at Houston, Tex.

District Operations Shown.

Steel mill operations at Pittsburgh last week declined 1 point to 62 per cent, while Cleveland dropped 4 to 75½, Detroit, 6 points to 94 per cent, and Youngstown, 2 points to 76 per cent. Buffalo advanced 3 points to 73 per cent, while other districts were unchanged.

The end of the Italo-Ethiopian war has brought a decline in demand for scrap for export, as both Italy and England, which were buying heavily for several months, are now virtually out of the market.

A decline of 38 cents has reduced the journal's scrap composite to $13.54 a ton, and the iron and steel composite is off 4 cents at $32.96 a ton, due to the drop in scrap, while the finished steel index remains at $52.20 a ton.

Estimates Vary Widely on Size of Wheat Crop

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

Although the winter wheat crop is nearing harvest time the size of the crop remains a matter of widely varying estimates. It is questionable whether any surplus of consequence will be available for export. Fluctuations in prices of new crop futures in the last month have charted the changing crop prospects. The decidedly unfavorable outlook in mid-April has changed and now there appears to be a fair prospect for a good crop.

The long awaited rains, which began late in April and have continued this month, have given the crop a new lease on life in many parts of the producing belt. In those sections of the southwest where the drouth was most severe the harvest return will be meager, according to most appraisers, regardless of weather conditions until harvest.

Large Acreage Abandoned.

The largest acreage abandonment has occurred in the hard winter wheat section of the southwest, western Kansas and Nebraska, Oklahoma and Texas. The private estimates, based on May 1 conditions, suggested a return for the four states of 206,000,000 bushels, or 14,000,000 bushels less than forecast by the government a month earlier.

Despite the rains in eastern and central Kansas recently some appraisers have been pessimistic about the crop because of hot weather.

News from the northwestern states suggests that the seeding of the spring wheat crop is making rapid progress. Over the whole area, however, planting operations are said to be about 10 days later than in normal years.

European Crop News Conflicting.

The current wheat crop news from western Europe is unfavorable. The crops in France, Spain, Portugal and Italy, according to present indications, will fall below domestic requirements. Some estimates suggest the Italian crop will be 30 per cent smaller than in 1935. In the Balkan states and Russia the condition of the winter crop is reported to be excellent.

The department of agriculture's production forecast on the domestic crop will be released this afternoon.

The new crop futures last week showed only slight price changes. Both the July and September contracts closed a fraction of a cent a bushel above the preceding Saturday's quotations. As the expiration of the May contract approached, however, the price of that contract dropped 3⅝ cents a bushel.

CHICAGO TRADE RISES MODERATELY DESPITE LETDOWN FOR NATION

Chicago retail trade gained slightly last week, according to the Chicago Association of Commerce. This was in sharp contrast with the trend for the nation as a whole, where a perceptible slackening occurred.

Special sales by large department stores and a demand for summer wares brought about by warmer weather combined to lift turnover to higher levels, the association said.

Wholesalers were still handicapped by the tendency of out-of-town merchants to limit commitments to purchases for immediate needs only. While actual trade figures were better than for the same week a year ago, the long anticipated spurt in summer commodity turnover is still to come. Furniture distributors had a good week.

GENERAL MOTORS CASH HOLDINGS RISE SHARPLY

New York, May 10.—(AP)—General Motors corporation had cash, United States governments, and other marketable securities in the amount of $218,034,223 as of March 31, compared with $166,369,122 on the same date last year, the pamphlet report covering the first quarter released today showed.

As previously reported net earnings of the corporation in the first three months amounted to $52,464,174, compared with $31,510,371 in the same period last year. After deducting dividends on the preferred stock these earnings were equivalent to $1.17 per share on the average common shares outstanding, against 68 cents a year earlier.

Net sales of the corporation, excluding inter-divisional transactions, in the first quarter amounted to $341,306,065, compared with $251,674,903 in the first quarter of 1935.

FLAILS NATIONAL TEXTILE BILL AS AID TO JAPANESE

James L. Donnelly, executive vice president of the Illinois Manufacturers association, in a statement issued yesterday said that the national textile bill, proposing a little NRA for the textile industry, would benefit Japanese textile workers instead of the unemployed in this country.

Donnelly predicted enactment of the measure would stimulate importation of Japanese hosiery by boosting the domestic manufacturing costs. Ninety per cent of domestic textile manufacturers, he said, are opposed to the bill.

PAN-AMERICAN AIRWAYS PROFIT FOR '35 IS $1,193,732

New York, May 10.—[Special.]—Despite conditions described as the most difficult in the eight years of the company's history, 1935 operations of the Pan-American Airways corporation resulted in net profits of $1,193,732, according to the annual report of J. T. Trippe, president. The 1934 profit was $1,064,471. Gross income for Pan-American and subsidiaries for 1935 was $10,127,837 and operating expenses and other income deductions were $8,934,105.

Freight equipment and ground facilities costing $4,000,000 were acquired during the year, while $700,000 in equipment and facilities was retired from service. Year-end commitments for purchase of new equipment and other property were $2,500,000 for 1936.

The route airway mileage of the system and associated companies increased during the year from 31,259 to 40,479 miles. The number of terminal and intermediate airports increased from 166 to 202. Ground radio control and communication stations increased from 95 to 122.

The company employs 3,100 on its lines in the United States and thirty-eight foreign countries. Passengers over the entire system in 1935 totaled 53,000,000, an increase of 30 per cent over the preceding year.

UNITED AIRCRAFT FIRST QUARTER PROFIT $350,952

New York, May 10.—[Special.]—The United Aircraft corporation reports for the quarter ended on March 31 a net profit of $350,952, which is equivalent to 16 cents each on 2,109,561 shares of capital stock which will be outstanding when all exchanges for common stock of the United Aircraft and Transport corporation have been effected. These include 21,779 shares of stock issued to March 31 against subscription warrants for 417,555 shares which expired on April 13. Profit from operations amounted to $256,520, which was increased by other income.

In the same quarter last year the net profit was $75,516, or a little more than 3 cents each on 2,087,532 capital shares which would be outstanding when United Aircraft and Transport common shares were exchanged. Loss of $138,380 from operations was offset by other income.

Auto Industry Gains in Work Stabilization

Detroit, Mich., May 10.—(AP)—The introduction of new models in November instead of January, the Automobile Manufacturers' association reported today, has eliminated the usual wide fluctuations of employment in the spring months at the motor assembly plants.

Average earnings of more than 350,000 automotive workers, as a result, were reported to have reached new highs for recent years.

Results of Program.

The association, which includes every large producer of automobiles with the exception of Ford, surveyed the first six months of 1936 model production and found:

In contrast to recent years, with their large swings in the number of men at work from month to month in the spring, the maximum variation in employment from last November, when production got well under way, through April, was less than 20,000.

Plant efficiency has been maintained at a high rate.

There has been a marked curtailment in labor turnover and factory accident rates.

Attributing the results "primarily" to the industry's stabilization program, which called for November introduction of new models, the association said they were achieved without a corresponding elimination of fluctuation in volume of factory sales.

Fall Buying Heavy.

The fall rush of buying exceeded manufacturers' expectations, they reported.

Working forces at automotive plants during dull weeks in January and February were kept busy by expanding the practice of producing sub-assemblies, motors, transmissions, axles, and other parts in advance of actual need, and by building up field stocks of cars.

Thus in March, when demand for cars increased, it could be met without the sharp advances in average weekly working hours that had been necessary in previous years, the report said.

European Electric Corp. Extends Purchase Time

New York, May 10.—(AP)—City Bank Farmers Trust company has been advised by the European Electric Corp., Ltd., that it has elected to extend the time during which the company's 35 year 6½ per cent debentures will be purchased under the terms of the offer at a price of $922.50 flat per $1,000 of debentures with the Aug. 1, 1935, and subsequent coupons attached, from May 11, 1936, to May 25, 1936.

NINE SYSTEMS CONTROL 50 PCT. OF U. S. POWER

Value of Industry Is 13 Billions.

Washington, D. C., May 10.—(AP)—The federal power commission reported today that nearly 50 per cent of the vast electric utility industry was controled by nine of its largest holding company systems.

The information was contained in the second of the commission's reports on its national power survey, which was ordered by congress.

Commissioner Basil Manly said the report would "give students of the industry and representatives of federal and state regulatory bodies a clearer picture of this vast and complex industrial organization than has been available before."

Nine System Control.

The nine system control of 49.7 per cent of the industry was detailed as follows:

Electric Bond and Share group, including American Gas and Electric, American Power and Light, Electric Power and Light, and National Power and Light company, 11.5 per cent; Consolidated Gas Company of New York, 6.8; Commonwealth and Southern Corp., 6.3; North American company, 6.1; Niagara Hudson Power corporation, 4.5; Standard Power and Light corporation, 4.5; Pacific Gas and Electric company, 3.6; United Gas Improvement company, 3.6, and Associated Gas and Electric system, 2.8.

In addition, a chart showed the United corporation, organized by J. P. Morgan & Co., holding 26.1 per cent of voting control in United Gas Improvement, 5.1 in Commonwealth and Southern, 21.9 in Niagara Hudson, and 1.5 directly in Consolidated Gas of New York, in which Niagara Hudson held similar voting power.

Holdings of United.

United corporation held voting rights in other companies, and Lee & Co., nominee of the Chase National Bank of New York, was shown as holder of 10.7 control of International Paper and Power company, and 42 per cent of United Power and Light, another 28.1 per cent of which was held by Koppers Gas and Coke company, a so-called Mellon company.

The commission fixed the book value of the industry at $13,000,000,000, and the annual gross income at about $2,000,000,000.

Probably 100,000,000 people, more

NEW·YORK WEEKLY STOCK·MARKET

Forecast Is Expected to Show Reduction.

The department of agriculture will issue an estimate on the prospective winter wheat and rye crops for the United States today at 3 p. m. Chicago time. The report will be compiled from data as of May 1, and the trade is expecting a moderate reduction to be shown from the 493,000,000 bushels of wheat indicated a month ago. The recent estimates by Chicago statisticians averaged 486,000,000 bushels, compared with 433,000,000 bushels harvested in 1935.

An estimate will be made this month as to the acreage abandoned. There were 47,500,000 acres reported to have been seeded last fall, but the figures will be revised in the report tomorrow. Last season 44,530,000 acres were seeded of which 30.4 per cent was abandoned. A crop of about 37,000,000 bushels of rye is looked for, compared with 57,936,000 bushels harvested last year.

There appeared to be little doubt in grain trade comment that recent heavy rains in the hard winter wheat belt had been beneficial. Some operators are now looking for final harvest returns to exceed 500,000,000 bushels with normal weather conditions from now on. This would be the largest crop since the all time record of 818,000,000 bushels in 1931.

Reports from the west and southwest yesterday indicated the heavy rains the last few days had placed the soil in excellent condition for corn planting, which was said to be well under way over a wide area. Considerable attention was given to the weekly weather forecast, which indicated precipitation over the more northern sections of the country with near or above normal temperatures. This, it was believed, would result in rapid germination of the newly planted grain. A Springfield, Ill., report to James E. Bennett & Co. said 50 to 75 per cent of the corn had been planted in that section.

French winter and spring wheat acreage for the 1936 crop is officially estimated at 12,705,000 acres, a reduction of 524,000 acres compared with last year. The condition of the grain is reported to be somewhat above average.

There will be no session of the Winnipeg Grain exchange today, which is Arbor day. The Liverpool market will be open as usual.

Bryn Mawr Apartments.

Investors' Guide: Please furnish information on Bryn Mawr apartments 1st mortgage sinking fund gold bonds.—E. F.

Answer: The Bryn Mawr apartments consist of a 7 story building at 7020 Jeffery avenue, Chicago, containing 130 apartments and a 50 car garage. The property is in good condition. The original issue was $750,000 of first mortgage 6 per cent bonds due 1941. [S. W. Straus & Co.]

The property was reorganized June 26, 1935, title being transferred to a new corporation, Jeffery Apartments company. Bondholders received for each $100 of old bonds $50 of a 12 year 5 per cent cumulative first mortgage income bond [on which interest will be paid if earned and will accumulate if not earned], one-half share of class A and one-tenth share of class B stock. All class A and half the class B goes to bondholders.

No dividends can be paid on stock until the class A issue has been retired. Bond interest must be met before any of net income is used for retirement of bonds or A stock.

Gross receipts from July 16 to Dec. 31, 1935, were $38,474, but expenses and charges exceeded receipts by $14,792. Average occupancy of the building was 91 per cent the final four months of 1935.

Current assets, mostly cash, amount to $11,241. Current liabilities of $34,790 are mainly $9,375 bond interest and $23,217 in accrued real estate taxes, includes an estimated $13,500 for 1935 taxes not yet billed.

The new income bonds are considered speculative.

Ohmer Fare Register.

Investors' Guide: Will you please give me some information on Ohmer Fare Register company?—T. W. H.

Answer: The Ohmer Fare Register company was incorporated in 1902. It manufactures cash registers, accounting machines, fare registers, and a variety of recording devices.

The company operated at a deficit from 1931 through 1934. Net loss was $72,000 in 1934; $244,000 in 1933; $105,000 in 1932 and $388,000 in 1931. The last profit reported, in 1930, was $74,000. On Dec. 31, 1934, current assets were $1,728,000 and current liabilities were $192,000. Figures for 1935 have not been released.

Full preferred dividends were paid regularly from 1902 to Oct. 1, 1931. Payments since include 25 cents in 1932 and 25 cents in 1933. The last dividend on the common stock, 12½ cents a share, was paid in 1931.

The 5 per cent notes of 1938 are speculative and the stock a pure speculation.

Book Value of Industry Is Put at 13 Billion.

than 75 per cent of the nation's population, the commission said, "now live in homes that are lighted by electricity."

The tremendous growth of the industry was indicated by other figures: value of plant and equipment increased 25 times in the 1902-1932 period; income from electric service, 23 times; generating capacity, 29 times; output, 32 times, and employés, 8 times.

"At th beginning of 1935," the report said, "the electric utility industry consisted of approximately 1,620 privately owned operating companies and 1,930 municipal systems.

"This might be taken to indicate that the control of the electric utility industry in the United States is highly decentralized. Such is not the case.

"All of the municipal utilities and many of the privately owned electric companies are financially and corporately unrelated as independent units. The combined generating facilities and annual production of these isolated municipal and private units are less than 10 per cent—about two-thirds municipally and one-third privately owned—of the totals for the industry.

Control Is Divided.

"It is only within this portion of the electric utility industry that the decentralization of control exists.

"The development and operations of the remaining 90 per cent of the industry are controled directly or through subsidiaries by 57 principal systems, several of which are gigantic enterprises comparable in the value of their assets with some of the largest manufacturing and railroad companies.

"The electric utility service in this country, therefore, is predominantly in the hands of a few large systems."

LIQUID CARBONIC SHOWS LOSS IN MARCH QUARTER

Net loss of the Liquid Carbonic corporation in the three months ended March 31, the second quarter of the company's fiscal year, amounted to $108,606 after all charges, it was announced yesterday. This compares with a loss of $74,521 in the same period of 1935. For the quarter period net sales were $2,612,964, compared with $2,096,842.

For the twelve months ended March 31 net profit was $881,351 after charges and taxes, equal to $2.51 a share on 350,000 shares of capital stock outstanding.

BONDS STIFFEN LAST WEEK, BUT TRADE IS QUIET

Utilities Are Exception, Due to Tax Bill.

New York, May 10.—(AP)—Bond prices tended to stiffen somewhat last week in a quiet movement generally regarded as of a technical nature.

All groups showed modest advances except the utilities, which yielded slightly in the face of scattered liquidation attributed in most quarters to uncertainty surrounding the status of holding companies in the new tax bill now pending in the senate finance committee.

It was pointed out that the market had drifted gradually lower for almost three weeks, ignoring for the most part the brightest sort of news.

Buying on Scaledown.

A rebound under even less favorable circumstances could not be regarded as anything more than the uncovering of a limited number of buying orders that had been placed on a scaledown.

Developments in Europe drew considerable attention to the large number of dollar bonds listed in this market. Italian issues first advanced, then retreated a trifle following termination of the African war, but on the whole displayed a firm undertone. The government 7s were at a new high for the year at one time.

French government bonds were adversely affected by continued uncertainty over the ultimate fate of the franc in international exchange markets. The 7s were in fairly good supply toward the end of the week.

Federal Issues Steady.

United States government issues were quiet and without feature. The underlying tone remained steady, but scattered offerings found a scarcity of support in several sessions. Further gossip was heard concerning the form and scope of June 15 financing, but it was too indefinite and varied to greatly affect the federal list.

New financing was at a minimum during the week, chiefly due to the market being engaged in placing recent flotations. Another crop of refunding operations is expected to blossom out, however, within the next few weeks.

U. S. Realty Foreclosures Reported in Sharp Decline

Washington, D. C., May 10.—(AP)—The federal home loan bank board announced today that foreclosures on all types of real estate throughout the country during March decreased sharply, bringing the total for the first quarter of 1936 down 26.7 per cent from last year to the lowest level since 1931. The greatest decline [39.5 per cent] was in the Chicago district, including Illinois and Wisconsin.

Miscellaneous.

Y-O-U-R O-W-N B-U-S-I-N-E-S-S

Would you be interested in starting a business for yourself without one cent of investment on your part?

Well, that is exactly what we have done for many men in this territory.

These men are previous storekeepers, doctors, lawyers, shop workers, mechanics, etc., and are now earning and receiving in percentage as much as $50 a single day.

We are an old line, nationally known manufacturer of electrical units that defy competition and for which there is a constant increasing demand.

Now, here are our requirements: You must be under 50, preferably married, honest, reliable, possess a neat appearance and possess at least a grammar school education.

At this time we will only interview men living on the South Side of Chicago, northern Indiana, and northwestern Illinois.

Every man answering this advertisement will be given a confidential interview and, if selected, will be trained at our expense in our methods, which are successful.

There are no strings attached to this offer as we even pay rent, light, heat, telephone, girl hire, consign your merchandise, and finance your accounts.

Ask for Mr. Buckley, suite 400, Maryland Building, 63d-st. and Maryland-av.

WILL PLACE IMMEDIATELY MEN WITH cars, living on all sides of Chicago, for outside selling in hsehld. appliance department. THIS IS NOT COLD TURKEY CANVASSING. Store leads and sales furnished, which assure you an above average income on percentage basis. Immediate earnings with an opportunity for a permanent position. Exceptional chance for future.
Apply Employment Dept., 12th Floor,
Monday, 11 o'clock sharp.
Carson Pirie Scott & Co.

DICK TRACY—One of the Unemployed

INTO THE PATROL WAGON WITH THEM, BOYS!
HOW DID YOU GET THEM, TRACY?
I WENT UP TO "LIPS'" ROOM AND WATCHED HIS REFLECTION IN THE GLASS OF AN OPEN TRANSOM OVER HIS DOOR.
PO
PATROL
WHEN HE STOOPED TO LOOK THROUGH THE KEYHOLE I CRASHED THE DOORKNOB INTO HIS FACE AND COVERED THE OTHER BIRD WITH MY GUN.
AND WHO'S YOUR FRIEND?
YOU TELL HIM, "MEMPHIS!"
YES SUH! AH FORMERLY WAS A GANGSTER'S VALET—BUT, AT PRESENT I'M JUST "MEMPHIS" (OUT-OF-WORK) SMITH.

LEGAL NOTICES.

COMMONWEALTH OF KENTUCKY
BRIDGE REVENUE REFUNDING BONDS.
Notice of Sale.

The State Highway Commission of Kentucky, at a Public Meeting of the Commission to be held in its office at Frankfort, Kentucky, on the 29th day of May, 1936, at ten o'clock A. M., will receive and open sealed competitive bids for the purchase of Commonwealth of Kentucky bridge revenue refunding bonds to be issued and sold by said Commission to provide such funds as may be necessary for redeeming all Commonwealth of Kentucky bridge revenue refunding 4% bonds which were issued by the State Highway Commission of Kentucky, dated July 1, 1935, for bridge projects Nos. 1 and 2, the amounts of bridge revenue refunding bonds to be issued and sold being as follows:

Bridge Project No. 1......$4,240,000.00
Bridge Project No. 2...... 1,225,000.00

All of said outstanding bonds are in denominations of $1,000 each and are subject to redemption on July 1, 1936, at par, plus a premium of 2½%. All of the outstanding bonds mature on July 1, 1950.

Bids will not be considered unless accompanied by an unconditional certified check on a bank or trust company, considered by the Commission to be financially responsible, payable to the order of the Treasurer of Kentucky, for one [1%] percent of the par value of the amount bid for. Award or rejection of bids will be made on the date above stated for the receipt of bids, and the checks of unsuccessful bidders thereupon will be returned immediately. Checks of the successful bidder or bidders will be held uncashed as security for the performance of the bid or bids; but, in the event any successful bidder shall fail to comply with the terms, covenants and conditions of the bid, the check may then be cashed and the proceeds thereof retained as and for full liquidated damages. Whenever such terms, covenants and conditions shall have been complied with as to the refunding issue of bonds, or when it shall be found impossible by the State Highway Commission to issue and deliver the refunding issue of bonds, the check will be returned.

The bridge revenue refunding bonds of each issue will be dated July 1, 1936; will be issued in the denomination of $1,000.00 each, numbered consecutively from 1 [one] upwards; will mature July 1, 1950; and all bridge revenue refunding bonds will be redeemable at par and a premium not to exceed 2½% on any interest payment date on thirty [30] days notice, under the same terms and conditions as the outstanding bonds to be refunded thereby. Both principal and interest on the bridge revenue refunding bonds will be paid in lawful money of the United States at the Chemical Bank & Trust Company, 165 Broadway, New York City, New York. The bonds will be subject to registration in the name of the holder as to principal alone. All bonds of each issue will bear interest payable semi-annually, January 1st and July 1st, at the same rate not exceeding 3½% in a multiple of one-quarter of one percent; and each bid must specify the interest rate and the price bid for the bonds of each issue.

The bonds will be sold at par plus any premium which the bidder will pay.

The bridge revenue refunding bonds of each issue will be delivered and payment therefor must be made at the Chemical Bank & Trust Company, 165 Broadway, New York City, New York, on July 1, 1936, at ten o'clock, A. M., and the proceeds of the bonds so sold, exclusive of any premium, will be deposited in trust with said Chemical Bank & Trust Company for paying the principal on the outstanding bonds which will be called for redemption on July 1, 1936.

The amounts required for paying the redemption premium on the outstanding bonds and the interest payable thereon on July 1, 1936, will be paid from the sinking fund for the bonds of such issue and will be deposited in trust with the Chemical Bank & Trust Company to make such payment. Any balance remaining in the sinking fund for each such issue, after making the foregoing payment, will be transferred to the sinking fund for the appropriate issue of bridge revenue refunding bonds.

If the definitive bonds shall not be prepared and ready for delivery on July 1, 1936, the Commission will issue temporary printed bonds of the same denomination, which will be exchangeable for the definitive bonds when the latter are ready for issuance and delivery.

The refunding bonds of each issue shall have all of the qualities and incidents and all the rights and privileges of the bonds refunded thereby, and shall be secured by a Trust Indenture to be executed by and between the State Highway Commission of Kentucky and the Trust Company which is now acting as Trustee under the Trust Indenture securing the outstanding bonds, and each Trust Indenture securing such refunding bonds shall contain substantially the same provisions and covenants as the Trust Indenture securing the bonds to be refunded, insofar as such provisions and covenants shall be applicable.

Detailed information as to the outstanding bonds and as to the earnings on each bridge in said Bridge Projects may be obtained at the offices of the State Highway Commission, Frankfort, Kentucky.

Each bid must be enclosed in a sealed envelope marked "Bid for Commonwealth of Kentucky Bridge Revenue Refunding Bonds," and delivered to the Chairman of the State Highway Commission at Frankfort, Kentucky, and no bid will be received after the hour and date first above stated, and no bid shall be withdrawn after said hour and date.

The right to reject any or all bids is reserved.

By BEN JOHNSON, CHAIRMAN.
Dated at Frankfort, Kentucky,
May 8, 1936.

Compare These Rates

This bank is one of the few companies in the country which will lend on the same rates and terms regardless of whether you borrow on a new car or a used one, and, so far as insurance is concerned, Fire and Theft is all we require, although we strongly urge that every car owner insure himself against collision hazards. In all cases we want the insurance to be placed with the borrower's own broker or agent. Premiums may be added to the loan account, the broker paid in full, and the borrower settles up with us in monthly installments.

First Photo of Emperor Haile Selassie's Arrival in Palestine—Exile Explains His Flight from Ethiopia

RADIO AND WIREPHOTO OF ETHIOPIAN EMPEROR'S LANDING IN HOLY LAND—Emperor Haile Selassie as he left the British cruiser Enterprise at Haifa, Palestine, after his flight through French Somaliland when Italian troops advanced on Addis Ababa. The Negus (in white) shakes hands with an official. This picture was sent by both airplane and telephoto from Haifa to London, thence to New York by radio and to Chicago by wirephoto. In Jerusalem yesterday the exiled ruler said his hurried flight was to facilitate his fight for Ethiopia. (Story on page 2.)
